

FATAL ACCIDENT

Mr. John Allen of 102 Charlesbank road, nearly 84 years old and well known to the older residents of Newton, died at the home of his son, Mr. Charles C. Allen, 5 Eleanor street, Allston, Saturday night, May 28, from injuries received at 6 o'clock the same evening in a collision between his son's automobile and an electric car at the intersection of Arlington and Market streets, Brighton.

Mr. Allen had spent the afternoon in a trip with his son, going to the Newton Cemetery and elsewhere to lay wreaths on the graves of his wife, daughter and daughter-in-law, after which they had gone through Waverley to Concord. With them in the auto was Marlon Stearns, 13 years old, daughter of Mrs. Sarah Stearns of 43 Tremont street, Lawrence, who was engaged as a trained nurse in Mr. C. C. Allen's home. The little girl occupied the rear seat alone, the elder Mr. Allen sitting at his son's left on the front seat.

Market street from Brighton Centre toward the Brighton station of the Boston & Albany railroad is a long, steady descent. Arlington street enters Market street from the west on a steep rising grade. St. Columbkille's Church stands on the lower corner. On the upper or right hand corner a house hides the view of the upper part of Market street to any one coming up Arlington street until the crosswalk is almost reached. Mr. Allen ran the auto up the grade, intending to cross Market street into Sparhawk street to reach his home. When he was almost into Market street a car coming from Brighton down the grade came suddenly into view. As the only chance of escape he turned sharply to the left, on in the same direction with the car, but the front right hand wheel and mud guard of the auto came in contact with the forward part of the side of the car with a crash, forcing the auto toward the sidewalk in front of the church and hurrying the elder Mr. Allen and the little girl from their seats to the street.

Although bruised and shaken up from the fall, the young girl was on her feet before anyone had time to reach Mr. Allen and was the first to start to his aid, but was too dazed to stand and fell to the ground. Then crawling on her hands and knees, she strove to reach him, but fainted and was carried into a neighboring house.

Mr. Allen was taken into the office of Dr. A. A. McCauley, near by, and was found to be unconscious, with a small wound near the base of the brain, a little to the left of the middle line. He was removed in an ambulance to his son's home, where little Marion was also taken, and both were cared for by the child's mother, Mrs. Stearns. Dr. Robert W. Hastings of Brookline, the family physician, was called and remained in attendance until Mr. Allen breathed his last, at 9:15 p. m., without regaining consciousness. Dr. Timothy Leary, medical examiner, viewed Mr. Allen's remains and certified the cause of death as fracture of the skull.

The right front wheel of the auto

had the spokes knocked out and the mud guard was broken off. A passenger on the car, Daniel S. Murphy of Cambridge, was taken to the City Hospital with injuries sustained in the collision.

Mr. Allen was born in Leominster, Aug. 23, 1826, and was a son of Henry Allen, a piano manufacturer, who was one of the firm of Hallett, Cumston & Allen, the predecessors of Hallett & Davis. Henry Allen lived in his latter years in Dorchester. John Allen learned his father's business and had for years a piano saleroom on Washington street, Boston. Of late years he was engaged in piano tuning and repairing and was skilled in every detail of piano manufacture. He was married May 14, 1857, to Emma Slater, who was born in London, Eng., and who died five years ago. They had three children—Susie (Mrs. Frank H. Burt), who died in 1893; Charles C. and William E. Allen. Mr. Allen leaves five grandchildren and a great-granddaughter.

He remembered vividly his first visit to Boston, some 70 years ago, driving from Leominster in a chaise with his father and stopping at the Lamb Tavern, which stood on the site of the Adams House. He saw the late King Edward, then Prince of Wales, reviewing the troops on Charles street in 1860, and distinctly recalled his personal appearance. Before the Civil War he made a trip to the South and witnessed a slave auction in Charleston, S. C. He rarely had known a sick day and was active to the last. He found his greatest pleasure in the companionship of his children and grandchildren, while outside the circle of his kindred his love for children had won the affection of many a little one who had come to call him "Grandpa."

Mr. Allen's oldest brother was Joel Crosby, who was town clerk of Leominster for many years and a member of the Legislature with the late Senator Hoar.

Through his mother, Frances Crosby, born at Walford, N. H., Mr. Allen was descended from Simon Crosby, who came from England to Cambridge in 1635. He was a cousin of the late George W. Crosby of Newton and of Mrs. Hannah B. Merriam of Newton Highlands.

Mr. Allen's funeral was held at his son's residence in Allston Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Charles A. Allen, pastor of the Waverley Unitarian Church, a cousin of the deceased, conducted the service. A male quartet directed by William A. Staples, choirmaster of St. Peter's Church, Salem, sang "Passing Out of the Shadow," "Nearer, My God to Thee," and "Gathering Home." Many friends and relatives from Boston, Newton, Leominster and elsewhere were present. The burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

Deputy Street Commissioner George E. Stuart was one of the judges in the work horse parade on May 30. This is the fifth time that Mr. Stuart has served in the position.

GIRLS' RACE

Making every effort to hold the lead they had secured at the start of a half-mile race, two members of the Lassell Seminary Canoe Club lost their balance and upset their racing canoe on the Charles River Monday morning. Both girls were expert swimmers and being lightly clad they declined assistance and reached the shore in safety. The girls, Gladys Stutz and Dorothy Dorr, made light of their mishap, their only regret being the loss of the race.

It was the annual regatta of the canoe club and scores of students and their friends were on the river to cheer the aquatic prowess of the girls. The seniors had chartered a large launch, which was decorated with flags and bunting. They cheered and sang songs. Another launch carried the invited guests. The races were held on the level stretch of water near Fox Island.

The first race was between three tandem pairs. At the pistol the Misses Stutz and Dorr took the lead and although their advantage was slight they held it steadily. In the last 50 yards the other canoes gained and it was while making the final spurt that the girls lost their stroke and capsize. The race was won by Winifred Whiteley and Emily Butlerworth, while second place went to Tina Henckel and Peggy De Wolf.

The big race of the day was for war canoes between the "light blue" and "dark blue" crews, which was won by the former by a length and a half. For half the distance the crews were neck and neck, but the winners slowly gained and finished with a sturdier stroke and in better form.

The two crews were made up as follows: "Light blue," Mildred Hall, captain; Florence Lode, Alice Levy, Miriam Flynn, Marion Pierce, Catherine Kelley, Ruth Arend, Mildred Remick and Margaret Gregson; "dark blue," Gladys Lawton, captain; Marion Davis, Dorothy Bragdon, Genevieve Bettscher, Catherine Knight, Charline Billington, Agnes Edelsdorff, Maude Smith and Louise Mayer. The officials were Dr. Guy M. Winslow, W. S. Wagner and E. J. Winslow.

LODGES.

In Odd Fellows' Hall, Newtonville, last Thursday evening, under the auspices of Summer F. Lawrence Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F., a ball dance was given. About 100 guests were present in country costumes and music was furnished by the M. Millie Beardsley Concert Company. The affair was in charge of a committee composed of Mr. Charles F. Dow, chairman; Mrs. M. Millie Beardsley, Mrs. Eva Fogwill, Mrs. Lizzie Toole, Mrs. Ida M. Welch, Mrs. Mary L. Berry, Mrs. Chester Daniels, M. E. Beardsley, Benjamin H. Plasted and W. U. Fogwill. During the evening country dishes were served as refreshments.

Under the auspices of Tennyson Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F., a ball dance and strawberry festival will be held in Odd Fellows' Hall, West Newton, next Tuesday evening.

BAD MILK

James Glover, the West Newton man who was arrested Sunday because, it is alleged, he put disinfectant in 200 quarts of milk, was held Tuesday for the grand jury in bonds of $200 by Associate Justice Cope-land, who found probable cause on a charge of violating the milk laws.

While the evidence against Glover is mainly circumstantial still threats that he made and his explanation of the manner by which the milk became impure, with the disinfectant bear out the police in their prosecution of the case.

He was employed by James Ellis, a dairy man who has an establishment on Cherry street, West Newton. The dairy produces 200 quarts of milk a day and this is sold to the owner's nephew, Avery P. Ellis, who retails it to many families throughout Newton. Glover was hired on May 1 to work by the month, but recently he incurred the displeasure of Mr. Ellis and was notified that his services would not be required after June 1. At that time he remarked, in the presence of a witness: "You will be as glad to have me go as I will be to leave." Together with Charles Johnson, who has worked there for eight years, Glover had charge of the milking of all the cows.

After Sunday's supply of milk had been delivered a customer immediately complained that the product had a peculiar taste and smell. Investigation showed that the milk left at other houses had the same odor and taste and that a light scum was in evidence on top of the cream. Samples of the milk were brought to police headquarters and tasted by Chief Mitchell and Patrolman Coady. Both experienced a burning sensation in their throats and Coady testified this morning that his mouth burned for three hours. Other samples of the milk were submitted for analysis to Arthur Hudson, the city chemist.

The question of guilt lay between Johnson and Glover and the former readily absolved himself. When Glover was questioned he at first denied everything, but when asked point blank if he had used sulphonaphthol around the milk he said that he had made use of a few drops in the palm of his hand in treating the udder of one of the cows. He declared that this small quantity must have innoculated the entire supply of milk.

Since then a bottle has been found near the cow barns that is said to have contained sulphonaphthol. The nature of this preparation causes it to assume a milky color when mixed with other fluids so that there was no chance of any change in the color of the milk being noticed before it was delivered.

STILL KICKING.

We hope one of these days that somebody will rise up in authority in Waltham with sand enough and sense enough to say that the clothes destroying, profanity encouraging, dirty conglomeration of oil and water, if it must be put on the streets, shall be applied at or about midnight and not at or about midday. It's a mighty poor idea of economy that people have when they seek to save a dollar in the expense of the highway department at the cost of ten dollars to the people in clothing and furnishings for the house and store.—Waltham Free Press Tribune.

MASONS' HALF CENTURY

The celebration of the 50th anniversary of Dalhousie Lodge, F. and A. M., began last Sunday afternoon with a religious service in the lodge room in the Masonic building, Newtonville. A large audience of ladies and gentlemen were present to take part in the impressive exercises. The musical portion of the program was splendidly rendered. It was under the direction of the organist, Mr. Henry T. Wade, and consisted of vocal numbers by a double male quartet composed of the Shubert and Mendelssohn quartets, the organ, played by Mr. Wade, and an orchestra consisting of Mr. William F. Dodge, violin; Mr. Carl W. Dodge, cello; Mr. Charles H. North, flute, and Mr. A. H. Handley, cornet. The orchestra and organ played the following numbers while the audience was gathering:

March, Celebrate ..... Lachner
"Tales of Hoffman" ..... Offenbach Largo ..... Handel
Nocturne ..... Chopin
The singing by the double quartet was most impressive, their numbers consisting of an anthem, "Lord, Thou has been our dwelling place," by Holden, in which Mr. Steele gave the bass solo with great dramatic force; Gounod's anthem, "Sanctus," the beautiful anthem "Sunset," by Van der Water, sung without accompaniment, and in which Mr. Tripp's fine tenor voice was most noticeable. The last vocal number, "The Lord Chord," was given with both the organ and orchestra and was a fitting finale for a notable program.

Other musical numbers were a violin solo by Mr. W. F. Dodge, from "Thais," by Massenet, a cello solo by Mr. C. W. Dodge, Romance by Van Goens, the singing of "Onward, Christian Soldiers," by the audience, and the postlude for orchestra and organ, "March Romaine," by Gounod.

Hon. Charles E. Hatfield, worshipful master of the lodge, made a few introductory remarks, there was Scripture reading by Rev. Albert Hammett, prayer by Rev. H. Gram Person, an address by Rev. Mr. Hammett, the chaplain of the lodge, and the benediction by Rev. Julian C. Jaynes. Mr. Hammett took for his text "The Four-fold City," and spoke on the historic, symbolic, philosophic and ethic values of Free Masonry.

The formal celebration of the anniversary was held Wednesday evening in the Masonic Hall, Newtonville. Over 400 members and guests assembled in the lodge room at 5 o'clock and after receiving the Most Worshipful Dana J. Flanders, grand master of Massachusetts, and his suite, enjoyed a program of vocal and instrumental music, under the direction of Mr. Henry T. Wade, and rendered by the Shubert and Mendelssohn quartets and Mr. Handley's orchestra. There were addresses by prominent members of the fraternity and an historical address by Mr. Lewis E. Binney.

Following the more formal part of the program, an excellent banquet was served in Temple Hall. After discussing the menu, addresses were made by the grand master and members of his suite, Representative A. P. Langtry of Springfield and Mr. T. E. Stinson.

Dalhousie Lodge was organized in Tremont Hall, Newtonville, the first meeting being held June 25, 1860. While it was not until 1861 that a charter was granted, the lodge was conducted under a dispensation from the Grand Lodge, from Aug. 2, 1860, until the lodge room was dedicated on June 24, 1861. None of the charter members of the lodge survive, the first worshipful master, Dr. A. A. Kendall, being killed in the Civil War, and the last charter member, Mr. Francis D. Hall, having deceased two years ago. The four oldest members of the lodge are Edwin M. Fowle, George P. Clarke, Benjamin S. Veth-berce and James W. Hill. The present secretary, Edward E. Morgan, has held that office for 32 years, during which time he has only been absent on three occasions.

The first lodge room was in the chapel of the Swedenborgian Society on Bowers street, Newtonville. On the erection of the former Central Church, corner of Central avenue and Washington street, by the Methodist society in 1861, the lodge leased the upper story for a lodge room and occupied the same until the erection of the Clafin block in 1874. The present commodious quarters were erected and dedicated in 1897.

The lodge now numbers 642 members and is one of the largest in the state. It is named for the Earl of Dalhousie, grand master of Masons in Scotland.

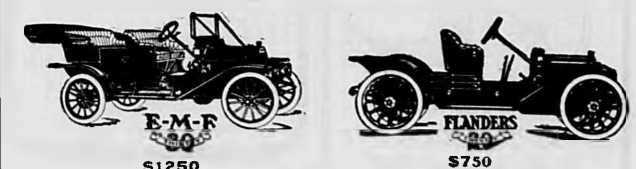

The celebration was in charge of a committee composed of Messrs. H. N. Milliken, Charles E. Hatfield and Carlyle R. Hayes.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES.

The Associated Charities of Newton will hold its annual public meeting in the vestry of the Eliot Church, Monday, June 6, at 7:45 p. m. Rev. John L. Sewall, executive secretary of "Boston 1915," will speak on "The Boston 1915 Movement and Charities." All are invited.

The matron of honor was Mrs. George Metcalf of St. Paul, Minn., a sister of the bride, who wore her own wedding dress of white satin. The best man was Mr. Henry Warren of New York, a cousin of the bridegroom, and the ushers included Messrs. Percy Atherton of Boston, Gideon Condit of Boston, Allan Wright of Gloversville, N. Y., Philip W. Carter, a brother, and Richard B. and Elliott A. Carter, cousins of the bride. The church was beautifully trimmed with laurel and with quantities of white flowers. A large reception followed at Mrs. Carter's house, which was decorated with white peonies and pale lavender fleur de lis. Mr. and Mrs. Beach will sail for Paris, where they will make a long stay.

Justification.

The old dorky had driven his fare to the hotel and was now demanding a dollar for his service.

"What?" protested the passenger. "A dollar for that distance? Why, isn't half a mile as the crow flies?"

"Dat's true, boss," returned Sambo, with an appealing smile. "But, ye see, sub, dat old crow he ain't got free wiles an' ten chiluns to support, not to mention de keep fob de boss."—Harper's Weekly.

He Had.

The kind hearted man had given the panhandler a nickel.

"Haven't you got anything smaller?" asked the panhandler.

"Well, here's a dime; that's smaller," answered the good natured man, displaying the coin for a moment and walking away.—Buffalo Express.

Musical Note.

A thief was lately caught breaking into a song. He had already got through the first two bars when a policeman came out of an area and hit him with his slave. Several notes were found upon him.—London Mail.

Bright and Dark Days.

There are bright days and dark days, and we must take advantage of the former and be as little discouraged as possible by the latter. They are all in a lifetime.

Common sense is the knack of seeing things as they are and doing things as they ought to be done.—Stowe.

McKISSOCK—SHEAFE.

Miss Barbara Sheafe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sheafe of Chestnut Hill, and Allen McKissock of Chestnut Hill were married at noon Wednesday at the rectory of St. Lawrence Church, Brookline, by Rev. Thomas F. McManus. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Hale Sheafe, and Paul Burdett was best man. A reception was held at the home of the bride, 473 Hammond street. Mr. and Mrs. McKissock will live in Chestnut Hill.

CARD OF THANKS.

The directors of the Newton Vacation Week gratefully acknowledge further donations from 35 persons to the amount of $110. Sum previously acknowledged, $125, making a total sum of $235, which enables them to begin the work for the summer with courage, trusting that new cases of emergency will be met by further donations.

Is it a Matter of Cost?

If you think it is, you are wrong from the start.

THE EXPENSE OF A TELEPHONE IS NOT FIGURED BY WHAT IT COSTS FOR A WHOLE YEAR, BUT BY HOW MUCH IT SAVES EACH TIME IT IS USED.

CONSIDER THIS:

How many nickels do you leave at the "Pay Station" during the year?

How much time do you lose making the trip to the Pay Station?

How much money do you spend in twelve months for car fare, in shopping or delivering messages that you could send by telephone if you had one?

How much time and nerve force do you so lose?

A few cents a day pays for a telephone and saves all this. Ask our Local Manager to send an Agent to talk the matter over with you.

PUBLIC DEDICATION.

The old Masonic Hall in Central block, Newtonville, now occupied by Waban Lodge 156, and Sumner P. Lawrence Rebekah Lodge 177, I. O. O. F., was dedicated to Odd Fellowship last evening by Grand Master Charles B. Perry, assisted by Horace M. Sargent, deputy grand master; George L. Marshall, grand warden; George H. Fuller, grand representative; William C. Collett, grand treasurer; William M. Webber, grand instructor; Willis P. Rowell, grand chaplain; Past Grand Master Joseph Belcher of Randolph, orator of Grand Lodge.

The ceremonies were very ably and impressively performed. The construction of the altar in the centre of the hall was by the heralds from the North, South, East and West, block by block representing Odd Fellowship, the foundation being Purity, followed by Friendship, Love, Truth, Faith, Hope and Charity. This beautiful work was conceded to be the most impressive feature of the dedication ceremony. Appropriate music formed the part of the ceremony and was most beautifully rendered by the America Quartet of Boston. The keys of the hall were placed in the hands of the grand master by the chairman of the committee, Past Grand Charles F. Dow of Waban Lodge, with appropriate remarks, requesting that the hall be dedicated and set apart to the purposes of Odd Fellowship. The ceremony of dedicating being completed, the grand master returned the keys to Past Grand Dow, after which speeches were made, interspersed by most excellent music by the America Quartet, by Grand Master Charles B. Perry of Worcester, Grand Warden George Marshall of Somerville, Grand Marshal J. W. Roberts of Worcester, District Deputy Grand Master Everett A. Kelley of Allston, District Deputy Grand Master Rosamond Dukeshire of Allston and of Grand Charles F. Dow of Waban Lodge.

Nearly 500 invited guests witnessed the beautiful ceremony. Invitations were extended to all the Newton lodges, both subordinate and Rebekah's officers, also to Watertown, the president and full staff of the Rebekah Assembly officers, District Deputy Grand Master Everett A. Kelley and suite of Allston, District Deputy Grand Master Rosamond Dukeshire and suite of Allston, Brighton Rebekah Lodge 29.

Those present were several past grand masters of the Grand Lodge, Annie M. Slantry, president Rebekah Assembly; Mary Norton, Vice President; Grace M. Reeves, Warden; Sarah A. Bailey, Sec'y; Francis Kaulback, Treas.; Annie Sawyer, Chaplain; Lillian Young, Marshall; Grace Mitchell, Past Pres.

Representatives from 14 subordinate and from 11 Rebekah Lodges were present. The hall was beautifully decorated. Anne Waburn Lodge and Sumner P. Lawrence Rebekah Lodge (which was instituted April 14 in this hall) were congratulated by all upon their beautiful quarters and the committee upon the success attending their labors.

The committee on reception: Oscar C. McQueen, N. G.; Geo. A. Fewkes, P. G.; A. W. Rees, P. G.; Therese K. Fewkes, N. G.; Helen M. Merriam, V. G.; Etta E. Dow, P. N. G.; Ida M. Welsh, Ida F. Peterson, Ushers; A. C. Baxter, P. G.; E. W. Palmer, Chap.; Lizzie Tole, P. N. G.; Jennette MacDonald, Committee of arrangements; Chas. F. Dow, P. G.; Geo. A. Fewkes, P. G.; A. C. Rees, P. G.; Ida M. Welsh, Ida F. Peterson, Chap.; Helen M. Merriam, V. G. Pianist, Sister E. M. Russell of Sumner P. Lawrence Lodge.

THEATRES

Castle Square Theatre—For the last week but one of the season of the John Craig Stock Company at the Castle Square one of the most notable productions of "The Rivals" ever seen in Boston will be offered. This great English comedy by Richard Brinsley Sheridan, who was equally famous in his day as a statesman, an orator, a humorist and a playwright, has been performed many thousand times everywhere the English language is spoken, and its wit is as bright and as timely as the first day it was written. For his production of "The Rivals" Mr. Craig is preparing a scenic production of more than usual beauty, and he will leave nothing undone to make the week a memorable one in the history of the Castle Square and of Boston theatricals. For the final week of this season Mr. Craig will present "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," one of the liveliest of modern farces.

On Monday evening, June 20, begins the season of summer opera at the Castle Square with the famous Gilbert and Sullivan masterpiece, "The Mikado."

Boston Opera House—The Aborn Comic Opera Company's season at the Boston Opera House has opened quite as auspiciously as did the grand opera series under the same management. For their second weekly offering will be the Gilbert and Sullivan's charming comic opera, "The Mikado," a comic opera classic of the very highest order. The cast for "The Mikado" at the Boston Opera House next week will be of appropriate selection, including a number of favorites of the Aborn contingent of the first week, with a number of notable additions. It will include Robert Lett in the central comic role of Ko-Ko, the Lord High Executioner; William Solery, a newcomer, in the title part as the Mikado; George L. Tallman in the tenor role of Nanki-Poo; Francis J. Boyle in the character of Poo-Bah; Estelle Wentworth in the prima donna role of Yum-Yum; Louise Le Baron as Pitti-Sing; Florence Coughlan as Peep-Bo; Hattie Arnold as Katisha; Charles Arling as Pish-Tush, and others. Later weeks will be given to revivals of such modern hits as "King Dodo," "The Sultan of Sulu," "A Chinese Honeymoon," "The Mocking Bird," "Princess Chic," "The Fortune Teller," etc.

Keith's Theatre—Lois Fuller, the most famous dancer in the world and the originator of practically all the beautiful light and color effects used on the stage today, is bringing to Keith's next week the most novel and in many respects the most pretentious production of the kind ever shown in vaudeville or on the legitimate stage. It is called "The Dragons of Wrath" and will serve to introduce for the first time to the American public Madam Chung, one of the greatest of Chinese actresses, from the Imperial Theatre in Peking, with a company of Chinese and European actors and dancers. The fete will be of the most imposing nature and will include Chinese music and singing; beautiful dances with myriad colored lights by European girls; a most imposing march with changing lights; the Ribbon Serpent, the Chinese hoodoo dance with the hundred veils which is bound to make the same sensation here as it did in Europe; the magic cloth which has never been seen in this country and in which the limit seems to have been reached in the invention of beautiful light effects; all these and a long series of other novelties will be shown for the first time in this country in "The Dragons of Wrath." This production will be surrounded by a splendid vaudeville bill, including Melville and Higgins, Ben Welch, the Arlington Four, Van Hoven, the Permae Brothers and others.

Tremont Theatre—"The Girl in the Taxi," with Carter De Haven and his all-star cast of players, continues to delight capacity audiences at the Tremont Theatre. In its fourth great week, with no sign of diminishing popularity, this merriest of all farces speeds buoyantly along. Boston has pronounced it the best summer attraction to visit that city in many a season and the immense audiences which congregate at every performance substantiate this decision. Hilarity is the keynote to the performance. The spectator begins to smile the moment the curtain rises, with the smile that won't come off for two hours and a half. It will be many a day before another entertainment of its kind will be seen in this vicinity. The regular Tremont prices obtain.

MAN TRAP.

That Mrs. F. B. Chesbrough of this city, formerly of Bay City, convicted in New York recently of violation of the customs laws, was the victim of a "man trap" declaration form that will catch many other innocent travelers, and that she was cleared of all charges except the purely technical one on which conviction was had, is an explanation that W. B. Cadz, of Shaw, Warren, Cadz & Oaks, who are looking after the Chesbrough interests, makes.

He says that every traveler abroad should fully understand the matter, for any one or all of them, no matter how innocent in intent or act, may be caught the same way.

"Mrs. Chesbrough was indicted on five counts," says Mr. Cadz, "but two were dropped by the United States, and in two others, including the charge of smuggling, a verdict for Mrs. Chesbrough was directed by the court."

"The solitary count that stood was for violation of section 3082, which calls for a declaration of everything purchased or repaired abroad. This is a law almost impossible to comply with, especially when prepared on shipboard when almost everything is in packed trunks."

"Mrs. Chesbrough returned from Europe May 25, 1909. Her declaration prepared on shipboard was imperfect, and did not mention all of the articles she had purchased abroad. At the time her baggage was inspected she caused all trunks to be opened, and stated to the inspector that her declaration did not mention all the articles she had purchased, but that she was ready and willing to pay duty on all dutiable goods contained in her baggage. She was advised by the inspector that not having mentioned all goods purchased abroad in her declaration it was now too late, and that he would have to seize the goods and send them to United States stores. Within a few days the indictment was handed down against Mrs. Chesbrough by the grand jury."

"It is the belief of counsel, in which they are sustained by at least one decision of a district judge of the United States, that section 3082 does not in any way apply to personal effects in passengers' baggage, and the case will therefore be carried to the Circuit Court of Appeals, it being confidently expected that the finding will be reversed."

"The case is of very great interest to all persons having occasion to pass through the New York customs house on their return from Europe. The contention of counsel for Mrs. Chesbrough is that the government must either rely upon the declaration, or, if they see fit to make an examination of baggage, must accept duty on any dutiable goods found upon such examination, except that in case such examination gives evidence of an attempt to evade the payment of customs by intentional concealment the government is at liberty to confiscate the goods. In other words, it is contended that the government cannot lay a trap by requiring a declaration by means of which passengers willing to pay duty on any dutiable goods they have are liable at the whim of the customs officers to indictment for not mentioning in the declaration goods contained in their baggage upon which they are willing to pay duty, and which were omitted from the declaration by negligence or thoughtlessness, and not with any intent to evade the payment of customs."—Detroit Journal.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Plans for the new building of the association have been submitted to the contractors for bids. Within a few weeks ground will be broken and from that time on the work will be pushed forward rapidly. The committee have authorized digging of an artesian well on the premises.

A number of men who were especially interested in deepening their religious experience met at supper at the association last Wednesday evening. Mr. S. M. Sayford was the speaker of the evening.

The last meeting of the board of directors until September will be held Monday evening, June 6, at 8 o'clock, and a full attendance is desired. At this meeting committees for the coming year will be announced by the president.

The baseball team met with its first defeat of the season Memorial Day at the hands of the strong Cambridgeport team. The association team plays nearly every Saturday at Cabot Park. Next Saturday the association team plays the Barren Class at Allston.

Attention of all the parents of the boys of the city is called to the two state camps, one at Becket, Mass., and the other at Friendship, Me., where boys between the ages of 12 and 18 may enjoy a very delightful camping experience. These camps have the very best of supervision combined with a moderate charge. Anyone interested in sending boys to camp please get information at the association office.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Having purchased from Mr. H. O. Webster the drug business con-ducted by me up to five years ago, I again assume the responsibilities of a Pharmacist, and from this date will be found at my former location in Taylor Block, Auburndale. By renovating and re-supplying the stock, the aim is to place before the public a clean, fresh and practical supply of goods from the best manufacturing houses. An earnest effort will be made to offer a satisfactory supply store for the best things in Pharmacy and toilet use. With upwards of twenty years' experience, I wish to assure the public that the same careful attention to details which character-ized my business methods in former years will be continued. Your pat-ronage is respectfully solicited.

ELLIOT W. KEYES.

the fire department of this city has been received and will be published when the author complies with our fixed rule to furnish the editor with name and address, as a matter of good faith.A good guesser figures the census figures of Newton at 39,700. Too bad it couldn't have been an even 40,000.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME.

The report of the special committee on the milk question is neither
"fish, flesh or good red herring," and satisfies neither the producers, the contractors nor the consumers. Senator Tinkham has presented a resolutions that will protect the stomach
of the consumers, also it may be at the expense of its pocketbook. The Senator believes that no milk should be sold in the state without an adequate inspection and it is the senator's intention that such inspection
shall follow the methods now in use at New York city. Other bills have been presented by the special committee and other legislators, attempting to regulate the matter of transportation so that the smaller producers can compete with the large contractors. The entire matter will probably result in an increase of the price of milk to 9 cents a quart in summer, possibly more in winter, and the consumer, as usual, pays the bills.The Newton representatives voted against admitting the bill of Mayor Fitzgerald, affecting the civil service requirement of the Boston city charter, they voted against reconsidering
the rejection of the so-called "fines"
bill of the labor organizations, they voted against the bill to provide for the purchase of homesteads by the Commonwealth, against the bill to establish a fish hatchery, and supported the veto of Governor Draper on the misnamed "eight hour" bill. On the following bills, Representative White differed from his colleagues: to allow taxation of property of a resident decedent not in the Commonwealth at the time of his death, Mr.
White favoring the bill which is said
by some to be a flagrant case of double taxation. Mr. White also voted against the Berkshire street railway
bill, which was favored by Messrs.
Bothfield and Ellis.The amendments to exclude Newton from the operation of the smoke nuisance bill were rejected by the House, but as the measure has still to pass the Senate, its final enactment in its present shape is probably inevitable.The Boston Globe has a good word to say of Mr. White, its legislative column having the following paragraph the other morning:"Representative Thomas W. White of Newton, who has been facetiously
dubbed by his friends in the House
as 'Normal' White, to distinguish him from his associate on the ways and means committee, Norman White of Brookline, is one of the first men who is making good on the Hill. He is coming back next year. With the experience that he has had this year his friends believe that he will be in line for a committee chairmanship next year."The passage of the Berkshire street railway bill by a substantial majority is an act of justice to the western end of the state, even if it does mark
a step in opposition to the so-called "established policy" of the Commonwealth. Of all the flimsy arguments, that of the "established policy" is the gauziest. Let the historian dig out and publish the "established policies"
of the Commonwealth of a half century or even a generation ago, and witness how ashine they appear in the present age. Unless the "policy" of the state is fixed by the eternal principles of right and wrong, with which no one will argue, it is a safe assertion that 99 per cent of the "established policies" are matters affecting the prosperity and growth of the state, and where, as in the Berkshire case, the present policy prevents the proper development of that county, it is inevitable that the "policy" must be changed. At the same time, it should be recognized that what may be a wise action for Berkshire, may not be of equal value for Middlesex, and such matters therefore become proper subjects for the exercise of judgment, and free from the rule of a misnamed "established policy."Practical Politics takes a fair crack at the present Legislature
when it criticizes the passage of bills carrying $25,000 for establishing a fish hatchery and the defeat of a bill
for a similar amount to benefit the school for the feeble-minded children.

NEWTON CLUB.

The bowling season which closed
on Memorial Day was one of the most successful ever held in the club. The alleys will be gone over during the summer in readiness for the fall
tournament.HON. CHARLES E. HATFIELD Worshipful Master Dalhousie Lodge, F. & A. M.

WABAN TENNIS.

The first club tournament of the season at the Waban Tennis Courts
was played on Saturday and Monday,
being listed as combination double
classes A and B playing together.
The interest in the tourney brought out an entry list of 12 teams and a fair sized gallery watched the matches in spite of the bad weather.
The two favorite pairs, Garrison and Vose, and F. Williams and Cook, came through fairly easily, and met in the finals. This match was a great contest, taking the full quota of sets,
but Garrison's individual skill and stamina finally proved too much for his younger opponents, although they played an excellent double game. Vose proved an able assistant for his stronger partner. The summary:
First round—Garrison and Vose
beat Mrs. Buffum and Lane, 6-1, 6-4; Turner and Davis beat Fisher and Burnett, 4-6, 6-2, 9-7; LeClear
and Sawyer beat Blaney and Arnold, 6-2, 9-7; F. Williams and Cook beat Parker and Willing by default.
Second round—Garrison and Vose
beat Turner and Davis, 6-2, 6-1;
Nichols and Crain beat G. Williams and Dow, 1-6, 6-3, 6-3; Rane and Bartlett beat Gould and Walker, 6-2, 6-1; Williams and Cook beat LeClear
and Sawyer, 1-6, 6-2, 6-2.
Third round—Garrison and Vose
beat Nichols and Crain, 7-5, 6-3;
Williams and Cook beat Rane and Bartlett, 6-2, 6-2.
Finals—Garrison and Vose beat
Williams and Cook, 6-4, 3-6, 6-8, 6-2, 6-4.

Clara Haffernihl, Charlotte White, Marion Armstrong, Mary and Sumner Dame, Gertrude Russell, Alice Bulley, Mary Goss, Beatrice Goodwin, Percy Wein, Allen Hubbard and Ruth Chapin.—As Mrs. Witham was crossing Centre street last Saturday evening
near Crescent avenue, she was struck by a Newtonville car and knocked down, sustaining injuries about her head. She was immediately taken to the home of Mr. Erasmus T. Coburn and taken to the Newton Hospital.
Her home was in Dorchester and she was employed as a domestic at the home of Mr. Whalley Parker street.
The cause of the accident is said to be the fact that she is deaf and did not notice the approach of the electric car, which was running very slowly at the time.

MITCHELL—FRIEND.

The wedding of Miss Alice Hinman Friend, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Friend, and Mr. Philip H. Mitchell of Providence, R. I., took place Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride on Prince street, West Newton.The ceremony was performed by Rev. Julian C. Jaynes, pastor of the West Newton Unitarian Church. Miss
Ruth B. Friend, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Alice C. Merriam of Middletown, Conn., and Miss Besse
E. Mitchell of Southbury, Conn., a sister of the groom, and both being classmates of the bride at Smith College. The best man was Mr. Henry H. Fischer of New York city, a classmate of the groom at Yale, and the ushers at the ceremony were Dr. Edward A. Deuling, Yale '04, of Hartford, Conn., and Mr. Edward J. Har-ber, Yale '05, of New York city. At the reception which followed the ceremony, Messrs. Roy R. Merchant and Paul Ingraham of West Newton and Harold B. Sherman of Newtonville were assistant ushers. Mr. and Mrs.
Mitchell were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Friend, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mitchell of Southbury,
Conn., parents of the groom.After a wedding trip to Lake Champlain and Lake George, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will reside in Providence, where they will be at home in September.

Sabin, Marion Knapp, Sidney Bull and Miss Kimberly.—At the Lincoln Park Baptist Church last evening a concert was given by the choir and assisting artists before a representative audience.
The artistic program consisted of chorus selections, violin solos by Mr.
Ernest W. Sheldon, soprano solos by Miss Olive Burrison, organ solo by Mr. Francis C. Pitman, baritone solo
by Mr. Edward F. Leighton and piano solo by Miss Vida Chase.—On the lawn at the Newton Catholic club Wednesday night a dancing
party was given in aid of the sales table at the coming lawn party. The lawn was enclosed with a canvas
wall and Japanese lanterns and colored lights were lavishly used for decorative purposes. A large number were present. Thomas Davis and Frank Sheridan were at the head of the committee of arrangements.

ed, being high and heavily wooded.

N. H. S.

The ball team was defeated by its old time rivals, Waltham, last Saturday by a score of 3 to 1. Over 700 persons witnessed the contest, and saw the home team beaten by a failure to hit at the right time, as well as costly errors.A ten inning game was played with Brookline in the Preparatory League games on Monday morning, the visitors winning 4 to 3.Up to the seventh Newton had a three run lead, but in that period Brookline scored. In the ninth two hits and two bad errors in the Newton out-field tied the score. In the extra session, with men on second and third, Anderson popped a tiny fly right into the glove of Gaw, who had been hustled in to replace Wood, but he failed to hold it and McGrath scored the winning run.The feature of the game was Gaw's home run over the center field canvas.The school golf team defeated Brookline high golf on Tuesday on the Woodland links, the score being 3 to 2.

ESTABLISHING A CREDIT

Henry Clews, the well known New York financier, says that establishing a credit should be the first consideration when organizing a new business.

The bank is the place to establish your credit, and becoming a regular depositor is one of the important factors in building up that credit. Besides as a depositor all the privileges and facilities of the institution are placed at your disposal. This company will welcome your account.

Why Hindoos Don't Go Mad.

Why are there so few lunatic asylums and so small a proportion of insane persons in India? That is a question which many a traveler has wonderingly asked. The Hindoos regulate their lives entirely in accordance with their religion—that is, their working, eating, sleeping, as well as what we usually regard as our "life" in the religious sense of the word. Everything is arranged for them, and they follow the rules now just as they did 2,000 years ago. This constant observance of the same rules for twenty centuries has molded the brains of the race into one shape, as it were, and, although their rites are queer enough, yet there is but an occasional example of that striking deviation from the common which is called insanity in countries inhabited by the white race. They are fatalists too. With them it is a case of "what is to be will be" carried to the extreme. This has in time given them the power to take all things calmly and so freed them from the anxiety that drives so many white men into the lunatic asylums.

Thought It Was the Monkey's.

A diamond necklace was possessed by Mme. Geoffrey de St. Hilaire, the wife of the famous French naturalist. It was one of the chiefest of her "contentments," as Hindoo women aptly term their jewels. One day Madame missed her necklace. There was a terrible turmoil in the house, and all the servants down to the foolish fat scullion were suspected, but in turn proved their innocence. At last it was remembered that M. de St. Hilaire had a pet monkey, and on a search being made in the "glory hole" of the quadrangle the precious bauble was discovered hidden away with a white satin shoe, several cigar ends, a pencil case and a decomposed apple. The renowned naturalist calmly observed that he had frequently seen the monkey playing with the necklace. "Why did you not take it from him?" indignantly asked his spouse. "I thought it belonged to him," replied M. de St. Hilaire. He evidently thought there was nothing unnatural in an ape possessing a diamond necklace as his personal property.

The Monasteries of Tibet.

Every Tibetan family is compelled to devote its firstborn male child to a monastic life. Soon after his birth the child is taken to a Buddhist monastery to be brought up and trained in priestly mysteries. At about the age of eight he joins one of the caravans which travel to Lassa. There he is attached to one of the local monasteries, where he remains as a novice until he is fifteen, learning to read the sacred books and perform the religious rites of his faith. The firstborn son, being thus sent into the church, as we should say in this country, the second becomes the head of the family and marries. Unlike some other semi-civilized races, these young Tibetans have the right of choosing their own wives. Nor can a Tibetan girl be married off by her parents without her own consent. The curious custom in regard to the eldest sons results of course, in nearly every Tibetan family acquiring the odor of sanctity, numbering a monk among its members.—London Telegraph.

Slow but Inexorable Justice.

In October, 1900, Pietro Giacconi and Marie Bonelli were tried at Rome on a charge of sextuple murder by poisoning committed thirty-one years before. In England Eugene Aram was hanged for the murder of Clarke fourteen years after the offense. A man named Horne was executed for the murder of his child in the eighteenth century no less than thirty-five years after the offense. There is also the well known case of Governor Wall, who was executed in 1802 for a murder committed in 1782. Sherward was hanged at Norwich for the murder of his wife after a lapse of twenty years. But Sir Fitzjames Stephens recalls what is the most remarkable case of all. He prosecuted as counsel for the crown in 1803 a man who was charged with stealing a loaf from a parish register sixty years before—that is, in 1803. In this case the prisoner was acquitted.—London Standard.

Prohibited Coffee Houses.

So many coffee houses sprang into existence in England during the reign of Charles II, that he, entertaining a belief that many political intrigues had their beginning in those places, issued an edict ordering them to be closed. In this proclamation the following words occurred: "The retailing of coffee or tea might be an innocent trade, but it was said to nourish sedition, spread lies and scandalize great men. It might also be a common nuisance."

Conceited.

Phyllis—Harry is the most conceited man I ever met. Maud—What makes you think so? Phyllis—Why, he first asserts that I am the most adorable woman in the world, the most beautiful, intellectual and in every respect a paragon, and then he wants me to marry him!

Life.

It has been said that life is made up of three things—heredity, environment and the will. If the heredity and environment of the child are what they should be the will will choose the right and do it.

Couldn't Help It.

Mr. Biggs—You must think me a blamed fool. Mrs. Biggs (kindly)—No, I don't think anybody ever blamed you.—Boston Transcript.

Men of loftier mind manifest themselves in their equitable dealings, small minded men in their going after gain.—Confucius.

Combination Coal and Gas Crawford Ranges

The Crawford Gas Ovens are safe. They are lighted in a new way; there is no dangerous pilot light and explosions are impossible. This improvement is patented and very important.

The Damper is automatically opened by opening oven door to light the burners, which cannot be lighted until the door is opened.

In these Gas Ovens there is an extra set of burners at the top for broiling; a great advantage over the ordinary gas oven, insuring better broiling and great convenience.

The Oven Bottoms and Racks are cast iron, and the outer walls are triple—an interlining of asbestos between two sheets of iron, which assists to retain the heat.

The use of these Gas Ovens does not interfere in any way with the operation of the coal range—both can be used at the same time.

Double Oven above or Single Oven at end of range.

NEWTON CENTRE PLAYGROUND NOTES.

On next Saturday afternoon the Congregational Church will hold their annual field day on the Playground. Track and field games at 2 o'clock; baseball between married and single men at 4 o'clock, and at 6 the athletic dinner at the church.

Preparations for the Grammar School track meet for June 11 are going forward splendidly, and fine contests are expected.

Newton Centre "Married Men" play the "Single Men" on the morning of June 17.

Last Sunday some men tried to break up the tilts by piling them up on the settees, but fortunately they were strongly built. These must have been the same visitors who carried off the product of the children's gardens last fall.

SUMMER SCHOOL.

An especially interesting program has been arranged by the Newton Theological Institution for its summer school of Theology, which will open June 14 and continue through June 24. This will be the third annual session, and the main purposes are to give new stimulus to seminary graduates; to furnish ministers without a seminary course a sample of theological discipline, and to give to Sunday school teachers, men or women, a wider reach in religious thought, a more intelligent outlook over the field of religious education, and to introduce them to the most approved methods of teaching. The courses will be given by President George E. Horr, who will consider "Some Modern Religious Movements"; Professor John M. English, on "An Efficient Ministry"; Professor Frederick L. Anderson, on "The Gospels and the Acts"; Professor Winfred N. Donovan, on "The Early Hebrew Religion"; Professor George Cross, on "Five Rival Interpretations of Christianity"; and Rev. Benjamin S. Winchester, D. D., educational secretary of the Congregational Sunday School and Publishing Society, on "Sunday School Pedagogy."

ROOSEVELT RECEPTION.

Congressman John W. Weeks of Massachusetts is anxious that his state should be well represented at the reception of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt in New York June 18.

"It is a graceful tribute to our leading private citizen and only ex-President that the American people propose to pay next month," he said.

Theodore Roosevelt has been taking a well-earned vacation in foreign lands and in the last few weeks has so acquitted himself as to add materially to our prestige abroad. There need not be any fear that such a demonstration of affection and esteem will be misinterpreted by him or his most ardent admirers. He would be the last person to regard it as smacking of imperial doings. Colonel Roosevelt has stood for big things and is one of the world's big citizens. It is particularly gratifying to know that this demonstration is to be non-partisan. If it had any political significance, it would be unworthy of the occasion and of the men who have it in charge. I hope the committees of the cities of my state having to do with the sending of delegations to New York will communicate with the general Roosevelt reception committee, No. 146 Broadway, New York, as soon as possible."

A BIG WORK.

Preparations are under way for the extension of a new metropolitan water main from the Boston boundary at the reservoir through Chestnut Hill and other parts of Newton to Weston bridge, where it will join one of the big supply pipes that cross the Charles River at that point. To install this main it will be necessary to tunnel through solid rock for a distance of about 2000 feet from a point near the junction of Commonwealth and Grant avenues in Newton Centre to the northerly side of Waban Hill. The entire pipe line will be about four and one-half miles in length and will follow the line of the present conduit. The work of tunnelling will be done by Joseph Hanreddy, a Chicago contractor.

Newton Centre.

—Mr. John M. Dick and family are moving out of their residence on Rice street.

—Mr. Masson and family will occupy the new Stearns house on Clark street.

—Mr. Shaw has rented for immediate occupancy the Hammett house on Water street.

—Mr. C. B. Smith and family of Grant avenue are moving to the Estee house on Waban Hill road.

—Rev. Edward T. Sullivan presided at the Alumni dinner held at the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge last Tuesday evening.

—Rev. Julian C. Jaynes of West Newton occupied the pulpit of the Unitarian Church last Sunday morning, exchanging with the pastor.

—Mr. J. P. Crown and family of Pelham street will make their home in the house formerly occupied by Mr. Shepherd on Beacon street.

—Mr. E. Ray Speare of Commonwealth avenue is a member of the committee in charge of raising the endowment fund for Boston University.

—Rev. Edward M. Noyes of Warren street has been elected one of the preachers for next year of the Massachusetts convention of Congregational ministers.

—Mr. Thomas T. Baldwin, Jr., of Hammond street, a member of the Harvard class of 1912, has been elected a member of the editorial board of the Advocate.

—Mr. Mason B. Whittemore will begin improvements soon on the Avers house he recently purchased on Ridge avenue. Mr. Whittemore and family will occupy later.

—Mr. Addison C. Burnham of Crystal street is one of the promoters of the Atlantic Fish Exchange of Portland, recently incorporated under the laws of the state of Maine.

—Work has begun on the tunnel section of the metropolitan water works at the corner of Grant and Commonwealth avenues and will extend to a point near the Elliot Memorial. Joseph Hanreddy of Chicago has the contract.

—Rev. Dr. James L. Barton and Mrs. Barton head the party sailing on the Zealand Tuesday as delegates from the American Board to the missionary convention in Edinburgh. The party will also go to Oberammergau to witness the Passion Play.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Brown Goodwin of Biddeford, Me., have sent out cards for the marriage of their daughter, Marian Herliel, to Edward Legard, Marden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Wendell Marden of Newton Centre, at Christ Church, Biddeford, Wednesday evening, June 8, at 7 o'clock. Only relatives are invited to the ceremony and the reception at the home of the bride's parents will not be a large one.

HORSE SHOW.

The seventh annual open air horse show at Chestnut Hill Memorial Day attracted a large audience, which manifested the greatest interest in the beautiful horses that were displayed in the ring. Many automobile parties were parked outside the enclosure and several tally-ho coaches.

The show opened at 10:30 o'clock and during the day 17 classes were judged. Of the local entries Miss Isabella L. Mumford captured two blues and one white ribbon with her entries, her chestnut pony "Virginia" winning first place in two classes.

The judges were Dr. Samuel A. Hopkins, Samuel D. Parker, Francis Peabody, Jr., William H. Seabury and Arthur W. Stedman. The committee in charge was comprised of the following: Andrew Adie, William L. Allen, Henry W. Bliss, Herbert Jaques, Francis W. Lee, Montgomery Rollins, Richard M. Saltonstall, Edwin S. Webster and A. Winsor Weld.

The local winners were:

Class 1, children's combination pony class, suitable for harness and saddle purposes, children under 16 to ride and drive—Virginia, ch. m., Miss Isabella L. Mumford, first.

Class 2, children's combination pony class to be owned, ridden and driven

VETERANS HONOR DEAD

In the Islands, a resolution was unanimously adopted asking our Congress to define the political status of the people. They do not ask for immediate independence, but only for our solemn promise that in the fulness of time their children and their children's children may be free.

Our Supreme Court has decided that the Constitution, embodying those principles of liberty which were our priceless heritage, does not follow the flag. But if the Constitution does not follow the flag, then let us declare that the flag shall not permanently wave over a subject people. That the stars and stripes, conceived in liberty and baptized in the blood of heroes fighting in the cause of human liberty, must never wave as an emblem of empire, but as a promise of freedom to all who come under the protecting shadow of its folds. Unless we remain true to the ideals of the republic, these dead, whose graves we decorate today, indeed have died in vain.

Comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic: We have joined with you today in covering with flowers the graves of those who have passed beyond the vale, and now we extend to you who are living our tribute of love and affection for the part which you bore in the saving of the nation and the example which you have set us in the years that have ensued.

Our beloved Governor, John D. Long, in a memorial address delivered before the Grand Army posts of Suffolk county in 1882, ventured to say that with the close of the century few survivors of your noble army would remain, but the century has run its course and ten years have been added, and goodly companies of your army all over the land are joining in the exercises of today. Your presence with us bears witness to the fact that the Boys of '61 were boys indeed, that it was the young manhood of our country that went to the front to save the Union. But it bears witness also that the training and discipline which you received during those years of danger and privation incalculable habits of temperance and fortitude which have stood you in good stead in after years.

God grant that the day may be far distant when that vision, painted by one of your number, Darius Cobb, shall become a reality—that vision of the last surviving member of the Grand Army of the Republic placing a wreath upon the graves of his sleeping comrades. But when that day shall come, and when he too shall answer the last bugle call and take his place in the ranks of that reunited and glorified army, no longer in battle array but enlisted under the banner of the Prince of Peace, be assured that there will be loving hands to bear him to his final resting place, and there will be Sons of Veterans in your places to sound taps over his grave.

The line of march was then resumed, passing thru Walnut street, where the column was reviewed by the chief marshal and staff at Washington Park, to Temple Hall, for the annual Memorial Day dinner.

Seated at the table with Commander Kingsbury were Mayor Hatfield, Chief Marshal Wentworth, Major F. P. Barnes, Representative Thomas W. White, Aldermen Doherty, Moore, Sullivan and Cox, Rev. J. Edgar Park, Rev. H. Grant Person, Rev. A. N. Slayton, Rev. John Matteson, Rev. Francis B. White and Rev. Charles E. Spaulding.

The dinner was enlivened by the excellent singing of the Lotus Quartet, including the beautiful "Shadows," "Over the Hills," "Love is the Light of the World" and a few humorous songs, all of which were received with great enthusiasm.

Colonel Kingsbury introduced the various speakers with felicitous words and made a great hit when he called on the quartet to sing "Sweet Adeline" when Mayor Hatfield was presented. The Mayor was received with three hearty cheers and a tiger. Mayor Hatfield brought the hearty greetings of the city to the men who were the bulwark of the nation and saved the Union. The Mayor emphasized the fact that the children should be taught to know the fealty they owe to the veterans and closed with some beautiful lines of poetry.

Chief Marshal Wentworth said that the Sons of Veterans glory in the victories and heroisms of their fathers and join with you in paying loving tribute to those who have been mustered out. We have placed beautiful spring flowers and Old Glory on their graves and while the flowers will fade, the principles you stand for will live forever in the hearts of the people. And the Sons of Veterans can pay you no grander tribute than to assure you that the principles you fought for are entirely safe in our keeping.

Captain Gullford was received with cheers and a tiger and said that his company always looked forward with pleasure to their annual escort duty for the veterans. He referred to the new armory to be erected this year in Newton and promised that the local company next year would be far ahead of any other company in the state.

Representative White made a hit when in the course of his remarks he stated he had recently witnessed a parade of 3000 boys of the Boston high schools and said that the saddest action of the school board in Newton was the abolition of military drill in the high school. After the applause had subsided Mr. White said that he believed no system of education prevails at the present time which equals the three R's and compulsory military drill in the high school. Mr. White also said that the Legislature had passed a bill for a safe and sane Fourth of July and he hoped that next year it would provide for a fitting observance of Memorial Day. He believed that the same heroism which animated the veterans in the Civil War was necessary today in our civil life, and that the three great essentials were courage, capacity and honesty. He believed that the political woods were full of men who sacrificed those principles to follow the whims of popular fancy. In these days of Cannonism, Vaheyism and Hatfieldism, Mr. White said he did not know whether to classify himself as an insurgent regular or a regular insurgent, but was content to be just a plain representative of the best city, bar none, in the Commonwealth.

Adjutant Haynie reported that the post had decorated 253 graves of soldiers of three wars, and two distinguished citizens, and ended his report with these lines:

"Most of these were faithful soldiers Who responded to Lincoln's call: Promised to protect Old Glory, Cr in battle, sternly fall. Always cheerful, ever fearless, When most needed, ever night: Soldiers, sailors, staunch and true men They were not afraid to die."

But those of us who yet remain, Our hair is gray we're growing old; Will always feel 'twas not in vain We once were patriots brave and bold. And, lo, like those who now are sleeping, Their souls have gone to Him on high; Comrades, shipmates, vigil keeping, We are not afraid to die."

Yes, dear Mayor, 'tis true our numbers Are fast decreasing each passing year, But till the last one of us slumbers In death, we shall keep up good cheer.

Knowing full well—none can deny it— That those who wore the uniform blue, Crushed the rebellion—just think of it— And preserved this great country to you.

Alderman Doherty responded briefly for the Board of Aldermen and a letter was read from Miss Katherine R. A. Flood, past president Daughters of Veterans.

Colonel Kingsbury referred tenderly to the late Dr. H. J. Patrick in introducing his successor, Rev. J. Edgar Park, pastor of the West Newton Congregational Church. Mr. Park made a stirring address, which was received with great applause. He referred to his birth and education in another country, as a possible reason why he had no right to speak on such an occasion, but he stated that as he might see things from a different point of view, he would call attention to a few matters which had struck him quite forcibly. In the first place he said that there was never such a country which had such good luck in the causes for which it had fought. While other nations had engaged in wars, principally for self aggrandizement, the United States had a great moral principle behind the two great wars in which it had fought, in behalf of the human race. As a result your wars will stand in all future history. He had also been struck with the different attitude of the old soldier in this country. They were not living on the reputation won in the battle field, but were occupying high positions in all walks of life. They were honored for what they were still doing as well as for what they had done. He also rejoiced in the lessons you were giving the children in patriotism and bringing home to every child the great sunset of the great war. In closing Mr. Park gave eloquent thanks to the veterans for making this country what it is for his children.

At the conclusion of Mr. Park's address three cheers were given for "Old England."

Other remarks were made by Department Commander H. J. McCann, Sons of Veterans; Mr. James S. Cannon, Rev. H. Grant Person, Commander L. T. Putnam, S. of V.; Alderman L. M. Cox and Rev. F. B. White. A message of sympathy was sent to Mr. Jesse C. Ivy, a Confederate veteran, and thanks were given the Daughters of Veterans and the Boys' Brigades for their service.

The banquet was brought to a close by the singing of "America."

Members of Charles Ward Post 62, G. A. R., to the number of 63, attended the annual memorial service in Eliot Congregational Church Sunday morning. The veterans formed at the Newton depot and marched to the church behind their colors, in charge of Colonel Isaac F. Kingsbury, the commander.

There was special music by the church choir and a quartet sang "The Vacant Chair." A chorus of male voices also rendered "The Star Spangled Banner." Chaplain Samuel Putnam of the post read the Scripture lesson. Rev. H. Grant Person, the pastor, preached on "The Memorial Day of the Future." The exercises closed with the singing of "America" by the congregation.

In St. Mary's Church at Newton Lower Falls there was a memorial service in the morning for the dead of four wars which are buried in the churchyard. Rev. Francis B. White, the rector, preached and there was special singing, the congregation joining in the national anthem.

It is said of Robert Walpole that "flowery oratory he despised." We like to have a man come from Massachusetts because we then can "show him" that the "WINGHESTER" steam or hot water heater has no superior. Smith & Thayer Co., 236 Congress street, Boston, Mass.

VETERANS HONOR DEAD

Charles Ward Post 62, Grand Army of the Republic, fittingly observed last Monday as Memorial Day, with their usual services. Three innovations were made in the customs of other years, all of which added greatly to the interest of the occasion. At the Lower Falls in the morning over 100 children from the Sunday school of St. John's Church, dressed in white, met the veterans in front of St. Mary's Church and scattered flowers at their feet as they entered the cemetery. The post returned the courtesy at the close of the exercises in the cemetery by reviewing the long line of children as they marched back to their church. At the services around the soldiers' monument in the cemetery in the afternoon an oration was given by Mr. J. Weston Allen, and at the dinner at Temple Hall the Lotus Quartet added greatly to the pleasure of the evening.

In other respects the regular routine was followed, graves being decorated in all the Newton cemeteries by details from the post.

At St. Mary's Cemetery in the morning Senior Vice-Commander Albert Plummer was in charge and there was a large crowd present. After decorating the graves, a stirring address was made by Rev. Father Callahan of St. John's Church. The post then marched to the banks of the Charles River escorted by the Boys' Brigade of the Auburndale Centenary and Lower Falls Methodist churches under command of Rev. C. E. Spaulding. The beautiful service of casting flowers into the water in honor of the sailor dead was under the direction of Chaplain S. P. Putnam of the post. The veterans then went to West Newton in a special street car where luncheon was served in the "Players' small hall. While the men were gathering in the hall patriotic music was played on the piano and sung by the veterans and Mayor Hatfield was given an informal reception.

The parade formed at West Newton at 1:30 o'clock under command of Chief Marshal James H. Wentworth, past department commander Sons of Veterans, Lieutenant William H. Wilson, adjutant-general; Major Fred P. Barnes, chief of staff, and these aids: Commodore W. H. Partridge and W. H. Allen, Colonel Robert B. Estes, Captain Walter Allen, U. S. N., Lieutenant Samuel W. Wilder, Department Commander S. of V. H. J. McCam-tonial of the Civil War. Fifty years ago this month that memorable convention was held in Chicago at which, on the third ballot, Abraham Lincoln was nominated for President of the United States. When word was brought to him at his home that he had been chosen as their standard bearer by the delegates of the convention, he turned from the friends who had gathered to congratulate him, saying, "There is a little woman inside who will be glad to hear this news." He could not know then, although he may have divined, that to be President of the United States for the ensuing four years was to be Commander-in-Chief of the armies of the United States in the greatest war that the world has ever seen. Thanks to a benign Providence, the little woman whom he loved could not know in that moment of joy that, after countless thousands had fallen in the impending struggle, death was to claim him as a last great sacrifice on the altar of human freedom.

It is indeed fitting that the members of the Grand Army of the Republic should gather once a year to lay a wreath upon his grave and upon the graves of all their comrades who fell fighting under his leadership. But it is also fitting at this time that we should ask ourselves whether we are carrying forward to its highest achievement the great unfinished work which they and their successors in arms have bequeathed to us.

During the past fifty years our armies have faced three foes—in the Civil War, the wars against the Indians, and the Spanish War. It is a strange coincidence that each of these wars has brought to us as a nation the responsibility for the future welfare of a less fortunate race. The Civil War imposed upon us the task of uplifting the black race, from whose hands we had stricken the chains of slavery. The wars with the Indians left us as the natural guardian of the red man, who had become a wanderer, ever driven back before the swift-rushing wave of our advancing civilization. And in the last ten years the Spanish war has placed in our hands the keeping and the future destiny of the brown people of the Pacific.

How are we succeeding in the fulfillment of these sacred trusts? Uniformly successful in war, humane and generous in the hour of victory, can mon, Messrs. Finck L. Nagle, Howard P. Converse, F. H. White, E. B. Moulton, J. Weston Allen, Reuben Forkner and Rev. A. N. Slayton.

The line of march consisted of a detail of police, the chief marshal, with his officers and aids, Swift's Band, Company C, Fifth Regiment, M. V. M., Captain George F. Guilford, Charles Ward Post, Colonel Isaac F. Kingsbury, commander; Thomas Burnett Camp, S. W. V., Alphonse Ruel, commander; J. Wiley Edmunds Camp, S. V., Lawrence T. Putnam, commanding, and Mrs. A. E. Cunningham Camp, D. V., Miss Frances Fitzgerald, president. The column was reviewed at City Hall by Mayor Hatfield and the city government and then proceeded thru Washington, Putnam, Temple, Highland, Valentine, Homer and Walnut streets to the Newton Cemetery. A volley of cheers was given for Congressman John W. Weeks when opposite his residence on Valentine street, and a stick of arms, knapsack, canteen, flag and a burning candle in the butt of a bayonet in the lawn in front of Captain S. E. Howard's house on Putnam street were interesting incidents in the march.

Colonel Kingsbury was in charge of the exercises at the soldiers' monument, including prayer by the post chaplain, to which the quartet added "The Lord's Prayer" as a response, reading of the orders of the day by Post Adjutant Henry Haynie, reports of details, prayer by Rev. Mr. Slayton staff chaplain to which the quartet sang "The Vacant Chair" as a response, an oration by Mr. J. Weston Allen, singing by the quartet, the reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address by Past Department Commander W. A. Welch, the placing of flowers on the monument by the city government, and the daughters of Veterans, the firing of a volley of musketry in different portions of the cemetery, the singing of "America" and the sounds of taps. During the exercises four daughters of Veterans, Mrs. Alice K. Burns and the Misses Anna Donovan, Evelyn Brown and Ruth Danforth, dressed in white with streamers of red, white and blue, and carrying flags, acted as markers at the four corners of the monument.

FATAL FIRE

A fire in which one man was killed and another badly injured occurred on Monday evening about 10:30 o'clock in the barn on the Brooks estate, corner of Centre and Saigent streets, Newton. The barn was used as a residence by Thomas Fletcher and family, consisting of his wife and four-year-old son, and by Gilbert Cromie, a gardener employed in the neighborhood. The Fletcher family retired just before 10 o'clock and were aroused by the shouts of passers by who noticed flames coming out of the lower story. Mr. Fletcher found the flames so furious that he immediately returned and took his wife and child out of the building, although the stairs were burning at the time. The place is a long up-hill run for both the Newton and Centre Centre fire apparatus and it was some time before the firemen were at work. By this time the building was well ablaze. A group of firemen working in a shed attached to the rear of the main building were precipitated into the roof and had to be helped out by ladders. By the time the men had fought their way into the second story of the main building word was brought that Cromie was missing, and his body was soon found, with life extinct. He was slightly deaf, and it is presumed that he was not awakened until too late for him to reach a place of safety and he was suffocated by the smoke. While the firemen were engaged in removing the body from the roof of the main barn fell upon them and badly injuring Capt. A. I. English of Newton Centre in the back. He was taken to his home in an automobile. The loss is estimated at about $3000.

Cromie's body was taken to Clinton on Tuesday for burial. He was 22 years of age and a native of Ireland.

TOWER FAMILY REUNION.

The second annual reunion of the descendants of John Tower (I), will be held at the old homestead in Hingham, Mass., June 17, 18, 19, 1910.

At the first reunion last year this family established the record of the greatest attendance of the descendants of one man at any reunion ever held in America. Four hundred and twenty-seven were registered and the estimated attendance was in excess of 500.

The Tower Genealogical Society was formed as a result of the first reunion, and its members, over 220 in number, will hold their second annual meeting at Wilder Memorial Hall, South Hingham, on the second day of the reunion.

An address by one of the most prominent members of the family will be a feature of the meeting. There will be other addresses by prominent speakers. A musical program will be carried out during the reunion and the gathering already promises to surpass the great record of last year. Rev. Dr. George S. Butters will be one of the speakers and Mr. Levi L. Tower and family will attend.

NEW CHURCH

Rev. Henry Goodson Ives and Mrs. Ives (nee Susan A. Whiting, formerly of Newton) are to be congratulated upon the new church which has been given to their Andover (N. H.) Congregational Unitarian Society and was dedicated June 2. The church is a beautiful field stone structure and was the most generous gift of Miss Harriet Otis Craft of Boston, costing about $17,000. It was designed by Edwin J. Craft, vice-president of the board of trustees of Proctor Academy, gave most valuable time and energy in arranging details for the building. It will be named the Craft Memorial Church, to show love and gratitude to Miss Craft and Gen. Craft. Many guests came from Boston, Newton, Middletown, Conn., Manchester, Concord, Franklin, etc. Guests included besides the speakers Mrs. L. C. Hill, Mrs. Robert Gould Shaw of Boston, Miss Jessie M. Fisher, Miss Minnie R. Wheeler, Mrs. Grace T. Whittemore, Mrs. William H. Bliss, Miss Anna M. Whiting from Newton, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Webber, Mrs. E. Tillinghast-Thresher, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Godding from Brighton (Hannover Hill).

Guests arrived at noon on June 2 and after an ample lunch served in dining room of basement of new church, they went above, where the beautifully equipped auditorium, vestry and ladies' parlor were crowded with guests, who heard and appreciated the dedication program.

MCGREGOR WITHDRAWS.

Mr. Alexander McGregor, whose friends were so anxious to have him run for Governor's Council, to succeed Councilor Giddens, has finally concluded to withdraw from the contest. This will be a disappointment to many who saw in Mr. McGregor an ideal candidate for the place. He will for the present, however, lay aside the prize, but that he will eventually be heard from in public is unquestionably true. Mr. McGregor as manager of the house of Houghton & Dutton Company, has shown himself to be a man of marked ability. He is an earnest and enthusiastic worker in everything that he takes up, and his friends are many and loyal.

MICHELIN TIRES.

At the Indianapolis Motor Speedway on Decoration Day and last Friday and Saturday, Michelin Tires made a most remarkable record for sustained speed and endurance. During the three days' meet there were 28 separate contests. Of these Michelin Tires won 25. It is believed that this record for consistent work has never been equaled. The contest of greatest importance from the point of view of tire durability was Saturday's 200-mile race for the $10,000 Wheeler & Schebler trophy. In this contest Michelines were the equipment of the cars that finished first, second, third and fourth.

BIG CIRCUS

The Forepaugh and Sells Bros. Big United Shows will on Monday and Tuesday, June 27 and 28, give two performances in Charles River Park, Cambridge.

This great circus is 50 years old. It has always stood at the top among all the amusement enterprises of the world. This year it returns bigger, better and more attractive than ever. On its list of performers there are 350 names. These great stars have been gathered from European arenas. Among them are the three Tybell sisters, who present a "Human Buttery" aerial spectacle which electrified all Europe last winter; Karl Handley and his company of German acrobats; Paul Alvarez of Spain, the greatest head balancer on earth; the Avalons from England, the best of all high-wire artists; Capt. Webb and his two troupes of trained seals; Nellie Welch of Australia, the only woman double somersault equestrian in the world; Ada Bell Edwards, the world's strongest woman, and the wonderful Alvo family of acrobats from Italy. The greatest trained animal act in all history is presented by 61 horses. They appear at one time in one ring. There are also the 15 best educated elephants on earth. They perform in company with three companies of trained dogs.

In the menagerie there are 780 wild animals.

TENNIS.

In the Suburban Tennis League with Newton Centre Squash Tennis Club at Brae Burn Saturday afternoon, the home team won two out of the three matches, the victories including one match in doubles and one in singles.

Singles—George W. Pratt, Brae Burn, beat Arthur W. Blakemore, Newton Centre, 6-3, 6-3; R. L. Dana, Newton Centre, defeated L. F. Woods, Brae Burn, 6-4, 6-1.

Doubles—Wood and Pratt, Brae Burn, defeated Dana and Woods, Newton Centre, 5-6, 6-2, 6-4.

NEWTON CLUB.

A very delightful concert was given at the clubhouse Tuesday evening, June 7, by Blom's Orchestra organization.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Civic Federation of Newton was held in the clubhouse Thursday, June 9, and plans for civic improvements for the ensuing year were discussed.

AMONG WOMEN.

Among the members of the New England Women's Press Association who were entertained at luncheon on Tuesday at the State Federation meeting at Lynn, by the president, Mrs. Bessie Brown Cobb, were Mrs. Marie A. Moore and Mrs. Lulu S. Upham of Newton and Mrs. Charles Edmond Guild and Miss Frances Sparhawk of Newton Centre.

EDUCATION

The 48th annual convention of the National Education Association is to be held in Boston from July 2 to July 8, and it is estimated that 30,000 visitors may be present in Boston during convention week.

By the program the convenience of the delegates is consulted. There will be no afternoon sessions. Departmental meetings are to be held each morning, beginning at 9:30. The afternoon will be devoted to leisure. The great general sessions of the convention will be held in the evening. At the very opening of the convention is to come the spectacle of an open-air assemblage in the classic Stadium of Harvard University, seat 35,000 persons. Before this great throng President William H. Taft will deliver an address on Independence Day.

Boston's public-spirited citizens and business houses have contributed and will contribute handsomely for the entertainment of the convention. The trustees of the old Art Museum have donated the building for general headquarters. The Old South Meeting House, famous in history, and the new Museum of Fine Arts will be open to delegates on presentation of badges. Bunker Hill Monument will be open to delegates at reduced prices. Christ Church and Old North Church will be free. For the convenience of strangers a complete guide book of Boston and vicinity has been donated by Ginn & Co., publishers.

WABAN SCHOOL.

The boys of Waban School will open the commencement season tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, by presenting "Miss Civilization," the little play written by Richard Harding Davis, and made popular by Ethel Barrymore. "Miss Civilization" has been at work for a number of weeks, unravelling the art of femininity and the accompanying cast are rivaling her accomplishments with true burlesque stolidity in resistance of the feminine charm. A short cutting from "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will also be rendered—Topsy present and acting. The music accompanying change of scene will be furnished by the talent of the school.

The program of the closing exercises also includes: Sunday evening, June 12, 7:30 o'clock, vesper service with address; Monday, June 13, and Tuesday, June 14, final examinations; Monday, June 13, 3 o'clock, annual field sports; Tuesday, June 14, 1:45 o'clock, closing exercises.

NEWTON CENTRE PLAYGROUND NOTES.

The Newton Grammar School athletic meet will be held on Newton Centre Playground Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock. All the schools of Newton are entered and a good meet is assured.

Saturday afternoon the Baptist Church team plays the Tigers of Newton Highlands. The finals of the Mason School girls' tennis tournament will be played at 3 o'clock.

The married and single men will play baseball on the morning of June 17.

CONCERT

A concert for the benefit of the Newton Hospital will be given at the Newton Club on the evening of June 15, at 8:15 p. m.

The following artists will appear: Mme. Wilhelmina Wright Calvert, one of Boston's leading dramatic sopranos; Signor Francesco Manetta, the noted tenor, who stands in the front ranks of the leading singers in this country. We have also engaged an orchestra composed of thorough musicians.

It will no doubt be an evening long to be remembered and after to considerable expense in securing the services of these artists, we trust we may have the co-operation of all the public spirited citizens of our city, who will help us further the good cause and make the evening a decided success.

A limited number of tickets at 50 cents each are on sale at the Newton Club, also at Edmand's drug store. J. K. PARK, T. W. COTTON, The Committee.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES.

A public meeting of the Associated Charities was held in the parlors of Elliot Church on Monday evening. The speaker was the Rev. Mr. Sewell, executive secretary of the Boston 1915 movement. He spoke of the movement in relation to charitable, social, business, educational and other interests, and described the campaign arranged for the fall, which is expected to awaken interest not only in Boston but in the more than 30 surrounding cities and towns. The audience though small was appreciative and responsive to the speaker's enthusiasm. Mr. Sewell said he supposed Newton had no housing problem, but there were those in the audience who know that we have such problems, demanding prompt and careful attention.

CAMP ALCONQUIN

The Place to Send Your Boys is the oldest camp now existing and has been under one management during the twenty-four years since its foundation. Consequently it has an equipment adapted to the needs of a safe, healthy, well conducted camp.

The following unsolicited letter written by one of the parents speaks for itself. Mr. DeMerritte can show plenty of others, of the same tenor.

Mr. Edwin DeMerritte:
Dear Sir:—Last summer was the best summer of Walter's life, and the good times he had and the fine results of his camp life I very much appreciate. His vacation in camp Algonquin was something more than a vacation. It was educational in as much as the impression it left is of the lasting quality of clean and wholesome pleasure and study that tends so much to build up a boy in the right minded way, and for this I thank you. Certainly your camp does much in the right way for boys.

Sincerely yours,
H. J. White.

CONCERT

An especially interesting program will be given tomorrow evening at the band concert of the Newton Boat Club.

The Boston Philharmonic Orchestra (club has been enlarged for this special occasion.

MAN STABBED.

KORBEL—ROBINSON.

The wedding of Miss Jane Elizabeth Robinson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Robinson, to Mr. Arthur J. O. Korbel of Los Angeles, Cal., took place Wednesday evening at the home of the bride, 139 Hancock street, Auburndale, which was decorated with asparagus fern, Queen Alexandra marguerites and white roses. The ceremony took place at 8:30 o'clock, under a bower of palms and spirea, by Rev. Thatcher R. Kimball, pastor of the Epiphany Church of Worcester. The bride wore an imported Princess lace robe over white chiffon and silk, heavily embroidered with cut steel and pearls. She wore an old white silk veil of real lace and gloves embroidered to match her gown, and carried a bouquet of marguerites. Miss Olive M. Robinson, her sister, was maid of honor and wore white chiffon over white silk, trimmed with moss roses, pearl necklace and white slippers. While Miss Erle J. Sweeney of Dorchester, the bridesmaid, wore white acordon plaited silk trimmed with cream mesh and real lace. Mr. F. D. Y. Robinson of Boston, brother of the bride, was the best man, and Messrs. John O. E. Johnson of Malden, Howard T. Sweeney and Arthur E. Sanford of Dorchester, were the ushers.

A reception followed until 10 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Korbel being assisted in receiving their friends by Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Nellie N. Sweeney and the bride's party. The gift of the groom was a gold bracelet set with diamonds, a pearl and diamond necklace set with black opal and the other gifts were numerous and costly, coming from all parts of the country, as the bride has travelled extensively. Mr. and Mrs. Korbel will reside at Los Angeles, Cal., where they will be at home after Nov. 1.

Newton Centre

—Mr. Adams Rice is seriously ill at his home on Summer street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harris are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son last Saturday.

—Mr. Leslie Woodman is again at his home on Center street after spending the winter months in Florida.

—Mr. and Mrs. Stahl of Parker street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son last Saturday.

—Children's Day will be observed at the Baptist Church next Sunday, and will include the graduating exercises of the Sunday School. The program included anthems by the quartet and Junior chorus, exercises by the primary department, baptism, presentation of Bibles and diplomas to primary graduates, and remarks by Rev. George R. Hovey D. D. of Richmond, Va., and the pastor.

—Two women escaped serious injury in an automobile accident Wednesday, although the machine was somewhat damaged. The car was owned by Mr. Edward B. Bowen of Newton Centre and was being driven by his chauffeur. The passengers were Mrs. Bowen and a friend. On Church street the chauffeur swerved his car to avoid running down a bicycle rider and crashed into a tree. Both the women were thrown out but escaped with bruises.

—Despite the inclement weather a successful lawn party was held Tuesday on the grounds of the Congregational church. The affair was under the direction of the ladies of the parish and Mrs. A. L. Harwood was chairman of the committee of arrangements. In 1914 the church will celebrate its 250th anniversary and it is the intention to install before that time a large memorial window, which will undoubtedly be a tribute to the ten pastors that the church has known.

—Sheep are most persistent gamblers, though they are constantly being fleeced.

RED LETTER DAY.

Wednesday, June 8, was a red letter day for the Newton Parliamentary Law and Debating Club, it being the day selected for the annual outing of the club.

Members and guests to the number of 20 left Nonantum square for arolley trip to historical old town of Bedford.

Surely the weather man smiled on us for a "rare day in June" was evident everywhere and the country in its most beautiful garb.

A good dinner at the Bedford House was enjoyed by all soon after arrival after which the ladies assembled on the spacious verandah of the hotel and led by the president of the club, Miss Eunice J. Simpson, indulged in literary games until time to be photographed before starting on the return trip.

Our homeward journey was broken by a stop-over at beautiful Lexington Park, where the many attractions claimed our close attention for an hour and a half.

We were honored by the presence of our parliamentary leader, Mrs. E. M. Sherman, also by one gentleman guest, Mr. Levi L. Tower, whose daughter, Mrs. William H. Bliss, was president of our club last year.

Too much cannot be said for the Newton Street Railway Company, who allowed us the use of their luxurious parlor car and sent such efficient men; Inspector, conductor and motor-man, whose kindness and courtesy contributed greatly to the comfort and pleasure of our outing.

YOUNG MUSICIANS.

There was a large attendance of parents and friends last Saturday at the musical afternoon given in the New Church parlors, Newtonville, by pupils Miss Douglas and Miss Rogers. Those taking part were Elizabeth Thurgood, Corneille M. McIntosh, Susanne C. Dunleavy, Florence I. Bernard, Penelope T. Rowland, Raymond Bernard, Marion H. Duff, Richard D. Leonard, William F. Keeler, H. Louise McIntosh, Sylvia M. Chute, Hazel F. Cunningham, Helen W. Strong, Gladys Keesler, Gladys Wilson and Carleton Smith. The ease and facility manifested by the children and the progress they had made in mastering the rudiments of music was especially noticeable. Mr. John Hermann Loud added much to the enjoyment of the afternoon with several piano solos.

LASELL.

Lasell Seminary at Auburndale held its 55th commencement exercises the past week and presented its always interesting program.

On Saturday evening the annual senior class reception attracted a large number. The parlors were beautifully decorated with ferns, palms and flowers and an orchestra furnished music. In the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. Guy M. Winslow, Prof. C. C. Bagdon, the predecessor to Dr. Winslow as principal, and Mrs. Bragdon and Miss Mildred Goodall, the president of the class.

There was a large audience present at the Auburndale Congregational church on Sunday morning for the baccalaureate sermon, including the senior class, all in caps and gowns, and who occupied the front seats with the faculty. Rev. W. C. Gordon, D.D. pastor of the church was in charge and the program included, prayer and scripture reading by Rev. Chas. E. Spaulding, pastor of the Centenary church, and the sermon by Bishop William F. Anderson, I.L.D., of Chattanooga, Tenn.

On Sunday evening commencement vespers were held at the Seminary in charge of Rev. Dr. Gordon.

The class day on Monday was unusually jolly, and the school grounds were beautifully decorated with colored lights and banners, the class colors of blue and gold being displayed in many places, while electric signs gave the class numerals from the trees and buildings. The program began in the gymnasium, with address of welcome by the class president, Miss Mildred V. Goodall, and the roll call was given by Miss Julia M. TerKulle. The class history by Miss Martha R. Hazelet was much enjoyed, and under the title of "A Piece of Tapestry" wove into the fanciful fabric, the life of each of the senior class. Miss Mary S. Lumber read the last will and testament of the class and some of its homages were quite funny. The class prophecy by Miss Ella A. Puchta was illustrated with stereoscopic views. Miss E. Mildred Snyder then presented the class gift to the school. It took the form of a handsome wrought iron lamp, to be placed on the entrance pillar at the east gate. The lamp was three arms, and is surmounted by the class numerals.

After this the audience filed to the campus where headed by a band the seniors formed in line, bearing flaming torches, and marched to Karandon, one of the senior houses, where a speech of farewell was given by Miss Julia B. Hamilton. In like manner Pickard house, the other senior dormitory, was bidden goodbye by Miss Tot McLean. Miss Reva L. Berman delivered "The Place of Dreams" and the scene then shifted to the bonfire on the campus in front of the main building where the annual sacrificial rites were carried out.

The seniors formed in a circle, lit by the flickering torch lights and the leaping flames of the fire, and listened to "The Sacrifice" by Miss Marion L. Hale. Then each girl in turn stepped forward and cast some cherished or hated object into the flames, accompanying the act with a suitable quotation or verse. Books, souvenirs and various tokens went into the fire while the girls circled about and gave the class yell. This was an innovation from the ones of former classes for it was given in the form of a yell. This was given until the fire died down.

The graduating exercises on Tuesday were held in the Congregational church before a large audience, where the decorations were yellow daisies and corn flowers, to represent the class colors. Prof. H. M. Dunham was the organist and S. E. Goldstein the violinist.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Charles F. Rice of Newton and the address to the graduating class was made by Rev. George A. Gordon, D.D. of Boston.

Miss L. P. Potter, preceptress of the school, called the class roll and each girl, as her name was called, stepped forward and received a diploma from Dr. Guy M. Winslow, the principal. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. F. N. Peloubet of Auburndale.

From the church the students returned to the campus where they sang their class songs for the last time in the "crow's nest". Following luncheon the annual gathering of alumnae and "old girls" was held, the social hour being largely attended.

The officers of the senior class are: Mildred V. Goodall, pres, Edyth M. Snyder, vice pres, Martha R. Hazelet sec, Marion L. Hale treas, Lucy A. Aldrich sergt at arms. The honorary members of the class is Jacob A. Rills.

THEATRES

Castle Square Theatre—The season of the John Craig Stock Company will end next week with a special double entertainment. Opening the program will come the merry farce in three acts, "Mrs. Temple's Telegram." It is a sprightly play in which there is an abundance of fun without any taint of impropriety or any element of offence. The double bill will have for its second part Sheridan's farce "The Critic," in which Mr. Craig made a hit some seasons ago during his management of another Boston theatre. This play will give the actors a chance for the liveliest and most novel of fun-making, and it will certainly be a pleasure to the audience to hear Mr. Craig, Miss Young, Miss Binley, Mr. Meek, Mr. Hassell addressed by their own names and in their own persons behind the footlights.

A week from Monday, June 20, the summer opera season opens at the Castle Square, with "The Mikado" as the opening piece.

Boston Opera House—The third week of the Aborn Comic Opera Company's run at the Boston Opera House, beginning Monday, night, June 15, will bring the first revival of later comic opera successes, "Mlle. Modiste," being the offering for the usual eight performances. The title part of Mlle. Fili will be assumed by Ada Meade, one of the latest and most important recruits to the Aborn aggregation. Others who will have their former roles are Josephine Bartlett as Mme. Coud, Frank Beresford as General Villefranche and Bertha Holley as Mrs. Bent from Kokuk, Ia. The three leading male comedy characters will be interpreted by Robinson Newbold as Hiram Bent, the eccentric American millionaire; Leo Herbert White as Gatson, with his laughable idiosyncrasies in the French dialect, and George O'Donnell in the role of De Bourviay, with his memorable song, "I Want What I Want When I Want It."

Keith's Theatre—There has been nobody on the stage in recent years who has attracted more attention and caused more widespread comment than Madam Chung, the little Chinese actress who is appearing at Keith's in Lole Fuller's remarkable production, "The Dragons of Wrath." Madam Chung is petite, typically Chinese and has several dramatic scenes that show she is a born actress. "The Dragons of Wrath" is the most pretentious feature ever offered in vaudeville, and has no less than 18 different features, or numbers, including the beautiful European dancers, the wonderful light effects including the Magic Veil, which has never before been seen in this country; Chinese women with small feet, and a host of other novelties. Other features of the bill will be Augusta Gliese, the famous entertainer who gives impersonations of store models; Bert Leslie and his company in the slang classic, "Hogan in Society"; Wynne and Lee with their quick fire comedy; Melrose and Kennedy, the knockabout comedians; Cross and Josephine in songs and dances; and Galloway, the famous cartoonist from "Puck."

Tremont Theatre—"The Girl in the Taxi," with Carter De Haven and its all-star cast of notable players, enters upon its second great month of laughing success at the Tremont Theatre, Boston. Its triumph has been complete from the initial performance five weeks ago and audiences limited only by the capacity of the playhouse have been the rule. As Boston will be the only city in New England where this exultantly funny entertainment will be presented at any time it is suggested that all lovers of the delightful and amusing live comedy offerings do not fail to pay a visit to this most diverting of French farces. "The Girl in the Taxi" may truthfully be recommended as the funniest play Boston has ever seen and the sensation it created in Paris, Berlin and during its 20 weeks in Chicago is being repeated at the Tremont Theatre, Boston.

"PARAGON PARK."

Manager George A. Dodge has prepared an elaborate program for the gala opening of the sixth successful season of "Paragon Park" and the Palm Garden at Nantasket Beach next Saturday, June 11. One of the most distinctive new features will be a new statutory fountain which rises majestically from the centre of the lagoon. The Maritime Military Concert Band, conducted by Mace Gay, will play in the band stand on the lagoon from 2:30 to 5:30 and 7 to 10 daily.

In the Palm Garden Szmarny's Viennese Orchestra, assisted by the Paragon Male Quartet, will entertain the guests. Manager Dodge will surpass all his previous efforts in the way of a fireworks display on the opening night. The array of free circus acts is more imposing than ever. For the opening day and first week there will be Speedy in his wonderful high dives, the Stanleys in marvellous feats of strength, La Diva Venus, said to be the most perfectly formed woman in America, in an exhibition of diving grace and nautical skill; Lemon, who slides down a wire from the top of the electric tower, hanging by his teeth and enveloped in scintillating flames, and drops into the lagoon in the nick of time; and Aroza, who makes daily balloon ascensions with a marvellous triple parachute drop.

MOUNT IDA SCHOOL.

The exercises which filled the closing days of the school year at Mount Ida School began with the baccalaureate services May 29. The services were held at the Elliot Congregational Church, where the sermon to the graduating class was preached by the pastor, Rev. H. Grant Person. His subject was "Visions and Tasks."

On Monday evening, at Mount Ida was given the closing recital by the pupils of the music department of the school. The program was made up of piano solos, vocal solos, trios, selections by a semi-chorus, as well as by the well trained Glee Club, and solos and a quartet by the violin pupils.

Tuesday was class day. At 3 o'clock in the gymnasium the members of the graduating class presented a clever little farce entitled "By Candlelight." The play was largely composed of local hits and grinds on the girls. Following the merry exercises in the gymnasium came the planting of the class ivy on the lawn, and the singing of the ivy song. The 14 members of the class marched out of the gymnasium carrying their daisy chain which they held as, grouped together they sang their song while their president, Miss Margaret Wood of Bangor, planted the ivy. The ceremony was especially pretty, and carried out with great dignity. At the close of the ivy song the class formed the figures 1910 on the lawn with the daisy chain. For an hour following the ivy exercises the seniors, the members of last year's graduating class, many other former members of the school and the remaining classes vied with each other in singing class songs and giving class yells mingled with the various sounds of clappers, bells, tambourine or whistles—the various symbols of the different classes.

In the evening the members of the class of 1910 presented at the Hunsell Club "The Adventure of the Lady Ursula," a comedy by Anthony Hope. The play was given with a finish that is seldom attained in amateur theatricals. Miss Margaret Wood and Miss Florence Ferguson took the leading parts of Sir George Sylvester and Lady Ursula, and other members of the class gave them strong and successful support in the remaining roles. The class had been splendidly trained for the play by Miss Bertha Everett Morgan, the head of the department of elocution, at Mount Ida School. An enthusiastic audience was warm in the praises of the work done by both students and teacher. Below follows the complete cast of the play: Sir George Sylvester, Margaret Wood; The Earl of Hassenden, Elizabeth Spring; The Rev. Mr. Blimboe, Marion Mason; Mr. Dent, Margarette Webster; Mr. Castleton, Edith Kingman; Sir Robert Clifford, Mary Saylor; Mr. Ward, Florence Barker; Mr. Devereaux, Mary Louise Chamberlin; Quilton, Stella Shepard; Mills, Lola Grinnell; Miss Dorothy Fenton, Alice Dudley; Mrs. Fenton, Elsie Almline; The Lady Ursula, Barrington.

The following day was commencement day. In the morning the Alumni Association held its regular meeting at Mount Ida School, when reports were made of the work undertaken by the association during the past year, and plans made for the coming year. Officers for the coming year were also chosen. Succeeding the meeting came the regular yearly luncheon of the association, held at the Parker House. Mrs. Abigail Fay Jewett, the president of the school, and Miss Rowley, the principal, were guests of honor.

ROSS—BROWN.

The marriage of Mr. Joseph B. Ross of Cambridge, the popular cashier of the West Newton National Bank, to Miss Ethel Walcott Brown, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Brown of North Cambridge, took place on Wednesday evening at the Third Universalist Church of Cambridge. The ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock by Rev. F. W. Hamilton, D.D. The bride, who wore white satin with pearl trimmings, was accompanied by Miss Martha E. Russell of West Somerville as maid of honor, wearing yellow mexasine. Mr. Alfred B. Maddox of Cambridge was the best man and the guests were seated by these ushers: Messrs. M. J. Brown of West Somerville, Keith C. Brown of Cambridge, Roland F. Gammons, 2nd, and J. Ellis Gammons of West Newton.

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Ross being assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brown, Mrs. James A. Ross, Miss Florence B. Ross and the maid of honor and best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross will reside at 15 Cross street, West Newton, where they will be at home on Fridays during July.

GRAPHIC ADS BRING RETURNS*A GOOD EXAMPLE

The following article descriptive of the Boston Elevated and its relations with the public and its employees appeared in the recent New England Industrial number of Harper's Weekly:

When any one undertakes to point out what a street railway system ought to be, and searches among the existing street railway companies for the best example that can be found, it is much more than an even chance that the selection will fall upon the Boston Elevated Railway Company, that operates all of the elevated and underground lines and most of the surface lines in Boston and vicinity.

In extent of service, rate of fare, honesty of capitalization, and public policy, it is usually found at or near the head of every list made up on the basis of merit.

The system includes 460 miles of track used for surface cars, and 24 miles of track used for elevated trains. There are three subways or tunnels, and between nine and ten miles of elevated structure now in operation. Surface, underground and overhead lines are all operated as a part of one system, and free transfers are given to enable a passenger to continue his trip in the same general direction within a territory of about one hundred and twenty-five square miles. It is possible to ride a distance of nearly 20 miles for five cents.

The capitalization of both the Elevated Company and the West End Street Railway Company, that owns most of the surface lines operated by the Elevated Company under a lease, not only contains no watered stock, but is actually less by several million dollars than the money that has been paid in by the stockholders and invested in the property. The company has never attempted to pay large dividends. It has been the policy to keep the corporation in such sound financial condition that capital could be secured at low rates on account of the safety of investment.

Last year the company carried 281,000,000 revenue passengers and about 160,000,000 free transfer passengers, making a total of 447,000,000. It has about 3500 surface and elevated cars, and over 8000 employees. The bureau of operation is in charge of Mr. Charles S. Sergeant, vice-president, who is recognized as one of the ablest street railway managers in the country.

The company not only pays its men good wages, but it does many other things for their benefit. Within the last seven years it has voluntarily increased the wages of its car service men three times, although no dissatisfaction had been expressed or any request for an increase made by the men. It was the first company to adopt the principle of an increasing rate of wages for continuous employment and a pension system for its incapacitated car service men. Good service is recognized at the end of each year by giving to each man who has been in the car service for more than six months, and whose record is reasonably satisfactory, a substantial reward in addition to his regular wages. Last year rewards were paid in sums of $20 and $25 to about 3500 men, and the sum distributed among them amounted to nearly $75,000.

The total earnings last year amounted to about $14,500,000. Of this sum about one-eighth was paid to the public in the form of taxes, expenditures for public benefit, for the use of streets, and for rentals of underground lines. Since the elevated lines owned by the company were opened for operation, none of the revenue of the company has been used to increase dividends. About $7,500,000 has been paid to stockholders in dividends, and about $17,500,000 has been paid to the public.

GOOD CHEER CAMP.

Good Cheer Camp, the Sunshine Vacation Camp for Massachusetts girls with small means, was so successfully carried on last year that it will have a permanent feature of the sunshine work in Massachusetts.

The camp is at Silver Lake, Wilmington, among the pines. The girls enjoy boating, bathing, picnics, walking, etc., besides croquet, volley ball and many other games on the camp grounds.

Each girl must furnish references, for as far as possible, it is the aim of those in charge to have parents feel that their daughters are in the best of company while at the camp. Any information will be gladly given by Mrs. Emory F. Bennett, camp mother, 68 Orchard street, Malden, Mass.; Mrs. Ellen Shepard, treasurer, Massachusetts Division of the International Sunshine Society, 12 Haviland street, Boston.

HARRINGTON—MOORE.

Miss Elta Gertrude Harrington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Harrington of 267 Church street, Newton, and Walter Moore, also of this city, were married at noon Saturday, June 4, at the home of the bride's parents. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Margaret C. Morse, and Harold Moore, brother of the groom, was best man.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Albert Hammatt, pastor of the Universalist Church at Newtonville, the double ring service being used. The bride's party stood under a floral wedding veil. The house was very prettily decorated with ferns, palms and field daisies. The wedding march was played by the organist, Miss Helen Hall, who also continued to play appropriate music as an accompaniment through the entire marriage service.

There were many beautiful presents of silver, cut glass and table linen. Mr. and Mrs. Moore are to reside in New York, where Mr. Moore is engaged in business.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Metcalf quietly observed the 50th anniversary of their wedding last Monday afternoon with a delightful musical at their home on Highland street, West Newton. The guests were members of their family and a few old friends and an enjoyable program was given by the Schubert Quartet, Miss Love Hewins, soprano, and Mr. Charles A. Clark, organist.

Mr. Metcalf is one of the best known citizens of Newton, having been associated with the Denison Manufacturing Company from 1862 until he retired a few years ago. He was born in West Wrentham, Mr. Metcalf married Miss Mary Caroline Routledge, June 6, 1860, at Roxbury, and they have made West Newton their home for the past 28 years. They have three children—Mr. Edward R. Metcalf of Denver, Col.; Elizabeth Freeman, the wife of Alderman Robert W. Williamson, and Mary Palmer, the wife of Mr. James A. Neal of West Newton.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME.

It is very probable that the Legislature will be prorogued within the next few days, unless the proposed investigating committee on conditions
at the Lyman School are ordered to report to this General Court. The matter has aroused considerable attention from the recent suicide of a 14-year-old boy at that institution.Governor Draper has honored this city again in his selection of ex-Representative James A. Lowell of Chestnut Hill as chairman of the newly organized commission to consider the workmen's compensation law. Mr.
Lowell ought to make good in that position.Representative Ellis took part in the debate on Wednesday on the bill
for appropriations for the Amherst Agricultural College, of which he is trustee. The opposition to the appropriation came over the item of $24,500 for an athletic field. Members of the Ways and Means committee
of last year state that the appropriation for that year, while cut down from the amount requested, was intended to include this athletic field.
The act was worded, however, so that the amount could be used for an athletic field "or other purposes," and as the amount was not deemed large enough by the trustees, they used the money for "other purposes" and came down this year for the athletic field.
The motion to strike out the item was lost by a narrow margin and the whole appropriation was authorized by the House.The Elevated bill to hold stock in other street railway companies will be considered by the Railroad and Transit Commission this summer and reported back to the House next year.All our representatives voted against the bill to allow the inspection of safe deposit boxes of deceased persons by representatives of the state, and it was defeated. Mr. White again voted against the bill to tax deposits in the savings bank departments of trust companies, and Mr.
Bothfield and Mr. Ellis voted for the bill, which was passed by the House.The Berkshire bill was finally passed by the House on Monday, our representatives taking the same stand
as last week. Mr. Bothfield and Mr.
Ellis in favor, and Mr. White opposed. On two similar bills for other companies, our representatives divided the same way, but one was passed by the House, while the other was defeated. Our representatives voted solidly against the bill to provide punishment for making false returns
to the railroad commissioners, altho they were in the minority. Mr. Both-field and Ellis voted in favor of reconsidering the engagement of a resolve relative to investigation of holding companies for street railway, gas and electric light business, and Mr.
White was opposed. On the passage of the resolve after reconsideration,
Mr. Ellis voted in favor while Mr.
Bothfield and Mr. White were opposed. All three were opposed to the substitution of the Saunders amendment to the bill relative to transportation of milk, but were in a sad minority on the question.Senator Mulligan voted against the Tinkham bill relative to requiring a permit of inspection before milk
could be sold in Boston. The bill appears to be a most reasonable one from the standpoint of the consumer and the Senator was fortunately in a minority on the matter.The bill for a $25,000 bath house in Somerville, chargeable to the Metropolitan district, was fortunately defeated after the Senate Ways and Means committee had reported adversely. This bill opened up a most unfortunate condition of affairs when judged from a Newton standpoint. It probably means that improvements in the Metropolitan district of a local nature will undoubtedly meet with the combined opposition of the remainder of the district which bears a portion of the expense. With the large amount of undeveloped Metropolitan area in Newton, such a condition may work a distinct injustice to this city. I do not believe a matter like a bath house would ever be proposed by the city of Newton at Metropolitan expense, but if a worthy project should be urged by the city, there is no telling how far the opposition might go in its methods.
The need of a stronger government for the Metropolitan district is becoming more important every day.
J. C. BUMBLECOM.

ALDERMEN

Long debates on comparatively unimportant matters prolonged the regular meeting of the aldermen until 11 o'clock. Almost every member of the board discussed either the number of life preservers to be required on two small power boats running on the Charles River, or the order requiring holders of sixth-class liquor licenses to appear before a committee and show cause why they should be allowed to continue to hold such licenses. In addition, the board had over 40 different matters assigned for hearing, most of them on petitions of the Telephone or Electric Light Co.President Jones was in the chair
and Aldermen Avery, Blakemore, Burr, Chadbourne, Cox, Doherty,
Hull, Higgins, Lyons, Moore, Stone, Sullivan, Towle, Underwood, Williamson and Woods were also present.No one appeared at hearings on petitions of the Telephone Co. for underground conduits on Thornton
street, for poles on Braeland avenue, Dexter road, for attachments on Forest avenue, Bristol road, Cottage street, Kimball terrace, Dexter road, Elm road, Lowell avenue, of the Edison Co. for poles on Loring street, Putnam street, Highland street, Chesnut street, Felton street, Mt. Vernon street, Lowell avenue, Harvard street,
Lewis terrace, Washington street,
Centre place, Suffolk road, Washington street, Walnut street, for attachments on Washington and Harvard streets, and on petitions for gasoline licenses of S. E. Blanchard, Lenox street; C. L. Berry, Cherry street; F. W. Dorr, Lake avenue; Gannon Bros., J. E. Rockwood, Beacon street, Mayor Hatfield, Cherry street; C. H. Lee, Essex road; C. M.
Goddard, Beacon street; C. G. New-comb, Ashmont avenue; J. E. Pushee, Pine street; E. F. Woods, Berkeley street, and on orders for concrete sidewalks under the betterment act on Rockledge and Woodcliff roads.On petition for telephone poles in Newtonville, Mr. H. S. Allen for the company stated:
The company has found it necessary to petition for these poles for the purpose of finding a proper method of distribution to reach the subscribers in that locality. We expect within the near future that the Highway Commission will determine what rates will be charged our subscribers and when that is done we will find ourselves in a position where we will have to serve them under a new rate and this whole territory now served in Newton North will be connected with Newton West and to connect them it will be necessary to have these three poles.Objections were made by Alderman Higgins and by Mr. H. E. Duncan and
C. E. Washburn.
On the petitions of the Edison Co.
for poles at the railroad bridges, Mr.
E. A. Haskell for the B. & A. railroad stated that his company took the position that no one has the authority to grant permission to cross their tracks with wires. Mr. Howard for the Edison Co. stated that he did not believe his company intended to do so.On the petition of C. B. Wilbur et al. for extension of ordinance requiring removal of snow from paved sidewalks, to precincts one and two, Ward six, Mr. Wilbur said: We are asking for nothing new, we simply want extended to Newton Centre the same regulation which has been enforced for a number of years in other sections of the city and which has met with the entire approval of the citizens in these sections. This petition if granted will improve conditions, seems almost too evident to need argument. At least, it does to us who strongly urge its adoption.
That winter conditions are well-nigh intolerable we all know. Even the principal streets have been neglected
and the walks have been allowed to accumulate snow and slush and there it remains until it melts. Now it is not our object to do away with the snow plow. It serves a useful purpose and we wish to have it retained.
The accumulation of snow and slush
is something that I have never seen duplicated in any other city in which I have lived. It seems wrong that a city so well cared for should allow such a condition. Each winter has found but slight improvement. Several of us have tried to arouse public sentiment to get this work done without calling upon the law but the result has been only partially successful and in the main unsatisfactory. Now it seems to me what is needed is co-operation. I know a great many citizens who do shovel off
the walks and I know a good many more who do not and it has seemed to us that the only way to affect this is to ask you honorable board to extend this section to cover Precincts 1 and 2 of Ward 6, which is the largest part of Newton Centre.

ADD ALDERMEN
Mr. M. E. Cobb said: Last winter was an exceptional one and for two or three winters previous the expense
for shovelling would have been very slight indeed. Two years ago there was hardly a storm which required much more than a snowplow. We are all perfectly willing to shovel our walks, but I guess we have some tight-wads on our street. Some other people do not see things our way and it is very distressing even to them
because they have to climb through the snow and slush as we do and I heartily concur and urge the board
to push this through and adopt it as a law.Mr. C. E. Kelsey said: We have some good sidewalks that the board has given to us and we ought to have more sidewalks and better sidewalks. Our sidewalks are of very little use if there is a foot of snow
on them. I am very heartily in favor of this and think the other people are. It is very disagreeable if we have half clear and the other half covered up. We have slippery sidewalks and the city spends some money in sanding them and if the snow was all cleared off we would not have to do much of this. The city is doing its share in trying to remove the snow and now only the action of the board is needed to call the attention of the persons there to clear off their sidewalks and make a sidewalk fit to use.Mr. A. E. Alvord said: I am in favor of this petition largely because I think this compulsory order would contribute to my comfort. I am one of those who shovel off my sidewalk,
but what am I to do if my neighbors
on either side do not do the same thing? From a real estate standpoint this would be desirable. I think anything that contributes to the well being and good order of a community will help real estate and I think the few cases of real hardship are more than offset by the general benefits.On the matter of laying out of apor-tion of Floral street as a public street objection was made by Mr. Curtin
Smith for Miss Ellen Lane. Mr.
Smith's argument was to the effect that because Miss Lane's land taken for the widening of Boylston street
and the abolition of grade crossings
was below grade.Mayor Hatfield sent in a communication recommending the printing of a new edition of the Revised Ordinances, and submitted a letter of the city solicitor relative to condition of Crystal Lake. A hearing was granted
Mr. W. M. Noble on the latter matter.Alderman Lyons drew the names of W. H. Hayes, Lowell avenue; John H. Jack, Prospect street; Albert G.
Seavey, Page road, and Lewis F.
Eaton, Oxford road, as jurors for East Cambridge, beginning June 13.Petitions of A. Goodman for wagon license, C. H. Keefe for wagon license, James J. Maher for minor's license, Masten & Wells Fireworks Manufacturing Company and W. T.
Kealey to manufacture fireworks, the Telephone Co. to remove five poles from Elm road, and of John S. Stone to apportion betterment assessment
on Washburn avenue were granted.These petitions were also received:
John Johnson to prevent water from Langley road from flooding his premises, E. W. Keyes for sixth-class liquor license, H. F. Kinchla for a minor's license, Boston & Worcester Street Railway Company for authority to act as a common carrier, Metropolitan Park Commission to lay conduits in Commonwealth avenue.Charles E. F. Hayward claiming $200 for personal injuries, Louis Feldman
for license for moving picture show in Lafayette Hall, W. M. Noble for gasoline license, Bracebridge road;
Cahill et al. Boylston street; W. H.
Brown, Islington road, and V. E. Carpenter, Waltham street, for street
sprinkling, and the Gas Light Co.
to lay gas pipes in River, Mechanic,
Washington, Cherry, Boylston, Elliot,
Greenough streets, Burnham road and Forest avenue.On recommendation of committees,
P. J. E. Lacroix was given leave to withdraw on petition for a sixth-class liquor license, the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company was granted location for spur track
on Walnut street, the Telephone Co.
was granted attachments on Nevada
street, Forest avenue, Dedham street, Walnut street, pole locations on Henshaw street, River street, Woodbine street, Needham street, the Edison Company was granted pole locations on Rutland road, Forest avenue and Centre street, and leave to withdraw was granted the Telephone Co. for attachments on Arlington street, pole locations on Cross street, and to the Edison Co. for poles on Arlington street. C. H. Milliken was granted permit to locate a five horsepower gas engine on Prospect street. The action of the board in granting the Telephone Co. leave to withdraw on pole locations on Waverley avenuewas rescinded and the petition granted.The recommendation of the license committee that Young & Thompson,
granted license to operate two power
boats on the Charles River, be limited to 25 passengers to each boat and be required to carry on each boat at least eight regulation life preservers aroused a long debate.Orders were passed for observance of June 17, for observance of July 4, to allow fireworks on July 4, to authorize the city clerk to issue licenses to sell fireworks, to prohibit discharge of fireworks before 4 a.
m. on July 4 authorizing perambula-
tion of boundary line with Watertown,
for concrete sidewalks under betterment act on Rockledge and Wood-cliff roads, and granting the Edison
Co. pole locations at the various railroad bridges for street lighting purposes.On recommendation of the license committee the licenses granted
Young & Thompson to operate power boats on the Charles River were restricted to 25 passengers each and to carry eight regulation life preservers
and at least 17 sections of cork seat cushions. There was a long debate over this matter, Alderman Cox maintaining that it was unjust to require the licensees to go to large expense for new seat cushions. His amendment to strike out this restriction was defeated and the order passed as recommended.Considerable debate followed Alderman Doherty's order that all holders of sixth-class liquor licenses should be ordered to appear before the license committee before June 20 and show cause why they should be allowed to continue to hold such licenses. Alderman Doherty stated that he believed a thorough investigation
should be made of the druggist liquor business all over the city and that Nontium should not be singled out for more and scrutiny by the police.
The alderman hinted that reports received by the committee showed that other druggists needed investigation
and he believed they all ought to be summoned before the committee. After considerable debate the order was defeated.The board adjourned at 10:50 o'clock.

PUBLIC MEETING.

The Nontium Improvement Association held a largely attended public meeting in Stearns' School Hall, Wednesday evening, at which interesting speeches were made by Judge Kennedy, Rev. H. E. Oxnard, Mr. William
Price of the Newtonville Association,
Mr. E. H. Squire of the Abundant Association, Mr. E. O. Childs, Jr., Mr.
H. J. Kellaway, Alderman Doherty,
Rev. Father Kelly, President James
S. Cannon and Secretary M. S. Per-muter. An enjoyable musical program was given by Joseph Antonelli
and Frank Martini in solos and duets
and Mr. Louis Tabaldi at the piano.

OFFICER PUNISHED.

Mayor Hatfield gave a hearing Saturday morning to Patrolman John B.
Champion on charges preferred by John H. Somerville. It appeared from testimony that Champion entered the signal tower at Riverside on the previous Sunday evening, where Somerville is employed as chief tower man.
It is said that Somerville made some disparaging remarks about Mrs.
Champion, which the officer resented by knocking him down. Champion claimed that he merely pushed Somerville over. The Mayor withheld his decision until Wednesday, when he ordered Champion laid off duty for 30 days.Crawford House

and only then, will the restless American home cease to be a by-word among the nations. Then only will the American woman fully realize her beautifully phrased constitutional right to "Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

A delicious luncheon was served to a very large number of delegates under the direction of the hostesses.

The concluding session was called for 1.45 P. M. and the last group of department reports included those from the Legislative, Civics, Forestry and Civil Service Reform committees; abstracts of these will be found in another column.

Three new clubs were presented, Study Club of Wilbraham, Woman's Club of Fall River, and Taunton Woman's Club. Judging from the words of their representatives they will be valuable acquisitions to the Federation both in zeal and in active co-operation. After a few words from the newly elected officers, a vote of thanks and appreciation to the hostesses and a stimulating final word from Miss Bacon, the eighteenth annual meeting was declared adjourned.

As a delightful close to the whole convention some forty automobiles were at the disposal of the delegates and those who were so fortunate as to secure seats enjoyed a delightful spin along the North Shore to Marblehead, returning in time for a cup of tea at the club house before leaving for home.

REPORT OF CLERK

The Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs has completed seventeen years of organization and today holds its eighteenth annual meeting. There have been two meetings the past year, one in Brockton and one in Boston, and two conferences, the first in October as guests of the Dorchester Woman's Club in their club house, to which members of standing committees that corresponded with the Federation committees were invited, together with the presidents. The subject for discussion was "How can we adapt the work of the Federation to Local Needs." The second conference was held in March, in Arlington, by invitation of the Arlington Woman's Club. The subject for this conference was, "Club Methods."

The Executive Board has held nine meetings, with an average attendance of eighteen members in a possible twenty-five.

In February the officers and chairmen of standing committees of the State Federations of the New England States were invited to a conference in Boston. There were 27 from other states than Mass. present. Four subjects were discussed: Forestry, Pure and Clean Milk, Health and Child Labor. At the close of the conference a plan for co-operative work in the New England States was adopted.

Of the 246 questions sent out relative to the Department of Work of the Federation, one hundred and fifty were returned unanswered, but with a letter of explanation or with no comment.

ment. This is a gain in numbers, but a greater gain in the detail in which the questions were answered. Civics leads as formerly, followed by Household Economics, Literature, Legislative and Art.

The answers show a very hopeful spirit of co-operation with local town or city officials, and with organizations doing a specific work, such as Anti-Tuberculosis Societies, Village Improvement Associations, Home and School or Parents Associations, and the initiatory introduction of stamp savings and industrial training in the schools, and then putting them into the school committees hands to continue.

The keynote of the year has been conference. These have been presided over by departments, small groups and districts. To this method of seeking expert advice and the discussion that follows may we attribute in a great measure, the very intelligent and satisfactory work the clubs have done this year. The year has been one of great promise and helpfulness, and the Federation has every reason to anticipate that the following year will bring very definite results.

Effie S. Nowers, Clerk.

REPORT OF CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

During the year six clubs have applied for membership in the Federation: namely, the Gardner Woman's Club, the Ladies' Unity Club of Boston, the Thursday Morning Club of Springfield, the Study Club of Wilbraham, the Fall River Woman's Club and the Taunton Woman's Club. One club, the Northampton Study Club of Dedham, has disbanded.

The Federation now includes 248 clubs with a membership of 40,116.

GRACE VOSE HIBBARD,
Corresponding Secretary.

REPORT OF GENERAL FEDERATION STATE SECRETARY

Massachusetts has now 83 clubs holding direct membership in the General Federation. During the year one club, belonging both to the State Federation and the General Federation, has disbanded. Five clubs have been reported as withdrawing from the General Federation.

As all these clubs withdrew on account of dues, the General Federation State Secretary strongly recommends that the clubs so change their constitutions as to add to their regular club dues ten cents each for the General Federation dues, making them as was intended, really per capita dues.

Sara T. S. Leighton.

BADGE COMMITTEE

The Badge Committee is one of the newest in the service of the Federation. It exists to keep the stock and seal of federated club women of the state the official badge of the Massachusetts Federation, known as the Federation pin.

This pin was designed at the request of the executive board, by Miss Helen Whittier, while president of the Federation. The design is the same as the Federation seal which is printed on the cover of the Manual, and forms the letter head of recent Federation stationery. The pin is now offered in two forms, in sterling silver at one dollar, and in solid gold at three dollars; the design, in each case, being brought out with dark blue and white enamel.

The Committee wishes to emphasize that the pin is not a badge of office, but of membership, and any member of a federated club in our state may rightfully wear it. They feel that a club woman should be proud to wear it, because it is intrinsically a thing of beauty, and it symbolizes one of the most beautiful things in our state, this Federation of ours.

Flora P. Little, Chairman.

MEETINGS COMMITTEE

This committee makes all arrangements regarding the meetings, with the railroads for special cars or special rates of transportation. The average attendance for each meeting has been over 1150.

Carrie F. Wheeler, Chairman.

PRESS COMMITTEE

It is the duty of the Press Committee to prepare for the newspapers all material regarding the meetings, the work of the Federation in general, that it may be adequately reported throughout the State. The list of papers to which material is sent has been revised and enlarged, so that at present thirty-one publications receive advance reports of each Federation meeting, together with abstracts of addresses. Space in the Federation Bulletin has been assigned each department committee by this committee.

The chairman would express appreciation of what the reporters have done for us. At all times she has found them courteous and obliging, ready to take suggestions, and anxious to render all possible service to the Federation. The results have been gratifying.

Since this committee is the medium through which all matter for the press should go, it is suggested that all work of this kind be saved. Any one desiring information for publication will find the chairman ready to do all in her power to furnish it.

Grace M. Burt, Chairman.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION

The Bureau of Information of the Mass. State Federation has just reached its first birthday.

For some years the Reciprocity Committee had been one of the standing committees of the State Federation. With the natural growth of club work and committees it was deemed wise by the Executive Board of the State Federation to make of the Reciprocity Committee a general directory which should act as a clearing house for the dissemination of information regarding all club and Federation interests. In other words bring into contact those who had information worthy of circulation and those who were desirous of obtaining it.

During the first year of existence the Bureau has been feeling its way, learning just how it could be useful, and gathering for immediate and future use information regarding desirable programmes, musical and literary, names of persons and clubs doing most effective work along lines of (Civics) interests, methods of carrying on scholarships, and in fact every phase of club life.

The clubs can give valuable assistance to the Bureau by sending to it any matter which has been found to be of special worth in value in the individual organization.

Let us remember that it is what we can give to others as much, if not more, than what we can get for ourselves, that we can make the Bureau of Information a valuable aid in the mechanism of our organization.

The Bureau asks for the year books of the individual clubs that it may study programs and especially constitutions and by-laws regarding which constant inquiries are being made.

One requirement the Bureau wishes to make of the clubs sending for information. Please make your letters absolutely definite as regards date, place, information needed and address given. The work is in its infancy. The Bureau will try to serve you. You can assist by giving of your good things to the department for the general interests of the clubs at large. We trust that you will fix in your mind the fact that it is as blessed to give as to receive and help us accordingly.

Lella C. Pennock, Chairman.

EDUCATION COMMITTEE

The department of Education held a successful conference at the New England Woman's Club rooms on December 2nd. The object of this meeting was to promote closer relations between home and school and for the betterment of moral training in the public schools. Seventy clubs were represented and it was urged that parents' associations be formed. Thirty clubs have reported the formation of parents associations and fifty clubs have done nothing along educational lines. Fourteen clubs are maintaining scholarships. Six of these are for Southern schools in which the Massachusetts Federation is so much interested.

Returns from one hundred and twenty-five clubs show a decided interest in these associations, in school gardens, in the maintenance of scholarships, industrial and moral training and teachers' pensions.

The continued growth of trade schools is encouraging. Moral training is receiving attention everywhere and of course it should be remembered that such training must begin in the home.

Lillian M. Hellen, Chairman.

LIBRARY EXTENSION AND SETTLEMENT WORK

The Committee have urged that much thought be given this year to every phase of work in the Library of the respective towns of the State. A number of clubs have made suggestions of lists of desirable books to be placed in the Library. A number have contributed subscriptions to magazines. Others have made gifts to their local libraries.

New Hampshire's Daughters have a travelling library on Forestry, and have sent a library to Northern New Hampshire. They have issued a booklet of New Hampshire Folk Lore as a memorial to Mrs. Eliza Nelson Blair. The 1900 of Billerica has raised money to rebuild the old books in the Library. Many of the clubs have sent books and magazines to Life Saving Station, Homes and various institutions.

The State Committee have received books from three clubs. The Whitman Club has contributed a regular Travelling Library which was sent to Florida. The Ladies' Physiological Institute sent a Travelling Library of many books to a station in North Carolina from which a request had come.

The Brockton Club which has sent two libraries out of the State in past years, at the suggestion of the State Committee this year, have started the nucleus of a library in a settlement of one of the Cape towns where no library was easily available.

The State Committee have sent books to one town in the State where the library has been burned, and to several stations outside the State. The Ex Club of Boston has given a very valuable library of new and modern books which is not yet placed. The committee would again call the attention of clubs to the valuable State Federation Reference Library.

The Settlement work in Tennessee began in Happy Valley early in June, lasting for three months. Our workers report slow but steady improvement. Last summer the Dorchester Woman's Club gave a scholarship which at the request of Miss Henry was given to one of our workers, who, otherwise, would have to give up her plans for an education. This year the Monday Club of Weymouth, the Woburn Woman's Club and the Pilgrim Women's Literary Club have given scholarships for our Happy Valley children. The Weymouth Club are educating a fine girl, the Woburn Club a most promising boy, and the Pilgrim Women's Literary Club a dear little mountain girl, so that now we have quite a colony of children at school at Maryville.

Sara T. S. Leighton, Chairman.

ART COMMITTEE

The plan adopted by the Art Committee last year has been continued, namely:—To establish a closer relation between the Federated clubs and the Art Museums, Art Schools, and

Art Institutions of all kinds—thus helping people to realize that a knowledge of Art is becoming a part of an every day education, and adds much to the enjoyment of life.

122 clubs replied to questions relative to Art matters. Of this number 26 clubs reported no interest in Art. The remaining were interested in some way. 38 clubs gave from one to three lectures on Art during the year. 19 held exhibitions of Fine Arts, Arts and Crafts. 23 reported classes in Art Study. One, a class in painting. One, a class in sketching. Several had classes in Lace Work and Millinery. 32 clubs assisted the schools in some way. A number of clubs have made gifts of works of art to local schools.

Several clubs have aided in beautifying their towns by planting trees, erecting drinking fountains, placing park seats, cleaning the streets and inspiring the people to make their homes and gardens more attractive.

Literature on art matters, for the Reading Room, has been given to its Public Library, by one club. One club has introduced the Library Art Club into its Public Library.

54 clubs have visited the Museum of Fine Arts, representing 1072 club members, and have studied its treasures under the helpful guidance of the Doer.

The Schools have shared the privilege of visiting the Museum, and 82 schools with a total number of 1305 children have visited the Museum.

A conference was held at the Museum of Fine Arts Jan. 18. Four papers on Art Subjects were read, the chairmen of various clubs gave short accounts of the art work done by their clubs. Mr. Fairbanks spoke on "The Educational Value of the Museum." A most stimulating meeting.

Papers on Art Subjects have been prepared by members of the Committee and read before small clubs. The outline of the work of the Committee was read before six clubs.

The Committee has kept in touch with all Art Exhibitions in Boston, and with the work of the Art and Manual Training Schools.

It has been its aim to awaken a deeper interest in Art matters, that all may comprehend that Art, Arts and Crafts, and Civic Art have a great influence on the lives of the people of all nations.

Annie L. Cox, Chairman.

LITERATURE COMMITTEE

While realizing the popularity of the practical and altruistic problems of clubs in their service to humanity, the chairman entered upon her work with enthusiasm, earnestness and sincerity, knowing that these qualities combined were necessary for a good result. On January first a circular letter was sent out to every club asking for papers to be used in reciprocity work. A complete list of these papers can be obtained from the chairman. Thought-sharing is the highest kind of profit sharing and should be the foundation of all clubs.

Do not forget the importance of the study of good literature. In this age of restless activity—in these days when the passion for service to humanity is uppermost, do not allow yourselves to crowd literature to the corner, but elevate it to a pedestal which makes for the enrichment of life and refinement of manners.

The second leaflet on the "Drama" was inspired and distributed through the suggestion of our State President and the answers received from the questions have been very gratifying and inspiring toward something better, especially in the line of drama another year.

The Drama League has been organized for the systematic study of the drama and for the practical support of good, moral, uplifting plays, which will give us a deeper, truer, saner, more wholesome view of life.

Taken all in all we feel that the work of this committee has been progressive, and we are optimistic as to the work that may be accomplished another year.

Martha A. G. Woodward, Chairman.

HOUSEHOLD ECONOMICS COMMITTEE

The Chairman of the Household Economics Committee is happy to report that 130 clubs responded to our list of questions and, of this number, ninety-five expressed themselves as more or less interested in our subject.

The questions aimed, first: to ascertain how much was being done by the clubs in Home Economics; second, just where they stood as regards the teaching of domestic science in the public schools and the provision of nutritive school lunches; and thirdly, if any extension work along these lines was being done for the benefit of the public at large.

Fifty-five clubs reported departments of Home Economics with at least a chairman.

Sixty-four of the clubs devoted at least one public program to some phase of the subject.

The Nutritive Value and Cost of Food" was the subject most often considered, with "Household Furnishing and Decoration" a close second. "Principles of Cooking" and "Household Hygiene," third; "Labor Saving Utensils" and "Study of Child Life," fourth.

Nineteen clubs report classes, lecture courses or conferences doing active work. Several clubs have been instrumental in placing the "Library of Home Economics" in their public libraries.

Eight clubs have directly influenced the introduction of the teaching of Domestic Science into their public schools, while four more have brought their influence more or less directly to bear upon it.

The Chelsea Woman's Club, the clubs of Lynn, the Newburyport Woman's Club and the Milton Woman's Club have equipped and maintain school lunch rooms. Six other clubs have either installed and managed lunch rooms which have been turned over to school boards, or have been active in securing equipments. Ten clubs report unsatisfactory lunches. Some six or eight clubs expect to take up this work another year.

Members of the Committee have spoken upon our subject before 40 clubs. The Conference of the Committee was held in Chicopee Falls by invitation of the Chicopee Falls Woman's Club.

Three papers upon Domestic Science subjects have been presented to this Committee, which we hope will form a nucleus of papers treating of our subjects which may be loaned to clubs desiring them.

In Massachusetts many cities and towns are teaching some form of Domestic Science, many more are seriously considering it; we have a wealth of instructors and trained experts. The club women have not as yet largely availed themselves of the opportunities offered in this line but there is evidence that much earnest effort is being made which must surely develop into thorough and systematic work. An increasing number of clubs are interested, forty three signifying their intention to do something worth while doing another year, and, considering the incompleteness of the returns, the report is, on the whole most encouraging.

Hattie M. Douglas, Chairman.

FOOD SANITATION.

The Department of Food Sanitation represents one of the most vital interests of the home, and appeals to home-makers. If women had continued to superintend kitchens, preserving fruits and vegetables, curing meats, and by their own industry storing away the winter's supply, there would be little need of Pure Food Laws. We have gradually done less and less, until it is out of our control, and we are begging for laws to protect us from the Manufacturer's greed. Women still have one tremendous advantage: if they would use it intelligently it would correct many evils. It is the buyer's power, which is almost entirely in the hands of housekeepers. The manufacturers and retailers are influenced by the demands of the consumer, which places the responsibility upon the buyer.

When we were first informed, by the leaders of the Pure Food movement, that the beautiful red cherries in bottles were bleached, and dyed with coal tar colors, we were shocked at our ignorance and resolved to be better informed, and know what to buy. We are urging the thoughtful intelligent women to help us arouse the careless, indifferent ones to their responsibilities.

All women who are mothers ought to know the value of pure wholesome food. Educating mothers is the best means we can use against the evils that threaten the proper development of children. We see so many children, poorly nourished, which is more often from ignorance than poverty. They are doing fine educational work at the Milk Depots in Boston. One of the most serious problems we face today is, how to obtain clean, pure milk? It is absolutely necessary in order to reduce the death rate among infants.

The state of New Jersey has an excellent law, which places the power to inspect and certify milk in the hands of a reputable medical society. There is a movement in Massachusetts (which was instigated by Dr. Ward of Worcester) to have a state law similar to New Jersey. It is a cruel injustice to our children to allow a matter of so much importance to remain as it is, now, dominated by politics.

We are also in need of a sanitary inspection law similar to one passed recently in North Dakota, providing for the sanitation of bakeries, canneries, confectioneries, restaurants, hotels, groceries, markets and all other food producing establishments.

Many people look on the extermination of flies as hopeless, but think of how the people in the south have controlled yellow fever by destroying mosquitoes. They had a greater problem than we have in fighting flies. If we go about it intelligently and energetically.

It is strange that people can be careless and passive when scientists are telling us that flies are the cause of a great deal of typhoid fever, which has been a scourge to this country for years. England fought this battle and won, on the ground of flies being a common nuisance. They did not know at that time all the scientists are telling us today about bacteria.

The Honest Label is of great educational value, and is our protection from harmful adulterations and preservatives.

Early in the year the Chairman of the Food Sanitation Committee of G. F. W. C., Mrs. Beulah Amidon, called our attention to the women of Oregon.

The remaining reports will be printed next week.

NEWTON WINS.

Newton High defeated the Cambridge Latin nine in the Preparatory League series Saturday afternoon by a score of 5 to 2. The visitors deserved great credit for putting a team in the field at all and with many substitutes gave Newton a hard battle. Reece had a little better of the pitching argument but fatal errors at third base and behind the plate gave Newton the game. The feature of the game was a running catch by Gleason, which he converted into a double play with the assistance of Siebert. The latter had his nose badly smashed by a pitched ball in practice but pluckily played his position.

DAISY WEDDING.

"Oh what is so rare as a day in June," and what more exquisite picture than this bridal couple standing within an arch of green beneath a wedding ball of June's fairest daisies? Wednesday evening, June 8, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Earnest, 10 Peabody street, was the scene of wedding festivities incident upon the marriage of their daughter, Eva Adella Blanche, to Clarence Wallace Essey, M. D., of Attleboro. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert Van Kirk of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church of West Newton. The bride was gown in white messaline handsomely garnished, en train, her veil fastened with lilies of the valley. She carried a shower bouquet of the same dainty flowers.

Miss Grace D. Earnest, a sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a princess gown or pearl-pink silk and carried pink roses. Miss Grace Hayward and Miss Kathleen Hayward of Gloucester acted as bridesmaids. Their dresses were of a delicate blue silk in princess effect. The pretty flower girls in white mull who preceded the wedding party and scattered flowers in their path were the Misses Lena Essey of Norton, sister of the groom, and Cenary Earnest, sister of the bride. A reception followed. The bridal couple were attended by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Essey of Norton and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Earnest. There were 125 guests. A notable couple were the grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Ray, who came from Vermont to witness the ceremony and participate in the festivities. The ushers were Messrs. Joseph Davison, Cambridge, Dr. Harry Bodan, Brookline; Dr. G. W. Essey, Boston; Walter G. Gordon, Norton, Mass.

The house was beautifully decorated with ferns, palms and daisies, while American and British flags intermingled added an effective touch of color. Chinese lanterns brightened the wide lawn and depended from the trees and shrubbery. The happy couple left at 10 for an extended wedding vacation and will be at home to their friends after Oct. 1, in Attleboro, where the doctor has a growing practice.

The gifts betokened the warm favor of many friends, in many and rare pieces of cut glass, china, pictures, silver, in fact, an outfit worthy any June bride.

LODGES.

Newton Lodge No. 22, I. O. O. F., in conjunction with the several lodges of the order in Newton, will observe Memorial Day on Sunday evening, June 12, in the Congregational Church, West Newton. The address will be delivered by Rev. J. Edgar Park.

A pretty dancing party was held in Players' Hall on Tuesday evening, under the auspices of Tennyson Rebekah Lodge of West Newton. About 60 couples were in line for the grand march and the affair was greatly enjoyed by all present.

The committee in charge was Mrs. Myron Bacon, Mrs. W. C. Newell, Mrs. C. F. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Buck, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Farmer, Miss Josephine Robinson, Mrs. C. G. Peck and Mr. F. W. Woolway.

Everyone in the village, children especially, are invited to exhibit and enter into competition. The committee from the society having the matter in charge are the following: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mills, Mrs. C. F. Rogers, Jr., John A. Gould, James W. McNeally, Charles C. Clancy, Harley A. Smith and Walter Chesley.

NORUMBEGA PARK.

Norumbega Park will have for its attraction in the new open-air theatre the coming week, beginning Monday afternoon, June 13, the first musical comedy of the season, and it is promised as a more pretentious production than ever offered there before. It is entitled "The Explorer" and is said to be unlike anything at present upon the stage. As the title indicates it is written around a real big and absorbing American subject, the Cook-Pearcy excitement. But it is built wholly for laughing purposes and as a conveyance for some musical gems that are sure to be remembered and whistled after the performance. Matt Ott, who has provided so many of these successful affairs for Norumbega Park, is responsible for the text, lyrics and music.

STATE FEDERATION AT LYNN

Notwithstanding lowering skies,

several hundred club women assembled at the First Universalist Church

at Lynn on Monday afternoon for the opening of the 18th annual meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs. Promptly at 3 o'clock the meeting was called to order by Miss George A. Bacon of Worcester, president of the Federation. Welcome to the city of "leather and lightning" was extended by Mrs.

A. Louise Collins, president of the North Shore Club, and chairman of the local committee of arrangements,

representing the hostesses of the day,

who were the five federated clubs of the city together with the Woman's Club House Corporation. Miss Bacon

in her response spoke of the occasion

as the first during her term of service when the welcome came from

so many hearts, for the hostesses

numbered more than a thousand women. Referring to the Federation's previous visit to Lynn and the line of subjects presented at that time she said that even they testify to the growth in aim and action.

"Look back to that day, if you will,

and think of the progress that has been yours and ours. Then we asked you to consider the underlying principle of the purely literary club.

Today we bring you a record of woman's larger work, a program that will give a clear conception of what we are and do, and an echo

from the biennial convention of that great national, I might say international organization, of which we are a part: all with the hope that through this more intimate relation of hostess and guest we may stimulate your interest in us and increase your desire to come into close touch with the work of our organization,

which is fast being recognized as a power for good throughout our state and in our nation.

"Without doubt your problems are those of most clubs: Is not opportunity always knocking at your door?

Listen to her call and remember that accepting responsibility in the spirit of true service you are turning "the common dust of servile opportunity to gold." May these two days of sister strength, the co-operative spirit in this sisterhood of clubs and members of the Executive Board, may

they emphasize to each and all of us the worth and influence of federated womanhood.

The convention then turned to the routine business of the annual meeting, reports of officers, of the special committees, badge, meetings

of the Executive Board, and of the standing committees: Bureau of Information, Education, Library Extension and Settlement Work, Art, Literature, Music,

extracts from which will be found below.

The session was adjourned in time to allow the visiting delegates to seek their places of entertainment in ample season for dinner. The officers and members of the Executive Board were entertained in the homes of Lynn

club women, while delegates were accommodated at two hotels in Swamp-

scott and the Hotel Tudor at Nahant.

An organ recital was given during the half-hour before the evening session by Mr. J. Arthur Brown. First on the evening's program was a group of songs by Miss Marion J. Hend-

son, two of which were by Schumann

whose 100th anniversary was to occur

in a few days.

The rest of the session was devoted to reports of the Tenth Biennial

Convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs held in May at Cincinnati. Mrs. Lillian Folger spoke of the business of the Executive Board of the morning, Mrs. Jennie B. Wadleigh of the evening sessions. Mrs.

Emmons Crocker and Mrs. Jeanette

M. Tyler of the conferences, and Mrs.

Henry L. Patrick of the social side.

All these were exceptionally good and with the background of the Ninth Biennial in mind the delegates felt almost as if they had been present themselves.

At nine o'clock the hostesses

tendered a charming reception in the new club house adjoining the church.

In the receiving line were the presidents of the hostess clubs and of the Club

House Corporation, together with the presidents and vice-presidents of the Federation. Upon the stage with its woodland scenery and foreground of

POLYMNIA MUSICAL.

Tuesday evening, May 31, brought the Polymnia season to a successful close. By invitation of Miss Thompson the concert was given at the New Church parlors, Miss Thompson and Miss Webster, hostesses. The program, "An Evening with Modern French Composers," was by far the most ambitious the Polymnia has ever attempted. It being necessary to send to Paris for most of the music. Fortunate as this club has been in its assisting talent, notably so throughout this season, never before has it had the good fortune to present such an array of soloists and of such wide reputation. The singing of the Polymnia under Madame Martinez's musically direction gave proof that it is indeed a club that works, and that its work bears fruit. To attempt such difficult music as "Les Frileuses" and "Le Chevalier" shows the ambition and determination that animates this little club. Solos by Miss Emily Hayden and Mrs. Alice Worcester Weeks. Miss Mary C. Coxeter made her first appearance as accompanist for the Polymnia, doing extremely good work with these exacting and capricious accompaniments. The "St. John's Eve" was not congenial to Miss Hayden, but the full, rich quality of her voice showed to advantage in the solo of "La Cheviere," which she sang with feeling and expression.

The Grieg Trio (Miss Marguerite Pearson, violin; Mrs. Ella Thompson-Hall, cello; Mrs. Minnie G. del Castillo, piano), held the audience spellbound from the first note. The trio numbers were the exception to the evening's being entirely of French composers. Miss Pearson's graceful playing is a charm in itself, to which she adds extraordinary breadth and brilliance of tone and beauty of expression. Mrs. Thompson-Hall contributes a broad, vibrant, mellow handling of her cello that shows her mastery of her instrument, which wove an answering thrill in her hearers. Mrs. del Castillo's superb playing found better opportunity to show itself in the exquisite Debussy music of her solo number, but the finish and sympathy of her playing were at once evident in the trio ensemble. The Polymnia hopes another season to give the public an opportunity to hear all the members of this delightful trio in solo as well as ensemble work. Such music is restful and inspiring and sends us on our way rejoicing.

Madame Martinez, beautiful as her singing always is, certainly never sang more charmingly than in the "Chanson d'Avril" of Gounod's. As an encore, she yielded to the demand for that wonderful laughing song that many great singers have tried and but one or two have sung acceptably. It is a veritable triumph to sing it as Madame does; to give it such lightness and abandon.

Last but not least came the "Concertstück for two pianofortes" by Chaminade: Opus 40. Miss Coughlin merits warm praise for her playing of the piano part. Her technique is clear and brilliant, and she showed herself sure and self-possessed. Mr. Law may well be proud of this young pupil and Miss Coughlin must certainly owe much to her teacher. Mr. Law's reading of the second piano part was thoughtful and musically in interpretation. The rough, peasant quality of this gifted Breton composer, Chaminade, was well brought out and contrasted with its other themes of grace and beauty. If the program proved a trifle long, it must be laid to the enthusiasm of the audience, greedy of the good things within reach, and to the generous response of the artists to the demand for encores.

POWELL-BURR.

The wedding of Miss Harriet Louise Burr, the daughter of Mr. D. George Burr, and Mr. Ray Alfred Powell of Post Mills, Vt., took place at the home of the bride, 150 Grove street, Auburndale, Thursday evening, June 2. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. Theodore P. Prudden, D. D., former pastor of the Second Congregational Church of West Newton. The maid of honor was Miss Dora Burr of Auburndale. Marlon Sawyer of Manchester, N. H., was flower girl and the best man was Mr. Ralph Powell of Boston. A reception followed, Mr. and Mrs. Powell being assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Burr and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Powell.

After a wedding trip thru the mountains, Mr. and Mrs. Powell will reside at Post Mills, Vt., where they will be at home after July 2.

ANNIVERSARY SUNDAY.

In the Newton Centre Baptist Church Sunday morning the 85th anniversary Sunday of the Newton Centre Theological Institution was observed, the service having added significance in that the annual baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class was preached by Rev. George E. Horr, D. D., president of the school. There was a large attendance, including many visiting clergymen and old graduates.

Prayer was offered by Prof. Frederick L. Anderson, D. D., a responsive reading of the 16th psalm was led by Prof. John M. English, D. D. A hymn was read by Prof. Henry K. Rowe, D. D., and sung by the choir and congregation. Scriptural reading by Prof. George Cross, D. D., and prayer by the pastor, Rev. Maurice A. Levy, preceded the sermon. The benediction was pronounced by Prof. Winifred N. Donovan.

President Horr preached from the text, "Thanks be to God for His Unspeaking Gift."

Is it a Matter of Cost?

CONSIDER THIS:

How many nickels do you leave at the "Pay Station" during the year?

How much time do you lose making the trip to the Pay Station?

How much money do you spend in twelve months for car fare, in shopping or delivering messages that you could send by telephone if you had one?

How much time and nerve force do you so lose?

A few cents a day pays for a telephone and saves all this. Ask our Local Manager to send an Agent to talk the matter over with you.

FIELD DAY

Today the annual lawn party and field day of the Newton Catholic Club is being held on Smith field, Watertown street, West Newton.

Particular attention has been paid to the athletic part of the program. The chief feature will be a three-mile race for amateurs which will be run from Waltham to the field, for which a silver cup is the prize. There will be other races, including a 100-yard dash, hurdle races, three-legged races, blindfold races and a relay race for fat men. For the ladies there will be a baseball and stick throw with suitable prizes. A ball game between the club nine and some strong team will be held.

During the day the ladies of the club will dispense refreshments and souvenirs from the several booths. Minstrel and vaudeville entertainments will provide amusement and there will be dancing in the evening. President Justin A. McCarthy and the members of the various committees have worked hard for the success of the affair.

WABAN ATHLETICS.

The annual field day of the Waban School Monday on the campus at Waban was filled with keen contests. The juniors showed great form in their events.

The pole vault was an interesting feature, and resulted in a tie. Hackett and Dwight sharing the honors with an eight-foot clearance.

Physical Director Harry A. Dame was in charge and was assisted by Carl Kilham, one of the instructors. A Chinese student named Sayuen Sun, whose home is in Canton, made an excellent showing in the senior events. He won three firsts while a fellow countryman named Kwan took third place in three events.

The summary
100-yard dash, senior—Sun first, Dwight second, Curtin third. Time 11.1-5a.

100-yard dash, junior—Sanborn first, Harper second, Kwan third. Time 13.3-5s.

220-yard run—Sun first, Dwight second, Curtin third. Time 25.3-5a.

440-yard run—Sun first, Curtin second, Wood third. Time 56.1-5a.

Running broad jump, junior—Sanborn first, Curtin second, E. Simons third. Distance 16 feet 8 inches.

Running high jump, junior—Sanborn first, Harper second, Kwan third. Height 4 feet 1 inch.

Running high jump, senior—Dwight first, Curtin second, Knight third. Height 5 feet 1.2 inch.

Pole vault—First place a tie and points divided between Dwight and Hackett, Knight third. Height 8 feet.

Shot put—Hackett first, Dwight second, Curtin third. Distance 34 feet.

COLLISION

Two intoxicated men drove their carriage in front of a rapidly moving electric car at Newton Lower Falls Saturday night and as a result of the collision one went to the Newton Hospital while the other was arrested on a charge of drunkenness. Both were badly cut and bruised and the carriage was demolished but the horse escaped with slight injuries. The man taken to the hospital is George Killmain of Wellesley and his companion was Walter Evans, Jr., 33 years old, of 160 East Central street, Natick. They could not give a clear account of the affair but they were driving toward Wellesley at the time. Washington street, at the point where the collision occurred, is dark and the cars make good speed. The motorman was unaware of the presence of a team ahead until he saw the horse swing across the track.

In Police Court Monday both were fined $5.

BETTER SERVICE.

The Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company has petitioned the Waltham Board of Aldermen asking the privilege of widening and extending the turnout on Moody street near Reeds Corner a distance of 75 feet in a southerly direction, and a hearing is to be held June 21.

The object of extending and widening the turnout is to allow the large cars, several of which are now being used by the company, more will be used if the petition is granted—to pass on the turnout. The turnout was built several years ago at a time when the company was using smaller cars than are now being run on the lines.

The company is using a number of long 15-seat cars in the evening to accommodate the Norumbega Park traffic. Because of the turnout on Moody street it is necessary to send these cars in a roundabout way through Crescent Park and as a result considerable time is lost. If the petition of the company is granted and the turnout is widened the large cars will be run by way of Moody street.

BIG SHIPMENT TO LOCAL FIRM.

The largest shipment of ginger ale which has ever come into the city of Newton arrived recently at the Newton Upper Falls station, shipped by the Chicquet Club Co. of Millis, Mass., consigned to W. H. Brayton & Co., the well-known grocery firm of Newton Highlands. This shipment was composed of more than 500 cases of Chicquet Club Ginger Ale, Birch Beer, Sarsaparilla and other beverages.

Chicquet Club Ginger Ale is well known as the finest ginger ale bottled in the United States, and the only American ginger ale which rivals the imported ginger ales in quality.

The larger part of this shipment will be used by this firm in their large retail business while the balance will be sold at wholesale to other users.

OFFICER HURT

Police Officer John H. Shaughnessy was struck with a stone on Sunday afternoon while assisting in quelling a disturbance at 20 Hale street, Upper Falls. The blow cut a gash in his head requiring several stitches and is a serious injury. Officer Shaughnessy, who lives near the scene of the disturbance, was attracted by the noise and was assisting Officer Fuller, who had been called in by neighbors, as a number of Italians who lived in the house were quarrelling. Officer Shaughnessy had succeeded in getting one man into the yard when the others attacked him. He kept his hold, however, although covered with blood, until Officer Fuller came to his assistance. He was then taken home and attended by a physician. Three Italians were arrested.

LODGES.

The annual Odd Fellows' memorial service was held Sunday evening at the West Newton Congregational Church. The lodges participating were Newton of West Newton, Waban of Newtonville, Home of Newton Highlands, Garden City Encampment, Tennyson Rebekah Lodge of West Newton, Sumner P. Lawrence Rebekah Lodge of Newtonville and Highland Rebekah Lodge of Newton Highlands. The sermon was by Rev. J. Edgar Park, pastor of the church, and there was a special musical program by the choir under the leadership of Mr. Archibald of Waltham.

BASEBALL.

The game between the clerks and proprietors of Newton stores which will be played at Cabot Park next Thursday afternoon promises to be very exciting and interesting. In the following lineup you will notice past, present and future stars, mostly past.

Clerks—Captain, J. P. Boulogne; catcher, T. Collins; pitcher, A. Nash; first base, W. Chase; second base, W. Woods; third base, J. Egan; short stop, Dooley; left field, J. F. Boulogne; centre field, Henry McLean; right field, J. York.

Proprietors—William McPherson, H. W. Bascom, Melis, Al Reese, G. Wilson, A. Wilson, Whelden, Irving, Sanderson, A. H. Walt, C. Newcomb, Morgan, umpire; Snyder, official scorer.

TAKE A MONTH OFF.

Someone has advised every city man and woman to take a full month's outing in the country every year. It's good advice, and wise persons will do it this year and go up among the Green Mountains of Vermont where there is pure air, unequalled scenery, splendid roads for driving and auto-mobiling and good river and lake fishing. Illustrated book telling all about Vermont and Lake Champlain, by mail for six cents in stamps. E. H. Boynton, N. E. Passenger Agent, Central Vermont Railway, 256 Washington street, Boston.

SUICIDE

Dr. Edwin A. Knight, for 15 years a resident of Cherry street, West Newton, committed suicide on Tuesday afternoon by taking prussic acid. Dr. Knight left his home early that morning without notifying the family of his destination, and took the train for Franklin, N. H., his native place. He went immediately to the cemetery and after chatting with the caretaker for a few minutes went to the family lot, where he swallowed the acid. He was still breathing when he was discovered lying on the ground, but soon died. He has acted in a peculiar manner for some time and is thought to have been mentally deranged.

Dr. Knight was born in Franklin and was 68 years old. He was the son of Dr. Luther M. and Charlotte (Tilton) Knight. He was graduated from the Franklin Academy and afterward served on the non-commissioned staff of the First Regiment, New Hampshire Volunteers, as hospital steward during the war. After the war he practiced medicine in Lebanon, moving from there to West Newton.

Dr. Knight married Miss May C. Whittier of Franklin, N. H., who survives him, together with a son, Philip Knight and two daughters, Mrs. A. D. Upham and Mrs. H. G. Cobb, both of Boston.

He was a charter member of James P. Perry Post, G. A. R., of Lebanon, and was a Mason.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at Franklin, N. H.

CUTLER—DOWNES.

A pretty wedding took place Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Sarah L. Downes on Westland avenue, Boston, when her daughter, Miss Dorothy Harriman Downes was united in marriage to Mr. Carl Gordon Cutler of Newtonville. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Jay T. Stocking, pastor of Central Church, and only the immediate families were present. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Olin Downes of Boston. The bride is the granddaughter of Rev. Charles S. Downes of the New Jersey Methodist Conference and the late Sarah J. C. Downes, who was prominent with Miss Willard in W. C. T. U. work. Mr. and Mrs. Cutler will sail on the Saxonia from Boston Tuesday, June 21, for a summer abroad and on their return will reside at 24 Central avenue, where they will be at home after Jan. 1.

BOSTON PRESS CLUB.

Among the well-known Newton men who have recently become associated with the Boston Press Club as associate life members are Congressman John W. Weeks and Edward K. Hall of the firm of Powers & Hall. The club's associate membership now includes about 100 of Boston's most prominent men.

CONCERT

A splendid concert was given at the Newton Club, Newtonville, on Wednesday evening for the benefit of the Newton Hospital. The artists were Mme. Wilhelmina Wright Calvert, soprano; Signor Francesco Manetta, tenor; Miss Alice C. Newman, violin; Mr. W. H. W. Blecknell, cello; Mr. L. Stanley Redding, clarinet; Mrs. Florence Adriance, pianist. Mme. Calvert's voice was delightful, her singing being brilliant and clear. Her range was remarkable and of wonderfully even quality. Signor Manetta has a marvellous voice, of unusual strength and purity and admirably suited to operatic roles. The great duet from Trovatore was splendidly rendered by these two artists and the audience insisted upon an encore, in which the second hearing was even more beautiful than the first.

The orchestra of violin, cello, clarinet and piano was novel in its make-up but produced unexpectedly fine effects.

PLEASANT AFFAIR.

The Newton Centre Unitarian Society held a delightful strawberry festival Wednesday evening, the house and grounds of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Willison of 454 Ward street, Newton Centre, being thrown open for the occasion. Hundreds of Japanese lanterns gave life and color to the scene, their artistic grouping about the dancing floor being noticeable. Music for dancing was furnished by a hurdy-gurdy, and strawberries, ice cream and cake were served. About 200 were present and the pastor, Rev. A. H. Robinson, was the guest of honor.

The affair was highly creditable to the committee in charge, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hawkes, Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Clement, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Blanchard, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stimpson, Mrs. Melcher and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Willison.

NEW ARMORY

The state armory commissioners are obtaining bids for the construction of the new armory on Washington street, West Newton, and the contract will probably be awarded before July 1.

THEATRES

American Music Hall—After a week of darkness during which the extensive alterations of the past two months have been completed and the house has been thoroughly renovated, the American Music Hall will reopen next Monday with a new and beautiful production of that stirring drama, "St. Elmo," by the Lindsay Morison Stock Company. In his company of local favorites will be found the names of Wilson Melrose, one of the most popular leading men that Boston has ever known, Rosalind Coghill at Keith's these days where with Madam Chung still a popular Jan. Mary Sanders, Rose Morison, Katherine Clinton, Richard Pitman, William Hasson, Charles Hannary, T. S. Klawans and others with a big local following. Little comment is needed on the play "St. Elmo." It is founded on the novel of the same name, which has been one of the biggest sellers of the past five years. The prices will be extremely popular, 25 and 50 cents, with the entire second balcony reserved both afternoon and evening at 10 cents.

Keith's Theatre—Sensations are following each other in rapid succession another comes in Lillian Lawrence, the favorite stock actress, who was for years at the old Castle Square and since headed her own companies in Boston. Miss Lawrence is unquestionably one of the greatest favorites that patrons of stock have ever had in Boston and enjoyed the longest vogue. She will be seen in an entirely new comedy written especially for her, entitled "A Reno Divorce," and thousands of her friends will no doubt welcome her during her engagement at Keith's. Another Boston favorite on the bill is Ralph Smalley, cellist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. For the children there will be an exceedingly strong feature in Captain George Auger and company in "Jack the Giant Killer." Other features of the bill will be Ray Cox, "the girl who made baseball famous" Howard and Howard, "the messenger boy and the thespian," and a number of star attractions yet to be announced.

Tremont Theatre—Like Tenneyson's babbling brook, "The Girl in the Taxi," with Carter De Haven, seems destined to run on forever. This rollicking and laughable French farce, so admirably adapted by Stanislaus Stange, is now well on its way toward its 100th performance and the indications are that it will round out two centuries before the public of Boston and the neighboring towns permit it to depart from their midst. The complications and laugh-producing situations in "The Girl in the Taxi" are too numerous to mention. They defy description. One must pay a visit to the Tremont Theatre to get any adequate idea of the quantities of mirth aroused by play and players. The rise of the first curtain is the signal to release the brakes and from the first introductory speeches laughter holds the reins and drives at a speed-defying pace over hills and dales of hilarity.

Castle Square Theatre—The opera season at the Castle Square begins on Monday with Gilbert and Sullivan's favorite Japanese opera, "The Mikado." Sir Arthur Sullivan's music and Sir W. S. Gilbert's libretto are masterpieces of humor. Scenically too it is most alluring and its stage settings representing the flower gardens of Japan are delightful to the eye, while its quaint Japanese costumes are picturesque in the extreme. One of the finest casts ever seen in Boston has been provided for this revival of "The Mikado."

NORUMBEGA PARK.

Norumbega Park is having this week the first musical comedy attraction of the season and to judge by the way the crowds are pouring into the magnificent new open-air theatre every afternoon and evening one might well think that the patrons of this ideal picturesque woodland resort on the banks of the beautiful Charles preferred it to vaudeville. Experience has taught the management, however, that just about so many times in a season the patrons welcome the change from vaudeville to the sort of bright and snappy musical comedy that is always provided here, but not too often. So next week there will be another imposing array of headliner vaudeville talent.

ALBEMARLE TOURNAMENT.

The first open state handicap tournament of the Albemarle Golf Club will be held at its links in Newtonville, June 24 and 25, and it is expected that a very large field will enter, if the weather is propitious.

Under the very excellent management of the club the past few years the Albemarle now ranks as one of the finest nine-hole courses in the state. Some crack golfers have been prone to consider the Albemarle a rather easy course at bogey 76, but while it is not exactly a difficult course it is not so easy as it looks. The first hole of 350 yards at bogey five is comparatively easy. The second of 485 yards, bogey six, while without trap or bunker, is narrow and abounds in bad lies—"downright lies" some might call them. Number three, 290 yards, bogey four, is a hard one. Number four at 450 yards, bogey five, goes over two roads, a thicket of trees, and requires three fairly long balls to reach the green. The new number five, 225 yards, bogey four, will be played for the first time at this tournament and will be found a very "sporty" hole. A few long drivers there are who may reach the green, but it is up hill and the ball will not roll, so the whole distance must be carried to reach the green. Number six is only 225 yards, on a side hill. This green has been driven by Servos, the club professional, and Mr. Hickox, Jr. Number seven is 140 yards, bogey three, a mere pitch, protected by bunkers and traps and is rough at the left. Number eight, the easiest bogey on the links, is 225 yards, out-of-bounds being, however, but a trifle to the right of the line. Number nine at 160 yards, bogey three, is not very difficult, though it requires a straight drive. It is protected on both sides of the line by traps.

The low handicap players of the club are:

Plus 2—J. G. Anderson.
 Minus 2—William Hickox, Jr.
 Minus 4—Malcom Stanton, Francis Brown.
 Minus 5—H. H. Cook, W. C. Adams, Phillip Carter, P. Tewksbury.
 Minus 7—C. C. Briggs.

With a membership of 125 the Albemarle Club is in a most prosperous condition this year.

The schedule of events yet to be played this season are:

June 24-25—Open tournament, state.
 July 2—One club medal play, handicap.
 July 3—Handicap medal play. Conclusion spring cup matches.
 Sept. 3—Handicap vs. bogey (full handicap).
 Sept. 5—Endurance match. Bogey plus handicap.
 Sept. 10—Handicap medal play.
 Sept. 17—Handicap vs. bogey (full handicap).
 Sept. 24—Foresomes for golf balls.
 Sept. 30—Open tournament, state.
 Oct. 1—Open tournament, state.
 Oct. 8—Handicap medal play.
 Oct. 15—Handicap vs. bogey (full handicap).
 Oct. 22—One club medal play, handicap.

Oct. 29—Swatfest.
 And three other Saturday matches to be announced.
 The officers are: President, Charles F. Avery; vice-president, Col. Ephraim Stearns; treasurer, H. F. Beal; secretary, Charles E. Stevens; house committee, C. B. Somers, chairman; grounds committee, Charles E. Stearns, chairman; club tournament committee, C. C. Briggs, chairman; directors, Messrs. Avery, Briggs, Fessenden, Rogers, Cook, Ohlson, Somers, Benner, Copeland, E. Stearns.

The best way to carry Ashes
 is in a Hod!

Crawford Ranges

Have an Ash Hod in the base into which all the ashes fall far below the fire. They can't bank against the grates and warp them, and they can be emptied easily without spilling.

The Coal Hod is alongside the Ash Hod—out of the way. This feature is a wonderful labor and trouble saver and is patented.

Another trouble-saver of the Crawford is the patented Single Damper. One motion—slide the knob to "kindle," "bake" or "check"—the range does the rest. No damper mistakes.

The Oven has cup-joint heat flues that heat it alike in all parts.

Ask the Crawford agent to show you and write us for circular.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME.

The General Court of 1910 was proceeded on Wednesday evening after a most strenuous session. Possibly the best characterization of the House
was that given at a political meeting held in Worcester last Saturday,
at which Speaker Walker stated that the present was a "most progressive House." Representative White of Newton, who was one of the following speakers, modified the speaker's statement to the effect that if this was true, it followed that "progressive Republicans were those who voted consistently with the Democrats." It is a common fact that with a Republican membership of about 170, less than 100 consistent Republican votes can be depended upon.
As a prominent Republican, a new member of the House this year and thought to be an "insurgent," has stated when taken to task for his present attitude, "I found out within two weeks of the opening of the session that I had to make up my mind
once and for all whether I would vote
with the sheep or with the goats."
There have been many Republican goats in the present Legislature, particularly noticeable when they put the misnamed "eight hour bill" up to Governor Draper for political purposes only.

Possibly the attitude of Speaker
Walker, who has played politics all the session, has had something to do with the situation which has developed in the House. Mr. Walker is an able man, well versed in the affairs of the state and an authority on state finance, but he has allowed political ambition to dictate his action to such an extent that his availability for higher political honors in the minds of the thinking men of the Republican party has been seriously handicapped.
The smoke nuisance bill, which the House thought ought to include the city of Newton and which the Senate threw out for the same reason, was finally compromised, the House yielding to the Senate. As I pointed out before, in this column, Representative Bohfield has a gentlemen's agreement with the railroad officials that all improvements introduced on the railroad as far as Brighton, which is required by the new law, will be made operative in Newton, so that the Newton amendment is not an important feature of the law.

The close of the session usually leads to inquiries as to the future of our representatives in both branches of the Legislature.

Senator Mulligan of Natick has now completed the two years usually given senators for this district and has made a fine record, married with but one bad vote, that in favor of the eight hour bill. It would be mighty good politics for Newton to agree to continue the senatorship in the upper end of the district for another two years, preferably in Framingham. If the Republicans of that town can get together on an acceptable candidate. Efforts will be made this year to secure direct nominations for senators in this district under the new Walker law, and it would be most advisable for the new plan, if adopted, to have its first trial on the renomination of a candidate. A third term for Senator Mulligan would bring the first direct nomination from a field of candidates covering about every town in the district, and for this reason,
as well as for the purpose of assuring the country end of the district that Newton does not desire to "hog" the nomination, I believe it
most desirable to place the senatorship for the next two years in the other part of the district.

City Solicitor Slocum has been busy this week at the hearings before
the commission to make a new apportionment of metropolitan park assessments for the next five years. The present method of basing the assessments on valuation is satisfactory to Newton, but Boston, which pays something like 62 per cent of the total assessment, is making strenuous efforts to reduce its proportion, and if successful, would add something of course to the assessment of every other municipality in the district. Our assessment, considering what we receive in return, is large enough already, so Mr. Slocum will make every effort to retain the present apportionment.

The state tax for 1910 has been fixed at $106,800, an increase of $15,000 over last year.

Governor Draper honored two Newton residents this week, in nominating Mr. Frank H. Howes, chairman of the trustees of the Newton Free Library, to be a member of the free library commission of the state. He also named Miss Mary M. Riddle, superintendent for six years at the Newton Hospital, to be a member of the new board of registration of nurses,

just established by the Legislature.
Miss Riddle is appointed for the four-year term.

Representative White will represent the Republican members of this senatorial district on a committee to assist the state committee in the fall campaign.

Hearings began yesterday before
the Highway Commission on the proposed changes in telephone rates for the Boston and suburban districts.
The new rates were recommended by experts employed by the commission
and made public in the early spring.
From a Newton standpoint, I believe the new plan will be of great benefit by improving the service and lessening the cost.

Analysis of the report shows that the Newton North and Newton South exchanges are placed in the highest suburban class, and Newton West in the next highest, lettered H and G
respectively.

Each exchange under the proposed plan will be the centre of its own zone, which includes every exchange
district which touches its own area.
Newton North zone will therefore include Newton North, Newton South, Newton West, Waltham, Cambridge, Belmont, Brighton and Brookline.
Newton South zone includes Newton
South, Newton North, Newton West, Brighton, Brookline, Jamaica Plain,
Needham and Wellesley. Newton
West zone includes Newton West, Newton South, Newton North, Waltham and Wellesley.

Within each zone the rates give unlimited service with a toll charge of five cents for each three-minute call,
within a distance of 7-1/2 miles of the home exchange, and an additional five cents for each additional 7-1/2 miles.
Newton North and Newton South exchange subscribers will have a five-cent toll charge to Boston, while Newton West will pay 10 cents for the same service.

The new plan abolishes the present
four-party and six-party lines, and allows only one and two-party lines, the two-party lines having the new divided ringing, by which only the subscriber wanted is called on the bell.

The rates in all exchanges are reduced, Newton North and Newton South two-party business lines being reduced from $66 to $63, two-party residence lines reduced from $42 to $39, one-party business lines from $84
to $80, and one-party residence lines from $54 to $51. The Newton West subscribers have still lower rates,
two-party business lines from $66 to $54, two-party residence lines from $42 to $27, one-party business lines
from $84 to $60 and one-party residence lines from $54 to $36.

It therefore appears that Newton subscribers will receive a slight reduction in business rates, and a most substantial lowering in residential rates, the two largest exchanges receiving a five cent toll to Boston instead of ten cents, a vastly improved service thru the two-party maximum line and the divided ringing, and will suffer the restriction, undoubtedly of little importance, of a smaller area
for free telephone service.

The Jackson report states that in the entire Suburban district the average inter-zone messages are but 14
per cent, 20 per cent go to the Metropolitan district and 66 per cent are strictly local zone messages. The figures for the Newton exchanges are still more favorable to the local zone
traffic, as 80 per cent of the North and South exchange business is local and 78 per cent of the West exchange.
Twelve per cent of the North exchange business and 8 per cent of the South and West exchanges is Metropolitan, while 8 per cent of North, 12 per cent of South and 24 per cent
of West are beyond the new zone limits. When it is borne in mind that the greater part of the outside zone business is mostly done by a few subscribers, the restriction of the zone limits is more than offset by the five cent reduction in the toll charge to Boston.

Measured telephone service is also reduced, the minimum rate being fixed at five cents per call, with $40 calls
for one-party business and residence, 660 for business and 480 for residence
on two-party calls in the West district, while North and South exchanges have 900 calls for one-party
business and residence, 720 for business and 480 for residence on two-party lines. Additional local calls are charge at three cents each. These rates are reduced from $48, $45 and $36 respectively.

Under these circumstances I believe the new plan ought to receive the hearty approval of telephone users of this city.

HYDE-MASON.

The First Baptist Church, Commonwealth avenue, Boston, was the scene of a very pretty wedding last Saturday, June 11, when Miss Edna S.
Mason, the daughter of one of our former residents, Mr. Edward H.
Mason, was married to Mr. Henry Stanley Hyde of New York. Dr.
Faunce of Brown University, an old friend of the family, and Dr. Rowley, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. The church was effectively decorated with pink mountain lilies and green.

The bride's only attendants were her sister, Miss Ella S. Mason, as maid of honor, and her little cousin, Eleanor Mason daughter of Frank A.
Mason of this city, as flower girl.
Mr. Beaver Warland was the best man and the ushers were John H.
Perry, Donald McKesson, Ephraim Nye, Philip Hall of New York and Daniel Sharp and Arthur Goodridge
of Boston, nearly all of these classmates of the groom, who is a Harvard man. The bride's gown was of soft white satin exquisitely embroidered
and she wore her mother's wedding veil. The maid of honor was in pale pink satin, her hat covered with plumes of the same color. The little flower girl was also in pink and threw her rose petals from a high leghorn hat tied up with ribbons.
There was a small reception after the ceremony for relatives and immediate friends, among whom were many Newton people. Mr. and Mrs. Hyde are now in the Adirondacks, but will make their home permanently in New York city.

TEDDY BEARS VISIT NEWTON

INTRODUCTION.

A Teddy Bear said to his parents one day,
Dear Father and Mother I'm going away;
I love these big mountains and valleys and trees,
But I long to see beauties far greater than these.

There's a city in this grand state
Where I'm told everything is kept right up to date;
The people are honest and happy and wise—
To please all his neighbors each citizen tries.
That's where I am going, for if I am there
I know I'll grow up a good, useful old bear."

He kissed them good-bye and with heart light and gay,
In his fur overcoat Teddy trudged on his way.
He soon met his cousin who smiled and then said:
"I'm going there also—how's that Cousin Ted?"

They trotted along through the valley so fair,
At last they were joined by another young bear.
More Teddies were met as the bears marched along,
And they soon formed an army about ninety strong.

There were Teddies from England and Scotland and Wales.

And others from Russia and Cork and Versailles;
The Dutchman, the Darkey, the Chinese, the Jap,
And Teddies from every old town on the map.

They kept right ahead with a hop and a skip Till they landed at Newton, the end of their trip.
The people ran out and screamed with delight,
For these Teddy Bears made a very odd sight;

Some funny things happened within a short while,
And now comes the story which made them all smile.
The Teddy Bears one nice bright day,
Marched from their homes far, far away;

They reached the City of Newton at last,
Through many wonderful scenes they passed.
They saw great stores of monstrous size;
They found the people kind and wise.
Said Colonel Bear, "We'll stay here sure—"
Now here's the tale of the Teddies' tour.

One stylish little lady bear
With pretty face and jet black hair,
To the Juvenile she quickly sped
And bought a hat to grace her head.
Such perfect millinery art
Brings joy to every woman's heart;
Low prices buy the best hats made,
Of every shape and style and shade.
The Juvenile, 74 Elmwood St., Newton.

When Teddy Bears go out to shop,
There's surely something bound to drop;
They went to Otis Bros.' store;
They'd never seen such sights before.
Miles of dry goods grand and nice—
The newest styles; the lowest price;
For winter, summer, spring and fall—
Delights the ladies one and all.
Otis Bros., 279-281 Washington St., Newton.

One Teddy said, "Why bless my sole,
Each of my shoes contains a hole."
To Walker Shoe Co. he made haste
And promptly had his feet encased
In shoes that fit all snug and true;
He got them at a bargain too.
No stock on earth is more complete;
The finest good sto fit all feet.
Walker Shoe Co., 267 Washington St., Newton.

Good eating, we are all aware
Is quite important to a bear;
So to F. H. Franklin marched this band,
They bought the fattest of the land.
The goods were fresh and neat and clean—
The best that they had ever seen.
This grocery sells the best that's grown—
Low price, full weight—firm widely known.
F. H. Franklin, 419 Centre St., Newton.

One Teddy Bear became quite sick
And wanted very quick
To cure his pains and misery,
He went to Partridge's pharmacy.
The greatest remedies here they sell
And Teddy Bear next day was well;
Perfumes and soaps all pure and nice,
And everything at lowest price.
Washington and Walnut Sts., Newtonville.

The Indian Bear named Smile-Some-More,
He wanted postcards by the score.
At C. E. Josselyn's he did inquire;
There he found all he could desire.
What'er he sought—"Right here you are"
They'd cry in this immense bazaar.
The price was cheap, the goods well made,
That's why they've built up such a trade.
C. E. Josselyn, 340 Centre St., Newton.

Of ice cream, chocolates and fudge
The bear has always been a judge;
Just give him something good and sweet—
The more he gets, the more he'll eat.
Since Ted to Paxton's went
His candy appetite's content;
They make all kinds so rich and pure
That's why they've built up such a trade.
James Paxton & Co., Centre St., Newton.

The very choicest cuts of meat
A bear is always bound to eat.
At Centre Street Market they deal;
This firm keeps beef and pork and veal,
Butchered by them and all home-dressed,
That's why they always have the best.
At this meat market all year round
The freshest cuts are always found.
Centre Street Market, 421 Centre St., Newton.

To get an auto with a top,
Ted went to Murray's carriage shop;
Here tops of every size and kind
Are made—all handsomely designed.
He bought an outfit spick and span;
The price was right, the finish grand.
No better place was ever known,
No finer goods were ever shown.
P. A. Murray, 210-220 Washington St., Newton.

THAT GAME!!! OH MY!!!

The sign board read "Great Base Ball Game (It was) between the market men and business men. Don't miss it." I didn't miss it. In fact now that I have recovered fully enough to put my thoughts on paper I find that I would not have missed it for a large sum. Did they play? Well they did and then some. Wagner's and Tris Speaker's abounded. Home runs on passed balls were common occurrences and at the first of the eighth the score was 16 to two in favor of—well never mind who, I have no desire to be massacred just at present.

The scene of the dreadful carnage was in Cabot Park. The game opened on time an hour late and the large and enthusiastic audience was put in the field on one team or another until the delinquent members arrived. The official scorer (appointed by himself) was Mr. E. E. Snyder who, when the runs began to come in in bunches cried loudly but in vain for an adding machine. The grand stand was packed with the fair sex there being as many as four girls on the scene at one time. The applause was at all times generous and when "Heavy-hitter Sanders" stopped the pitcher for a few minutes to light his pipe and then put it down the bases after a sharp hit, was deafening. The game was simply appalling in its grandeur. No pen can adequately describe how "Al" caught a ball in deep right with his vest. He held it however. Then when Meigs with a scorn of conventionality deliberately sat down on a base runner to whom he had not even been introduced the expression on the faces of both teams would call for a Reuben or a Turner to depict. Wonderful too were the twenty-five foot steps of "Brother Irving" as he tried to beat out a pop fly. Trainer Macpherson who should have known better tried to hunt every time he went to bat and fractured the atmosphere so many times and with such speed that he burned the varnish off the bat. At the beginning of the eighth the losing side managed to get their eye on the ball and then what a swat-fest began. Five runs—Count them—Five. And they insisted on playing another inning. I wanted to stay but my feelings would not permit, but I understand that they pulled down four or five more hits and runs in the next.

Are they going to play again? Well! In spite of the barrels of amice and tons of vasoline used in Newton Corner for the next few days, the defeated ones as well as the winners say they never had so much fun in their lives and they are going to line up again next Thursday afternoon, and I will say in the language of the poster "Don't Miss It." I know that I am going to be there anyway.

A. FAN.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS.

The grammar schools of Newton will hold graduating exercises next week as follows:
Hyde School, Newton Highlands, Tuesday, 9:30 a. m.
Emerson School, Upper Falls, on Tuesday at 8 p. m.
Bigelow School, Newton, Thursday, 9:30 a. m.
Burr School, Auburndale, 10:30 a. m.
Mason School, Newton Centre, Thursday, 3:30 p. m.
There will be no exercises in the Newtonville and West Newton districts.

NEWTON CLUB.

A very enjoyable concert was held at the club Wednesday, the 15th, for the benefit of the Newton Hospital. The weather of the last few days has brought out the tennis players and the courts are in daily use.

BANTAM ATHLETES.

The athletic field day for the grammar schools of the city aroused great interest this year although the bad weather last Saturday caused a postponement to yesterday afternoon. The meet was held on the Newton Centre playground and the place was alive with small fry in all sorts of athletic costumes and noisy with cheers for the winners. While the weather was not satisfactory, the occasional drizzle was ignored in the excitement attendant on the different events.

Playground Director William N. Howard was in charge and the various events were run off with gratifying dispatch. Dr. A. D. Brown of the Newton High Schools was the starter and a score of young men acted as judges, assisted by Masters S. B. Paul of the Mason School, R. J. Sisk of the Burr School, F. F. Carr of the Main School and F. W. Chase of the Bigelow School.

Three classes of events were held, one for juniors, one for intermediates and one for seniors, and with an event taking place in each class at the same time, the attention of the spectators was considerably divided.

Badges were awarded the different winners and a shield given the school winning the greatest number of points. This was won by the Horace Mann with 41 points, Bigelow coming next with 28 1/2, closely pressed by Mason with 26 1/2, Burr 14, Hyde 11, Industrial 6, Stearns and Hamilton 3 each and Pierce last with 2.

SENIOR.

MAID SUE.

An unusual suit for damages has been filed in the East Cambridge Superior Court by Mrs. Elsa L. Palmer of West Newton, who seeks to secure $200 damages from Selma C. Anderson, a Swedish servant girl, because the latter has left her employment. Mrs. Palmer says that when she was in Stockholm, Sweden, last January, the defendant made a contract with her to accompany her to this country and to work for her one year at $1.50 per week, her passage money and board included; and that on April 7 she violated this agreement by going to work for someone else. Mrs. Palmer does not state in her complaint whether Selma was offered higher wages. The case will come up for trial shortly.

—An erratic electric light in the basement of an unoccupied house of J. R. Stuart at 561 Ward street, on Sunday morning, created a burglar scare and caused a hurry up call for the police. The family are away at their summer home.

BOAT CLUB CONCERT.

In spite of the rainy weather a large crowd of music and dance enthusiasts attended the second promenade concert of the June series at the Newton Boat Club last Saturday.

The music was under the direction of Mr. A. H. Handley and rendered by members of the Boston Philharmonic Orchestra. The soloist was William F. Dodge. The programs as arranged are exceptionally pleasing—a dance number occurring after each concert number. The Orchestral Club is maintaining its usual high standard and furnishing much enjoyment.

The members of the club are William F. Dodge, violin; Charles K. North, flute; William G. Dodge, trombone; William Howard, violin; F. D. Record, clarinet; Lawrence Stone, drums; Carl W. Dodge, cello; A. H. Handley, cornet; E. W. Harrison, piano.

HYDE SCHOOL

At the suggestion of the president of the West Newton Christian Temperance Union, Mr. Darius Cobb, the noted artist, has painted a portrait of Frances E. Willard, which he has presented to the Union to be used as an incentive to good work by the pupils and teachers of Newton in the line of physiology, hygiene and the effects of alcohol and narcotics. It is hoped by this means to arouse enthusiasm in this study which the Massachusetts statute law requires shall be systematically taught in the elementary schools. Newton schools are now provided with the Gulek series which are highly endorsed by educators and scientists and are enjoyed by the pupils.

As the result of tests given the pupils it has been decided to place the portrait in the Hyde School for the first year. The presentation exercises will be under the direction of the West Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union, by whom the portrait has been fittingly framed. The exercises will take place at the Hyde School Monday, June 20.

In connection with the presentation June 20 of the portrait of Frances E. Willard to the Hyde School a few quotations in regard to the artist Darius Cobb of Newton Upper Falls may be of interest to your readers.

Darius Cobb with his twin brother Cyrus was born in the birth chamber of Adoniram Judson, the great missionary at Malden, Mass., Aug. 6, 1834. The foundation of the brothers' varied attainments which have made their names prominent aside from their art was laid in their early youth when they made it a rule to rise at 4 o'clock, study music until breakfast, art until the middle of the afternoon, and their literary studies until midnight. * * * What the twin brothers, Cyrus and Darius Cobb, have done for American art can scarcely be even hinted at. Suffice it to say that in the realms of historical painting and sculpture they stand unrivalled.

About 30 years ago Darius produced "Christ Before Pilate," which has taken rank as one of the great masterpieces of modern times. It is universally pronounced the best rendering of the Saviour ever produced in art. He stands in the front rank of portrait painters.

From "Massachusetts of Today," a memorial for the Columbian Exposition, we quote: "Cyrus, twin brother, after a successful law practice of ten years, returned to his painting for a short time. One 'Warren at the Old South' hangs in the Boston Art Museum. His busts have won him renown. The statue of America is one of the most beautiful. * * *

In the realms of historical painting and sculpture they stand unrivalled. * * * Darius established his name as one of the greatest historical painters of modern times."

Among his latest historical paintings at his Boston studio are "Father Abraham" and "The Last Comrade's Final Tribute," a Memorial Day scene in which "the last survivor of the Grand Army of the Republic is shown as placing flowers for the last time on a comrade's grave. An apotheosis of the Grand Army is represented with thousands of comrades descending from the heavens led by the martyred President and the conquering generals to join in the final tribute. A rainbow of peace spans the heavens."

Of "Abraham" an art critic has written: "The nobility of the gesture, the combination of deepest reverence and conscious power are expressive of all that is most grand in man's relation to God. The impersonal, representative character of the father of a nation's appeal to his God as the God of the coming nation, the priestly intercession for the generations yet unborn seem suggested by the mount of vision upon which the patriarch stands and the rolling landscape wrapped in gloom and dimly unfolded that spreads out beneath his feet. And brooding over all is the soul of the dreamer—that deep, like brow and glowing introspective eye."

Darius Cobb's "Father Abraham" is a great religious painting. We are greatly mistaken if it does not come to be taken as a type of this grand Old Testament character.

Among his well known portraits may be mentioned "Governor Andrews" in the State House, "President Capen" at Tufts College, "Gen. Benjamin F. Butler" at Concord, N. H., and "Henry Wilson" at Natick.

We have reason to be proud that we have in Newton a citizen who is such a famous artist, but more that in Mr. Cobb we have one who can preach living, a public-spirited citizen whose patriotism not only led him to serve in the Civil War, but at the age of 75 leads him to donate the product of his brush for the purpose of arousing in our youth a greater ambition and determination to possess a strong body and mind.

NELIE B. RAND.

Before a large gathering, including a number of former graduates, the closing exercises for the term of the Newton Theological Institution were held last week Thursday morning in the First Baptist Church at Newton Centre. On the platform were seated the faculty, officers of the alumni association and others.

Diplomas were awarded to nine seniors and 17 degrees were conferred, eight of the seniors receiving the degree of bachelor of divinity, while two former graduates were awarded the degree of master of theology.

The exercises were opened by the president, Rev. George E. Horr, D. D., and prayer was offered by Rev. Benjamin A. Green, D. D., of Chicago, a member of the class of 1875. The following essays by seniors were heard: "Public reading of the Bible," Earle B. Cross; "The Motive Power of the Christian Ideal," Daniel C. Holton; "The Ethics of Pulpit Utterance," Farrar S. Kinley; "The Mind of God in the Voice of the People," John S. Pendleton; "Sources of Effective Preaching," Walter D. Swaffield.

Dr. Horr presented the diplomas and conferred the degrees and the address to the graduates was made by Prof. John M. English, D. D. Following is the list of seniors: Charles W. Allen, Rockport, Mass.; Phannuel B. Covell (Brown University 1907), Warren, R. I.; Earle B. Cross (Brown University 1905, A. M. 1907, Ph. D. 1909), Providence, R. I.; George H. Holt, (Ottawa University 1907), Stillwater, Okla.; Daniel C. Holton (Kalamazoo College 1907, University of Chicago 1907), Jackson, Mich.; Farrar S. Kinley (Acadia University 1909), Port Hillford, N. S.; Herman G. Patt (Colgate University 1908), Randolph, Mass.; John S. Pendleton (Bates College 1907), Cambridge, Mass.; Walter D. Swaffield (Brown University 1906), Lawrence, Mass.

The degree of bachelor of divinity was conferred on the following: Freeman J. Scott, William E. Braisted, William H. Lane, George B. Marston, Walter B. Shumway, Charles H. Wheeler, Jonas H. Woodsum, Phannuel B. Covell, Earle B. Cross, George H. Holt, Daniel C. Holton, Farrar S. Kinley, Herman G. Patt, John S. Pendleton and Walter D. Swaffield. (Haley Boone of Newton Centre (Brown University 1904, the Newton Theological Institution, B. D., 1907) and Howard A. Pease of Natick (University of Buffalo, M. D., 1892, Harvard University, S. T. B., 1908) were awarded the degree of master of theology.

Following the exercises a luncheon was served in the church parlors by the ladies of the parish and at noon the annual trustees' dinner to the contributors, alumni and others, was served in Bray Hall. At 4 o'clock the student body tendered a reception to all the visitors in Hill Memorial Library at the institution.

STATE FEDERATION

The following reports given at the annual meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs were not printed in our account of last week:

FOOD SANITATION.

gon. They had distributed leaflets on which were printed a synopsis of their pure food laws. We immediately saw the wisdom of such work and put out a thousand synopsis of Massachusetts pure food laws. These have been forwarded with Clubs and urged the adoption of Food Sanitation as far as our appropriations would permit. Some members of our Committees have worked untiringly, visiting Clubs and speaking for the cause. They have responded to all calls, with three or four exceptions. Some members have attended hearings at State House on the Pure Milk Bill, and the changing of the Massachusetts Pure Food Laws to correspond with the National Laws. Others have inspected Faneuil Hall and Quincy Markets, interviewed market inspectors, attended meetings of other organizations, dealing with the same problems, have inspected laboratories, in fact, they have all been busy (except the Chairmen) and accomplished a great deal of work. The one thought of our Committee is, to gather information, and be ready to help others obtain enlightenment. Seventy-five clubs report interest in this department and some active work.

ALICE A. CLARKE, Chairman.

COMMITTEE ON INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Concerning the bill which was the industrial committee's special project this year it is a pleasure to bring good tidings to those of you who have not followed its progress. A bill has been passed by both houses of the legislature, and signed by Governor Draper, which authorizes the appointment by the governor of a Commission to study the subject of factory inspection in Massachusetts. The five persons appointed are to serve without pay; but the sum of five thousand dollars is appropriated for their necessary expenses. These Commissioners have already been named: the five members include a lawyer, a physician, an educator, and one representative each for the employing interest and the labor interest. The industrial committee has felt a pleasure, which they believe all club women will share, in the governor's choice of a woman as an "educator": Miss Emily Balch, professor of economics at Wellesley College.

It must not be inferred that this committee assumes entire responsibility for the passage of this important piece of legislation; it was supported by many other people including prominent trade unionists. But we may state fairly that the bill could not have been introduced without the basis of facts concerning factory inspection systems in Massachusetts and other states which had been accumulated for the industrial committee. This evidence was not intended in any fashion as a reproach against present inspectors, who have usually shown commendable faithfulness in trying to carry out the laws with whose enforcement they have been charged; nor against the many employers who provide good conditions, often even better than those the law requires. But the facts presented did bring out strikingly the peculiar and at many points most illogical division of authority for inspection in Massachusetts.

The supporters of the bill in question did not presume to ask for any definite changes in the inspection system; they asked instead for the appointment of this Commission of people representing different points of view and empowered to call for the opinions of as large a number as may seem necessary of other people acquainted with various phases of the subject.

The second item to be reported is one which will sound like an old story to some of you: a book is about to be published which will embody the results of work done for this committee during the last five or six years. It will include a series of studies on the beginning of labor legislation in Massachusetts, health conditions in factories, the educational provisions of our child labor laws, a comparison of the inspection system in Massachusetts with those elsewhere, and, finally, a digest of all labor laws passed in Massachusetts since 1900. Its chief usefulness will be to people in Massachusetts, and it is the industrial committee's especial desire that the volume may prove of interest and value to the increasing number of club women who are seeking information concerning industrial conditions and industrial laws in their communities.

The work of Savings Bank Insurance was presented as a matter for the clubs to take up next.

Given by Miss Edith Reeves, holder of the fellowship in economics offered by the committee at Radcliffe College, for Mary Morton Kehew, Chairman.

CONSUMERS' LEAGUE

Twice during the year the Subcommittee on the Consumers' League has made an appeal to the clubs of the Federation to give of their strength to the different lines of our work and it is gratifying to report that there has been an increase in the number of clubs which have made donations to the League and which have given a hearing to a Consumers' League speaker. Some clubs have had informal talks by one of their own members.

The foundation has been laid for an approved list of bakeries where conditions seem to be good both for customers and for employees. In order that we might become acquainted with existing conditions through the courtesy of the Boston Board of Health members of our committee with an inspector visited a number of bakeries in different parts of the city and we learned much on those tours of inspection. It is the earnest hope of our committee that this approved list may help to improve those same existing conditions. An attempt was made to secure the name of one or two large bakeries in each of the suburban cities and a circular letter telling of the proposed white list was sent to about twenty-five firms. Replies were received from twenty of these, each of which employ from three to over two hundred men, expressing interest in the movement and asking to be included in the list. The plans of eighteen of these firms have been inspected and sixteen have been accepted for the approved list.

Partly on account of this new work it has been found necessary to increase the office force of the Consumers' League which is in itself a mark of progress, and since all progress carries with it increased responsibilities, we speak for the Consumers' League your continued interest and support.

Ruby P. Clark, Chairman.

LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE

Of the bills in the Legislature for which the Federation has worked this year four have been passed—a bill that no minor under 18 years of age may be employed in work found by the State Board of Health to be sufficiently injurious to justify his exclusion therefrom.

A bill for medical inspection of working children making it necessary for them to have a physician's certificate that they are physically able to engage in their employment.

A bill relative to children in street trades, punishing the parent or person in charge of the minor or the person selling or providing the goods for the minor knowing he is to work illegally, and a bill to rescue women from enforced immorality.

Two bills opposed by the Federation were not passed—the bill allowing children under 15 to be employed in public amusements and the bill to allow veterans of the Spanish war to have special voting in Civil Service examinations.

Three bills that unfortunately failed to pass were the bill on production, transportation and sale of milk; one that children under 16 should not work more than 8 hours a day or 48 hours a week and a third against night employment of children under 16.

The report on the National Children's Bureau Bill and the Hetch Hetchy Valley movement cannot be given at this date.

The chairman recommends that a legislative committee be appointed in each club, and that the committee shall obtain the Legislative Bulletin and copies of bills from the State House; attend hearings and report to the club all information on the bills and interview local representatives and insist that bills affecting women and children be carried to the club.

It is further recommended that the State Committee on Legislative Affairs be enlarged to 14 members to include one clubwoman from each congressional district or a smaller number according to club membership districts.

And lastly, the chairman recommends for her successor, as an absolute necessity, paid clerical assistance.

Alice Parken Lesser, Chairman

CIVICS COMMITTEE.

The Civics Committee comprises six departments:

1. Health.
2. Juvenile Court and Probation Work.
3. Town and Village Improvement.
4. A Saner and Safer Fourth and International Peace.
5. Savings or School Savings Bank.
6. Junior Civic Leagues.

The "Health Department" includes cure and prevention of tuberculosis with all the branch activities for the prevention of disease. Mrs. Folger, the chairman, strongly recommends segregation of tubercular children, sun and fresh air rooms, day camps, the sanitary drinking fountain and the promoting of sex morality and hygiene.

The "Traveling Health Library" has visited 13 towns and four other clubs report that these books have been added to the public libraries of their towns.

Public sentiment has been aroused to the danger of further ignoring the sex hygiene problem. The Massachusetts women strongly favor a department to promote sex morality and hygiene.

The Juvenile Court work moves slowly. Lack of co-operation in the small towns of the entire court district and not enforcing juvenile delinquent laws in the cities are responsible.

Many of the town and village improvement activities have been transferred to public authorities or other organizations. This we consider the highest tribute and the desired result for club power and experimental reforms.

No department of civics ever received more enthusiastic approval than the appeal for A Saner and Safer Fourth and International Peace. Forty-one clubs report interest in these movements.

Active as the above department has been it has not interfered with the progress of the Stamp and School Bank Savings. Fifty-six clubs conduct this work though many report it transferred to school authorities or to societies.

In answer to the question, "How much money has been deposited since its inauguration?" 32 clubs aggregate $190,796.99. The Junior Civic League promises to be of much value in securing the co-operation of our boys and girls and particularly in teaching, at an early age, civic duties and responsibilities.

The woman's club has proved itself a wonderful influence in the moral and physical development of the nation, as is now generally recognized and Massachusetts women have contributed their share—lessening disease, through intelligent preventive methods, decreasing crime by guarding the child, teaching thrift and promoting true patriotism, through loyalty to civic duties and opportunities.

HARD LUCK

Rain again interfered with the carrying out of the program of the postponed field day on Saturday of the Newton Catholic Club of West Newton, but rather than disappoint the large crowd that attended as many attractions as were possible under the circumstances were offered.

With the exception of a baseball game that was played on a soggy diamond, most of the long list of sports was given up entirely, including the three-mile road race that had attracted many amateur runners.

In the baseball game the club
team defeated a team from the St.
Alphonse A. A. by a score of 14 to
1. The home players had better control over the slippery ball and also had several batting rallies.

The other events finished as follows:
Ball throwing for girls—Won by Miss Jennie Sheridan, distance 115 feet.

Sack race—Won by Richard Lyons, second, John King.
Three-legged race—Won by Lyons and Hammon; second, McBride and Clinton.

100-yard dash for boys under 12—
Won by John Doyle.

Throughout the afternoon frequent showers drove the throng into the various tents and pavilions, this circumstance making business lucrative for those who were in charge of the various booths for there was but little to do except patronize the tables.

A minstrel show was presented but
was cut short because of the rain.
In the evening, however, the moon shone and the attendance was large enough to make up the deficit of earlier in the day. The dancing floor was crowded all evening and all of the many attractions were well patronized. Two performances of the minstrel show were given. Miss Louise Hargaden was the interlocutor and included in the circle were
the following: Misses Jennie Kneeland, Bertha Neagle, Margaret Gaw, Grace
Marven, Marion Gaw, Rose Powers
and Emily O'Halloran, Frank Maloney, Fred McGuire, John Hackett, John Keefe, Frank Foley, Edward
Sheridan, Charles McCarthy, John
Terrio, Thomas Fitzgerald and Angus McNeill.

The general committee, which superintended the entire affair was made up as follows: Rev. Francis J.
Cronin, chairman; T. C. Hickey, vice-chairman; John Connors, secretary;
Thomas Donovan, treasurer; Milo
Hargaden, T. D. Murphy, J. J. Curran. Officers of other committees were: Tickets, Thomas F. Reynolds, chairman; grounds and decorations,
James R. Condrin, chairman; William Cahill, Jr., secretary; printing and advertising, John J. McGrath, chairman; Mrs. M. H. Garrity, secretary; music and entertainment,
Daniel Linnehan, chairman; Edmund
Neagle, secretary; sports, Thomas J.
Greene, chairman; William Fanning,
secretary; sales table, Augustin Mc-Grath, chairman; Thomas Davis, secretary; refreshments, B. D. Farrell, chairman; Thomas J. Noone, secretary; candy table, Misses Sarah A.

MEMORIAL

A beautiful memorial window, given by Mr. Harry L. Burrage in memory of his mother, Mrs. Ruby Childs Burrage of West Newton, was dedicated last Sunday morning by Rev. Julian
C. Jaynes.

The window is one of the best examples of modern English work and is intended as a companion piece to the one on the opposite side of the church. It represents scenes from the life of Jesus. The three principal panels relate to his infancy, while the smaller ones depict events of his mature life.

The central panel represents the nativity, and bears the inscription,
"His name was called Jesus."
At the left the angels are seen announcing this message to the halfawakened shepherds. The inscription reads, "Behold, I bring you glad tidings of great joy."

On the right are the wise men from the far East, who, clad in splendid raiment, lay their costly gifts beside the cradle of the wondrous babe. This panel is inscribed with the words,
"They rejoiced with exceeding great joy."

The predellas beginning at the left represents: First, the baptism at the beginning of Jesus' ministry; second,
his reception of the little children, as symbols of the purity and simplicity
of those who belong to the kingdom of God; and third, that remarkable scene in history where Christianity and Paganism stand face to face, and Jesus with tied hands confronts the Roman Pilate and quietly says: "I am come to bear witness to the truth."

"A penny saved is a penny earned."
Coal bills cut down with more satisfactory results, is the record of the "WINCHESTER" steam or hot water heater. Modern construction tells.

NORUMBEGA PARK.

The protracted rainy season followed by exceptionally warm weather
of the past few days has had a material benefit in beautifying the painstaking work of the landscape gardener at Norumbega Park. As every patron knows one of the greatest delights in visiting this picturesque woodland resort on the banks of the Charles River is found in the luxuriant shrubbery, beautiful foliage and the landscape gardening affects, and the June roses are now out in such profusion that any lover of horticulture is bound to go into ecstasies over the array of rich red roses. In the new open-air theatre for the coming week, beginning Monday afternoon, June 27, a vaudeville program is provided which will easily eclipse
any previous offering this season.

PROPRIETORS VS CLERKS

SOME "CLASS" SHOWN BY THE OSLERITES

SCORE 20 TO 9 IN PROPRIETORS' FAVOR

That "a little nonsense now and then, is relished by the best of men", was proven Thursday afternoon when the "Proprietors and Clerks" met in a ball game in Cabot Park. With its customary disregard for cost where news is concerned the GRAPHIC had a special correspondent on the scene together with a photographer, who in presenting some of the portraits of the ball tossers, begs to apologize for their color, the truth of the matter being that the game was so hot that all of the plates were over exposed.

The billboard read:
"Positively the Grandest and Most Celebrated Aggregation of World Renowned Ball Tossers ever gathered Upon One Field. Secured only for this one game to illustrate and Exemplify to the Youth of our Grand City, the Marvelous and Intricate Possibilities of Our National Game. Today at 2.30. Cabot Park. In order to accommodate the crowds the Gates of the Park will open at Noon."

"Possibilities of Our National Game is just the sentence to use, although if the words ground and lofty tumbling could have been worked in somewhere, the poster would have come nearer telling the truth. As a general good time it was an unqualified success, but as a ball game we have our doubts and they are very serious ones at that.

Bringing on the "First Aid to the Injured Kid."

The score was 20 to 9 against the clerks who, while they had both youth and agility on their side could not connect with the Proprietors who put the Osler theory utterly to rout.

The lineup on the score cards was as follows:
Proprietors: Wilson, Reisma, Sanderson, Newcomb, Rees, Walt, Bascom, Aldrich, Naylor.

Clerks: Collier, Egan, Nash, Woods, Chase, Melgs, Collins, Wand, Rees.

The Props. went to bat in the first inning and Wilson unlimbered a red hot clover cutter and made a home run. Walt the second man at the plate tried to duplicate this feat but used his finger instead of the bat to hit the leather and was first on the hospital list. It was in this inning that "Capt." did his hunting for an honest man stunt in deep left only he was looking for the ball instead.

"Strike One the Umpire said!"

The inning closed with a score of 3 to 2 in favor of the Props. while the error column would have looked like this 18304598723.

Everything went as smoothly as a hay rick on a corduroy road until the third when it was discovered that gonial "AI" at short stop had a large sized cavity between his knees and ankles, through which the ball had a most aggravating habit of saying. In this inning the Clerks whitewashed the Props, and added two runs to their own score.

Attention should be called to the size of the mitt used by "Art". It is evident that this was made necessary by the dazzling speed of Bascom's corner cutters.

Nothing got by the catcher.

A double play by Newcomb and Aldrich livened things up in the next inning. In the sixth, with two out, the Props. got their eyes on the ball and made five runs. It was at this stage of the game that Wilson attempted to steal home and in spite of the fact that eight players of the Clerks tried to catch him out he managed to return to third safe. This was without doubt the wierdest exhibition of ball playing that has been seen on any diamond.

A very neat pick up...

At this point the umpire was overcome by the heat of the game and it was found necessary to put in a substitute.

He declared that it was 98 degrees in the shade**** and had to be relieved before any serious decisions were called for.

In the seventh the Props. again pulled off their favorite stunt of making five runs when two men were out and there was walling and knocking of teeth on the part of the Clerks.

"Harry" covering real estate on his way to third after a hot one.

It was in the ninth that Newcomb spoiled his reputation as being an honest man by stealing a base in a most barefaced manner.

There was only one "slide" in the game and "George did it". What he needed after that slide is most graphically shown in the following sketch.

When the nine innings were over it was decided to play a couple more as the Clerks claimed to have their second wind, but our reporter stayed only long enough to see that they would be much worse than any before and his feelings would not permit him to remain.

The summary:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Props.	3	2	0	0	1	5	5	4	0
Clerks	2	1	2	0	0	1	0	1	2
Props. 20.
Clerks 9.

*There are no gates.

**There were no score cards.

***Not made by any member of either team.

****There was no shade.

P. S. The clerks played better ball BUT—Runs count.

N. B. The Graphic Press has offered to donate fish nets for catching liners and glue to hold them for the next game.

After That Slide

MAN INJURED.

In a collision between an automobile and a motor cycle near Norumbega Park Wednesday night Edward Edmunds, 23 years old, of Melrose street, Auburndale, was severely injured. He is now at the Newton Hospital suffering from a compound fracture of the left leg and many bruises. The automobile was driven by a young man who gave the name of John Thayer of Worcester. He declared that the cyclist was going at good speed and attempted to cut across in front of the automobile, a head-on smash resulting. The motor cycle was wrecked and the automobile was so badly damaged that it was put out of commission. Edmunds was removed to the hospital in another machine.

ELIOT PRIZES.

The Eliot prizes this year have been awarded to Doris Holmes first, Dorothy Simpson second and honorable mention to Lloyd Schafer and Sally Damon. All of those children attend the Bigelow School. The judges were Mr. Gibbs and Mrs. Palmer of Newtonville and Mrs. Cook of West Newton.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Joseph Feola, the 11-year-old son of Frank Feola of Charlesbank road, had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday afternoon in the Charles River, off the boat at the end of Charlesbank road. The lad was fishing from an improvised raft and fell overboard. He had gone down twice when Park Police Officer Dominick O'Connor was attracted by the cries of the lad's companions and hastening to the spot on his motor cycle, dove into the river and brought the boy to shore. He applied first aid remedies so effectively that the boy was able to go home alone. Officer O'Connor deserves great credit for his prompt and effective act.

SPENCER—ISBESTER.

The wedding of Miss Edna May Isbester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Isbester, and Harry Lovering Spencer, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Spencer of Newton, took place Wednesday morning in the First Baptist Church, Roxbury, Rev. J. Stanley Durkee officiating.

Miss Anna K. Spencer was maid of honor. The best man was Frank Spencer, and the ushers included Caleb S. Spencer, Donald Stevens and Frank Isbester. The couple left for an automobile trip through western Massachusetts and New York. Upon their return they will reside at 1178 Commonwealth avenue, Allston.

Miss Tessie Bear had stylish tastes; She wanted dry goods, fancy waists And frills and ribbons were her fad; She asked where such things might be had. At F. D. Tarlton's she found the place To purchase dress goods, silks and lace; For women's finery galore is all complete in this fine store.

F. D. Tarlton & Co., 899 Watertown St., West Newton.

When weather makes a sudden change There's nothing like a stove or range, And so the Teddies went in quest, Of a store that sells the very best. At E. E. Snyder's they were shown The finest stove stock ever known; Their every want was here supplied— No wonder they are satisfied.

E. E. Snyder, 392 Centre St., Newton.

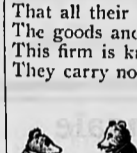

Confections are the Teddies' dream, They're fond of sodas and ice cream; Into Partridge's Pharmacy they strayed, Where every delicacy is made, Ices, candy, sweet and pure, Dainties fit for connoisseurs, Flavors rich and rare and sweet, Served by clerks so clean and neat.

E. F. Partridge, Washington and Walnut Sts., Newtonville.

The Teddies' shoes were badly worn From trudging over brush and thorn, And so a store they quickly sought Where finest footwear could be bought. At Walker's shoe house they were told, The highest grade was always sold. They stepped inside and in a trice Each one wore shoes that fit so nice

That all their hearts beat with delight—

The goods and prices were just right— This firm is known from East to West, They carry nothing but the best.

Walker Shoe Co., 267 Washington St., Newton.

One Teddy Bear stepped up the street And soon came back attired so neat. That all his friends said: "Well, well, well, 'We'll change your name to Teddy Swell.' His shirt and collar, fancy hose And neckwear matched his handsome clothes; His fine kid gloves and kerchief too Were up-to-date—all nice and new.

"Where can we find such goods?" they cried. "At Otis Bros.," Ted Swell replied.

"Their price is low, their stock complete; For gents' furnishings they can't be beat."

Otis Bros., 279-281 Washington St., Newton.

The houses of these Teddies grand Were put up by a master hand; They called on C. F. Jones, the builder man, To him they explained their cherished plan. He did the work and did it well As all who've seen the jobs can tell. His work he always guarantees; That's why it never fails to please.

C. F. Jones, 370 Centre St., Newton.

To choose fine paper for the wall At Hough & Jones' they make a call; All latest styles from which to pick, Their tastes were suited very quick. And window shades, they too were fine, No store could keep a grander line. The Teddies Bears now take delight In dealing here—best goods, prices right.

Hough & Jones Co., 244 Washington St., Newton.

When water pipes begin to leak, A plumber is the man to seek. The firm that's widely known for skill Is the only one to fill the bill. To B. M. Thomas the Teddies flew And now those pipes are fine as new. All plumbing work is promptly done At lowest price beneath the sun.

B. M. Thomas, 431 Centre St., Newton.

Ted Strong so neat and clean and tall Was the handsomest Teddy of them all. Oh, how his jet black hair did shine, All combed and brushed so very fine. His cheeks so smooth and beard so trim, All girls made goo-goo eyes at him. His neatness is due to a frequent stop At Fell Bros' barber shop.

Fell Bros., Washington St., opp. Bank, Newton.

Canned goods, produce, fresh and fine, Everything in the grocer's line. Teas and coffees, fruits and spice And all such dainties pure and nice, Sugars, raisins, eggs just laid, Dairy butter, freshly made. All these things and thousands more, Are sold at H. W. Bates' store.

H. W. Bates, 285-287 Walnut St., Newtonville.

Said Teddy Plump, "I do declare I'm just as hungry as a bear," To Price's Lunch room then they sped And on the choicest they were fed; They soon were feeling fat and fine; Said Ted, "This is the place to dine."

Price's Lunch, 352 Centre St., Newton.

"Here's the place," a Teddy cries Where they sell Kodaks and supplies. At W. E. Tomlinson's you'll find, Amateur photography of every kind. Cameras, films, and dry plates too, An ample supply and everything new.

W. E. Tomlinson, 1421-1423 Washington St., West Newton.

Miss Jessie was a pretty bear, The finest shoes she loved to wear. To F. D. Tarlton's she did flit, And there she found a perfect fit. Such dainty footwear—prices right: Miss Jessie Bear purrled with delight. An endless stock from which to choose, Of ladies', men's and children's shoes.

F. D. Tarlton & Co., 899 Watertown St., West Newton.

GENERAL WM. A. BANCROFT

BELIEVES BOSTON NEEDS A LEADER

Gen. William A. Bancroft urges the need of an unselfish leadership for the common good, which neither secretly nor in the open has any personal advantage at stake. He declares that he does not consider the eventual appearance of such leadership entirely a dream. The general says:

"What Boston needs is a leader—a man who would have for his object the advancement of the community, and for his incentive the consciousness of such an advancement. Such a man should be possessed of the qualities of leadership, large capacity, large intelligence, sound judgment and good balance."

"Such a man should have abundant personal pecuniary resources; should be without political or financial personal ambition, indeed, without any ambition except to see the community developed along rational lines, lines that would not destroy vested interests; indeed, that would enable existing useful interests to act in harmony; that would direct community resources for the common good."

"Such a man would be selfish, but his selfishness would be that of an amateur athlete, a member of an athletic team whose object is to enable his team to win, not to gain personal advantage. This is sometimes called the 'spirit of team play.'"

Harmony Necessary.

"Of course, 'team play' would be essential to such a man. He would have to arouse harmonious action on the part of the diverse elements in the community, but essentially he should be a leader of men, not for his personal gain, but for the gain of the entire community."

"The need may be illustrated by contrasting it with many 'movements' which have been projected. The instrumentality would be the opposite of these. Such a man would not make use of public sentiment to build up his own private business. Such a man would not make use of public sentiment to carry himself into public office. Such a man would not make use of public sentiment to advance a particular fad. Such a man would not make use of popular prejudice to destroy a particular institution against which he had a grudge. Such a man would not do many things now commonly done. Very likely such a man will not be forthcoming; but him I am not asked to supply, simply to state what I think is needed."

"And yet I believe that the above ideas are not altogether chimerical. Such men have appeared in other concerns of life. A man devotes himself to sport for the sake of sport, takes up yachting and develops the art of navigation. A man devotes himself to sport for the sake of sport and develops a breed of horses. A man devotes himself to art for art's sake, and beautiful buildings, beautiful parks, beautiful paintings, beautiful statuary result. A man devotes himself to philosophy, and a philosophic system is evolved. A man devotes himself to religion and a dogma is evolved which may embrace millions of followers."

Man Yet to be Found.

"I have never heard that anybody with adequate resources has ever devoted himself to the difficult task of municipal development for its own sake. A number have made profession, but when they have been examined they were found wanting, either in resource or in sincerity. I certainly make no objection to ethical development, or to commercial development, but a man may be so engrossed in a particular ethical fad as to make him unfit for community leadership. A man may be so restricted by commercial affairs as to make him unfit to direct community interests. His objects in some respects may clash with others. A politician—and I use the word in no offensive sense, meaning rather a publicist—who is ambitious to hold public office, may be, and usually is, so entangled that his personal advancement is inconsistent with community leadership."

"Various efforts which are put forth, each one to advance some single object at any cost, no matter if it disregards and even obstructs other worthy objects, are common illustrations of the leadership which is not needed, or, if needed, which should be curbed and directed."

"Nothing is more common than for a person seeking some personal end to attach himself to what is called a 'movement.' The underlying purpose of these 'movements' themselves may be narrowly and selfishly personal, and not 'readily and unselfishly' for the general advantage. When some strong, resourceful man, whose only purpose is to 'play the game,' shall be found, who will be recognized as a genuine leader in community advancement, then, and not until then, will Boston have obtained its greatest needs."

Combination Coal and Gas

Crawford Ranges

The Crawford Gas Ovens are safe. They are lighted in a new way; there is no dangerous pilot light and explosions are impossible. This improvement is patented and very important.

The Damper is automatically opened by opening oven door to light the burners, which cannot be lighted until the door is opened.

In these Gas Ovens there is an extra set of burners at the top for broiling; a great advantage over the ordinary gas oven, insuring better broiling and great convenience.

The Oven Bottoms and Racks are cast iron, and the outer walls are triple—an interlining of asbestos between two sheets of iron, which assists to retain the heat.

The use of these Gas Ovens does not interfere in any way with the operation of the coal range—both can be used at the same time.

Double Oven above or Single Oven at end of range.

Circulars Free.

When the order presented by the majority of the finance committee instructing that committee to insert
the item of $324,000 for school expenses in the annual appropriation and with the consent of Alderman Blakemore raised the point of order that the order was too mandatory and with the consent of Alderman Burr the amendment that the committee be "informally advised"
on the matter, was adopted.

Alderman Blakemore then suggested an amendment reducing the amount to $316,000, and said that in order to clear up the situation he had written Supt. Spaulding as to the effect this amount would have on the schools. He then read Dr. Spaulding's reply to the effect that if $324,000
was appropriated, the classes in the Classical High School would remain at 25 or 26 each as at present; if $316,000 was given, these classes
would be increased to 35 or 36 each.
Mr. Blakemore then said:

The only question is whether we should make our classes larger or not in the Classical High. They are very much smaller than in any other surrounding city and 26 pupils to a teacher is very small and it is a measure of extravagance at this time.
With a $20 tax rate we should make some effort to economize in the school department. The superintendent of schools is a man of exactly the kind
we want, a man that is live and active and he has told us that he needs
this money and if he does not get it it will be an injury. He told that same thing to the board last year, but no one has suggested that the board made has been a detriment. The public schools have been efficient and we hope to keep them
so. Very wealthy men can go to live in Brookline, Lincoln and Dover,
where the taxes are one-third of ours
and they are not coming to Newton.
We cannot make our tax rate much higher. The fact is we are spending more—we are spending more than any other city in the United States and it seems to me this additional expense at this time is a mere extravagance.

Alderman Towle said: I simply wish to endorse what Mr. Blakemore has just said. It is true that we are both new members of the finance committee. We both have some knowledge of school matters—both have been residents for a long time and we feel that we may know a little something about the schools,
even though we are new members,
and I fully agree with him that the time has come, it came some little time ago to make some reduction. I believe that Newton should have as good schools as any city, but I do believe that the time has come to stop
some extravagance and I most heartily believe that this amendment
should pass.

Alderman Moore said: This appropriation of $324,000 is somewhat less than what the school board asked for.
The difference in our tax rate will be only about 10 cents and I doubt if any taxpayer should suffer for the lack of 10 cents. The gentleman also suggests that there has been no difficulty with the handling of the school appropriation. It may not be apparent this year but unless we manage to carry out our system it is going to be apparent some time. I do not believe that 25 is any too many
for any teacher to handle.

Alderman Burr said: This appropriation now is slightly less than the appropriation the Mayor recommended last year. This appropriation calls for an increase. There is a new class which must be cared for in the T. H. S. To meet that increase the school committee proposes to make a saving in the item of supplies and incidentals and much of this appropriation they will be obliged to continue to try to make next year. It is possible that the gentleman from Ward 1 is right that the schools could get along with less than $324,000. I certainly am not willing to go on record that he is wrong but I believe that this expenditure is a good one to make. I believe that the school committee for the first time are now meeting the Board of Aldermen on this question
on their own ground and the feeling on my part is that the strenuous efforts we have made for the past two years to reduce the school expenditure are now appreciated and the school committee are trying to meet us half way.

Alderman Miller said: The appropriation for last year was $316,000
and starting on that basis the superintendent of schools figured that a certain number of new teachers would be needed amounting to $7000, and certain reduction in teachers amounting to $4000, and he figures certain savings over last year in the way of supplies and conveyance, etc.

Together these make $10,440 more the coming year than this year and that would make the appropriation for the coming year $326,000. The committee on schools considered it from the standpoint of economy very carefully and were unanimous on the figure of $324,000.

Alderman Blakemore said: The argument of the gentleman from Ward 5 that the taxes will be only 10 cents more is very vicious, and if we were going to consider it in that light it seems to me we would never stop this increase. The only argument which I heard before the committee was the argument of policy that the school committee has shown, and it seems to me that is most significant,
and I have not heard a word as to the effect in other places. There has not been anything said about the deleterious effect where they have from 35 to 50 in a class. Now if they had any experience it seems to me that the superintendent would know about it. The fact is he is an enthusiast. He has said recently that we ought to spend three times
as much on our schools. The question at this time is not a question of policy but a question as to whether the board is ready to save about 12 cents on the tax rate, by increasing not by decreasing the size of some of the classes. That is the question and it seems to me when the gentleman talk about the policy of the committee they are getting far from the question.

Alderman Avery said: I think it is a very difficult thing to interfere with the management of the schools and the superintendent is a man who is employed and he understands it thoroughly and I think the board should act on the recommendation of the committee on schools and give the school committee the sum asked for the coming year.

Alderman Gray said: The committee on schools this year made as careful a study as it was possible. They spent a great deal of time in the study of just how the moneys were expended and the percentage of increase that had been expended covering the last few years. In reaching the amount that they did—$324,- 000—they felt that it was giving to the school committee only what they reasonably needed to maintain the policy that had been pursued for a number of years and which this board had provided by its appropriations.

The Blakemore amendment was then defeated, with but three votes in its favor cast by Blakemore, Towle and Underwood, and 14 against. Later in the session Alderman Sullivan stated that he had misunderstood the effect of this amendment and asked for a reconsideration, which was refused after a little debate, 10 to 7.

The board adjourned at a late hour
until Sept. 12.

His Tokens of Farewell.
Among the legends that have gathered around Sir Alfred Jones' name is one to the effect that he was in the habit of signifying to an office visitor,
by offering him a banana, that he desired to end the interview. If the banana was accepted and the call prolonged Sir Alfred arose and presented his visitor with a fine flower from one of the glass stands in his office. But, supposing his visitor stayed after the flower—well, the legend continues, Sir Alfred then offered a pass to the West Indies on one of his small steamers, with a free holiday for six weeks
at his hotel.

It is told, however, that on one occasion Sir Alfred got the worst of the banana trick. A young reporter called on him to learn on behalf of his newspaper something about the shipping conflict. When, after a ten seconds' conversation regarding the weather, Sir Alfred's hand was straying toward the banana plate, the reporter hooked
a couple of bananas out of his own pocket. In the sweetest tone of lucucence he said, "Will you have a banana, Sir Alfred?"—Westminster Gazette.

The Vital Test.
"My eyes seem to be all wrong," explained Mr. Pinchenny to the expensive oculist. "They're weak and tire easily. After a bit everything seems to swim before them. Bright lights make me dizzy. Can you assist me?"
The expensive oculist nodded.

"Your case is a common one," he replied, "but I fear it will necessitate a treatment extending over several months. However, I can guarantee an absolute and enduring cure."

Biweekly for several months Mr.
Pinchenny was treated, and day by day his sight waxed stronger and more strong.

"Do you think I'm all right now?"
he inquired at last.

"Mr. Pinchenny," replied the oculist, beaming, "I think I can assure you that your eyes are now cured
but there is one more test I would be as well to apply." Here he held up a little sheet of paper. "See," he said suavely, "if you can read this little bill of mine at twelve inches
without blinking."—London Answers

Temples of Siam.

Once a year all the Buddhist temples
in Siam are visited by the king or his deputies, bearing the phra kathin (yellow robes), in conformity with an ancient custom by which the priests were made to seek their apparel for the ensuing year. During the lifetime of Buddha monks and priests were sent out to beg for old castoff garments, which were afterward dyed yellow and patched together to form the required robes. This ancient mendicant custom gradually gave place to the present one of making the garments from a new cloth of a bright canary yellow, provided by joint contributions of king, princes, nobles and commoners.

When the king goes in the royal throne barge to present the robes in person
he does so with great pomp and ceremony. The priestly garments, folded in bundles, are carried to the door of the temple to await the appearance of his majesty and his suit. The king on arriving takes a priestly robe and places it on a decorated altar. The chief priest then lays his hands on the garment and chants an acknowledgment.
—Wide World Magazine.

Won by His Wit.
A story is told of an English clergyman who owed his appointment to a rich living to a lucky pun. He was tutor to the son of a nobleman and had not long taken orders when he attended the funeral of the rector of the parish in which the nobleman's son was situated. The father of his pupil was patron of the living and was also present at the funeral of the deceased rector. There was a young clergyman present also whose grief was so demonstrative that the noble patron was much affected by the sight and asked if the young man was a son of the deceased gentleman.

"Oh, dear, no, my lord—no relation
at all," said the tutor.

"No relation?" exclaimed the noble-
man in a surprised tone.

"None, my lord. He is the curate, and I think he is not weeping for the dead, but for the living."

His lordship, who was something of a wit and a cynic himself, was so delighted with the bonnet that he conferred the living upon the ready pun-ster.

Through a Big Telescope.

The first look through a great telescope is disappointing, but the novice
soon sees that the flat appearance which the heavens present to the naked eye is replaced by a curious con-cavity; the moon and stars seem to be hung in space rather than spread out on a flat surface. For a moment one feels at the telescope like a child
watching the swift moving balls kept in the air by a juggler and expecting to see one of those great, bright bodies fall. Then comes the thought, "What keeps them there, apparently suspended in space with absolutely nothing to hold them firm? The explanation of the learned astronomer causes the brain of the layman to whirl, and he sees himself, perhaps for the first time, as a child gathering pebbles on the great shores of the sea of knowledge or as "an infant in the night,
an infant crying for the light, and with no language but a cry."—National Magazine.

The New Hen.
Of the late Atherton Blight, one of the founders of fashionable Newport,
a Philadelphian said:

"Mr. Blight was amused by the antiques of the militant suffragettes. At a luncheon at the Bellevue he once sat
next to a lady with suffragette notions.
Plovers' eggs, hard boiled,
formed one course, and the lady called Mr. Blight's attention to the high cost of plovers' eggs that year.

"Even though," she said, 'they have to be shipped from England, I don't see why their price should have nearly doubled, do you?'"

"Well—or not exactly," murmured
Mr. Blight, 'though they do say the hen plovers have taken to acting very oddly of late—strutting around, and growing topknots and spurs, and even trying to learn to crow.'"—Exchange.

Court Dress of Laureate.

Tennyson's court dress when he received the laureateship did not cost him much, for it was the same court dress worn by Wordsworth, who in turn had it from the old poet Rogers.
It is still in the Wordsworth family. It is a wonder how Tennyson and Wordsworth got into it, for Rogers was a little fellow. Tennyson had no passion for courts, and so he went in second hand to save cost.—New York Press.

A Careless Man.
Father—Why have you quarreled with Harry? Daughter—Because he proposed to me last night. Father—Well, there was no harm in that, was there? Daughter—But I had accepted him the night before.—Illustrated Bits.

Perseverance.
Perseverance is more prevailing than violence, and many things which cannot be overcome when they are together yield themselves up when taken little by little.

Strict Obedience.
Salesman—Shir, sir. Will you have a negligee or a stiff bosom? Customer—Negligee, I guess. The doctor said I must avoid starched things.—Boston

Do You Really Love Dogs?
Perhaps the final test of anybody's love of dogs is willingness to permit them to make a camping ground of the bed. There is no other place in the world that suits the dog quite so well. On the bed he is safe from being stepped upon, he is out of the way of drafts, he has a commanding position from which to survey what goes on in the world, and, above all, the surface is soft and yielding to his outstretched limbs. No mere man can ever be so comfortable as a dog looks. Some persons object to having a dog on the bed at night, and it must be admitted that he lies a little heavily upon one's limbs, but why be so base as to prefer comfort to companionship? To wake up in the dark night and put your hand on that warm, soft body, to feel the beating of that faithful heart—is not this better than undisturbed slumber? The best night's rest I ever had was once when a cocker spaniel puppy, who had just recovered from stomach ache (dosed one to two soda milks) and was a little frightened by the strange experience, curled up on my shoulder like a fufi tippet, gently pushed his cold, soft nose into my neck and there slept sweetly and soundly until morning.—H. C. Merwin in Atlantic.

Absentminded Dyer.

Charles Lamb had a friend named George Dyer who was perhaps the most absentminded man on record. It was Dyer who, leaving Lamb's Islington home at broad noonday, walked straight into the New river. He was known to take up a coal scuttle instead of his hat, to walk home with a footman's cocked hat on and even to leave one of his shoes under the table and get well on his homeward way before discovering his loss. He called at a friend's one morning, heard that the family was away in the country, left his name in the visitors' book, and a few hours later called again, asked for the book again and was astonished to see his own freshly written name. Once, when Proctor breakfasted with him, Dyer forgot the tea. The omission being noted, he filled the teapot with ginger. Proctor left as soon as he could to get a better breakfast at a coffee tavern, and there Dyer strolled in and asked him how he did, quite unconscious of having seen him earlier.

Lawyer's Wills.

A remarkable specimen of a lawyer's invalid will was that of Sir Joseph Jeckyll, master of the rolls, who died in 1738 and bequeathed his fortune after his wife's death to pay off the national debt. "Sir Joseph was a good man and a good lawyer," was Lord Mansfield's comment, "but his bequest was a very foolish one. He might as well have attempted to stop the middle arch of London bridge with his full bottomed wig." The testator's patriotic intentions were therefore treated as proof of mental weakness, and his will was promptly set aside. Among the many blundering wills that lawyers have made for their clients, if not for themselves, the strangest on record was that of a Dublin gentleman who left all his money to the elder son of his brother and, if he had no elder son, to the second.—London Chronicle.

Raindrops.

Drops of rain vary in size perhaps from a twenty-fifth to a quarter of an inch in diameter. In parting from the clouds they precipitate their descent till the increasing resistance opposed by the air becomes equal to their weight, when they continue to fall with uniform velocity. This velocity is therefore in a certain ratio to the diameter of the drops; hence thunder and other showers in which the drops are large pour down faster than a drizzling rain. A drop of the twenty-fifth part of an inch in falling through the air would, when it had arrived at its uniform velocity, acquire a celerity of only eleven and a half feet per second, while one of a quarter of an inch would have a velocity of thirty-three and a half feet.

A Peacemaker.

It is a commonly accepted belief that nothing short of being pried loose will induce a bulldog to give up his grip on another dog or on an intruder, but this is a mistake. A little household ammonia poured on him as near his nose as circumstances will allow will make him let go immediately. The fumes of ammonia are so overpowering that a dog cannot possibly maintain his grip and his breath at the same time.—Country Life in America.

A Word to Parents.

Never amuse your children at the expense of other people; never allow your children to ridicule other people. Neglect this advice and the time will assuredly come when these children will amuse themselves with your follies and ridicule your authority.—Exchange.

Which Was the Worse?

"When I returned from my poked party last night my wife just looked at me; not a word was spoken."
"My wife looked at me, too, and I don't believe that a word was unsaid."
—Houston Post.

Reaching Conclusion.

"I imagine from your speech that you are a taxidermist."
"What makes you think so?"
"Principally because you tell me I am as wise as an owl and then try to stuff me."
—Exchange.

Peaceful.

Mrs. Frost—Who was it that said "Peace, perfect peace?" Frost—Some one whose telephone was out of order.—Life.

Cheerfulness is one of the surest indications of good sense.

THRIFT TEACHING IN OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The Legislature having recommended such action, Supt. Spaulding and the school committee of Newton will have an incentive next season to introduce instruction in "thrift" into the public school curriculum. Section 1 of Chapter 42 of the Revised Laws, as passed by the General Court this session, and signed by Governor Draper, states that "Civil government, ethics, thrift and such other subjects as the school committee may consider expedient may be taught in the public schools."

The specific mention of thrift teaching grew not only out of the general situation in which on account of the high cost of living the necessity of a return to the homely virtues of economy and foresight is imperative for many people, but because of the specific suggestions of the Old Age Pension Commission.

This body, which was appointed to investigate the subject of old age pensions in this and other countries, reported to the Legislature that it would be inexpedient at the present time to add to the already heavy burden of general taxation by providing state paid pensions for elderly people. Among several alternative recommendations stress was laid upon the importance of systematic teaching of thrift in the schools. The idea appealed strongly to Governor Draper and leading members of the Legislature, with the result that it was enacted into legislation.

Ways and means of introducing this subject are already being considered by at least one active organization, the Massachusetts Savings Insurance League, with headquarters at 161 Devonshire street, Boston, whose monthly bulletin says editorially:

"The insurance committee of the Massachusetts Legislature has recently reported favorably a bill for the compulsory teaching of thrift in the public schools of the Commonwealth. There is no better way to interest the pupils of our high schools in thrift than by informing them about the advantages of savings bank insurance. As various penny savings schemes have been established in our elementary schools, the next logical step will be the establishment of agencies for savings bank insurance in our high schools. Our public school teachers are willing to cooperate, and the coming year will doubtless see many addresses given on savings bank insurance to the scholars of our high schools; such an address has recently been given in Lexington and one has been arranged for at the Whitman High School."

A public school committee of the woman's branch of this organization is energetically taking up the question of thrift teaching and is preparing to send a letter with detailed suggestions to all women's clubs throughout the state. It is understood that a committee of Boston school principals have a similar undertaking in hand, and that elsewhere the problem is under serious consideration.

NEWTON CENTRE PLAYGROUND.

Eleanor Dowd has won the girls' Mason School tennis championship, being victor in the finals played last week. The finals for the boys' tournament will be played today.

The Bishop Gate Juniors have won the Midget League championship. The team has been made up as follows: John Ryan, c.; Norman Willison, p.; Jack Cummings, 1b.; Horace Hawks, 2b.; James Guiler, s.s.; Lawrence Rice, 3b.; Clarence Chapin, 1. f.; Whitney Ireland, c. f.; Robert Bishop, r. f.

All entries for Fourth of July sports must be in by Friday evening, July 1. At these games the space inside the track is to be reserved for officials and contestants.

The playground committee invited the children of the village under 8 or 10 who have had practice in the exercise of saluting the flag to meet at the playground on the morning of the Fourth of July and participate with their parents and friends as onlookers in this beautiful and patriotic pageant. The arrangement for this was made after the Fourth of July program had been issued. The committee will supply flags and will present to each child the flag he or she uses in this salute.

PETITION OF THE BOSTON & ALBANY RAILROAD COMPANY.

To the Honorable the County Commissioners of the County of Middlesex: Respectfully represents the Boston & Albany Railroad Company that it requires additional land without the limits of the route fixed in the City of Newton in said County of Middlesex for the purpose of making and securing its railroad, and for depot and station purposes, and one or more new tracks adjacent to other land occupied by it by a track or tracks already in use, which additional land is bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the dividing line between land of Adam S. Amrhein and land now or formerly of Ella C. Crane distant seventy-three (73) feet northerly from the base line of the location of the Boston & Albany Railroad; thence running easterly by a line parallel with and distant seventy-three (73) feet northerly from said base line seven hundred and thirty-seven (737) feet more or less to a point on the dividing line between land of said Amrhein and land of said Railroad Company formerly of Charles A. Miner; thence running southeasterly by land of said Railroad Company formerly of land of said Railroad Company about eighty-six (86) feet to a corner; thence running westerly by land of said Railroad Company about eight hundred and twelve (812) feet to a corner; thence running easterly by land of said Railroad Company and by land now or formerly of said Crane about forty-two (42) feet to a place of beginning, containing seventy-one hundredths (71-100) of an acre more or less.

Reference is made to the plan entitled "Additional Land Required for Railroad Purposes," West Newton, Mass., dated May, 1910, signed by F. B. Freeman, Chief Engineer, filed herewith.

Your petitioner further represents that it is unable to obtain the same by agreement with the owners, and said land is supposed to be owned by Adam S. Amrhein or by Michael H. Curley or both.

Wherefore your petitioner prays that your Honorable Board will prescribe the limits within which the same may be taken, without the permission of the owners, after due proceedings in the premises.

SACRED HEART SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Graduation exercises of the Sunday school of the Sacred Heart Church of Newton Centre were held Monday evening in Lincoln Hall, Newton Highlands, before a large audience. Among the guests was a former pastor, Rev. Fr. Dennis J. Wholey, P. R., of Roxbury.

The first part of the program was given in the form of a country school known as "The School at Blueberry Corners." It was under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Levi. Following this the director of the Sunday school, Rev. Fr. James F. Haney, read the various rolls of honor and announcements. The pastor, Rev. Fr. D. C. Riordan, delivered the address to the graduates and distributed the diplomas. There were choruses by the class and the following exercises were read: "Luther, the So-Called Reformer," Harold Turner; "A Brief Resume of the Life of Christ," Grace E. Furdon; "The Veneration of the Saints," Alice G. O'Kane; "The Revelation," Ellen Coppinger; Claire De Rusha delivered the valedictory and the class presented the pastor with a bouquet. Special prizes, awarded by Rev. Fr. Riordan, were given Miss Ellen E. Coppinger, Miss Claire L. De Rusha and Miss Grace L. Furdon.

Following is the list of seniors: Margaret K. Clark, Della E. Connors, Ellen E. Coppinger, Mary E. Curley, Claire L. De Rusha, Elizabeth M. Driscoll, Mary M. Foley, Grace L. Furdon, Louise E. #### TO GLOUCESTER.

The fine, newly-equipped Boston-to-GloUCESTER steamboats have begun their daily and Sunday trips to the quaint old fishing city of Gloucester. These cooling and highly invigorating trips are delightful in the extreme. No such views of the far-famed North Shore can be had otherwise than by these splendid boats of the Gloucester line—safe, commodious, fitted with every comfort and convenience, and supplied with good music. If you want to "get next" to nature's most fascinating side, take one of these trips at 10 a. m. any weekday (10.15 Sundays), and go up the cool and enchanting North Shore.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

On Tuesday, June 21, ground was broken for the new building. The successful bidders for the different contracts were as follows: General contractors, Marx Bros. & Stuart Co.; grading athletic field, T. Stuart & Son Co.; heating and ventilating, Nichols & Brown; plumbing, William Mitchell & Sons Co.; electric wiring, James Wilkinson & Co.; gas piping, John McLoughlin. Work will be pushed on the building as quickly as possible. Brainerd & Leeds have prepared a complete set of plans which may be seen at the association by any one who is especially interested. The grading plans were prepared by Herbert J. Kellaway, landscape architect, and they also can be seen at the association office.

The deep sea fishing trip was somewhat marred by the wet weather, and the schooner was forced to put in on account of the rain and fog about noon. Only a few fish were caught. Another trip is being planned for later.

The baseball team will play the strong Library Bureau team at Cabot Park Saturday afternoon. The season at the Y. M. C. A. camps at Becket and Friendship, Me., opens June 24. A number of boys from Newton and Watertown are going to each of these camps. It is not too late to enroll. Information can be obtained at the association office.

It has come to the knowledge of the secretary that boys who cannot afford the higher-priced camps may yet have the privilege of camping out under very favorable circumstances at a much less cost per week than at either Camp Becket or Durell. Should any boys like to take advantage of this opportunity please see the general secretary.

The resignation of Mr. Walter Gilliam, boys' work director of the association, has been accepted to take effect July 1. Mr. Gilliam will attend the Y. M. C. A. Summer School at Silver Bay, Lake George, N. Y. The many friends of Mr. Gilliam will hear of his resignation with regret and he will take with him the best wishes of his association friends.

PORTRAIT

Monday afternoon, on a perfect June day, the pupils and teachers of Hyde School, Newton Highlands, and a number of interested guests, assembled in the hall on the upper floor to witness the presentation of the portrait of Frances Willard to the Hyde School, as a reward of merit for the best work done during the past year in temperance and hygiene. The exercises opened with the singing of a chorus, "Angel of Hope," by the scholars. Mrs. Nellie B. Rand, president of the West Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union, then arose and in simple straightforward language explained the interest of her organization in the principles of temperance, which was shared by Mr. Darius Cobb, the painter of the portrait. To the extent of presenting it to the school doing the best work along those lines. If Hyde School continued its present good work, she continued, the portrait would remain permanently with them, and she heartily congratulated them upon having won it. She then formally presented the portrait to the school.

Ruth Vose and Miriam Kellar drew aside the simple drapery of flags, revealing the fine, pure face of Frances Willard. The eyes had the "far vision" of the truly great, the brow the breadth which attends those destined to great ends, while the mouth showed the determination which was one of Frances Willard's principal characteristics in life.

—Miss Joss, representing the master, Mr. Miller, who was called away by a sudden death in the family, responded fittingly, accepting the gift for the school.

Mr. Darius Cobb, the painter of the portrait and one of the leading artists of the day, followed with a witty interesting address to the children, which was heartily applauded, stating that the reason he at 75 years of age could paint, walk, sing, hoe and make speeches was because he believed in and practiced temperance. "The painting of this portrait," he continued, "has given me as much genuine pleasure as the receipt of a check for a thousand dollars."

Miss Elizabeth Gordon, acting state president of the W. C. T. U., in Mrs. Stevenson's absence, gave the children a stirring temperance address, asking them to rise and repeat with her a number of fine sentiments, such as:

"Take my head, my heart, my right hand,
For God, for home, for native land."
She gave in an interesting vein a number of reminiscences of Frances Willard, bringing her fine personality close home to the children. She was also enthusiastically applauded by the children.

The occasion was a highly interesting one, and will tend to stimulate competition among the different schools as to which shall do the best work in temperance and hygiene and win the portrait. The inception of the entire idea, and the successful completion of the plan, was in the fertile brain of Mrs. Rand, whose interest in temperance is as strong as her ability to accomplish her ends.

THEATRES
 American Music Hall—For next week, the second week of the summer stock season at the American Music Hall, the Linday Morison Stock Company will present that most famous of all Viola Allen's successes, "The Christian." This will be the first time in several seasons that "The Christian" has been seen in Boston, and it was due in a great measure to the numerous requests for its presentation by stock patrons, that Mr. Morison decided to put it on. The role of John Storm which in the original production was portrayed by Edward Morgan will be taken by Wilson Melrose. Mr. Morison's new leading lady, Rosalind Coghlan, who entrenched herself as a local favorite this week, will essay the character of Gloria Quayle, the part originally played by Miss Allen herself. Monday matinees as usual, chocolate bouquets will be given to every patron and the same popular prices will rule as were inaugurated this week.

Castle Square Theatre—The summer opera at the Castle Square Theatre is an immediate triumphant success. After a week of "The Mikado," which many declare to be the finest production of that opera ever seen in Boston, the novelty will be offered of an opera that has not been given in Boston for more than 15 years. "Rip Van Winkle," with the story of which everybody is familiar, will be staged at the Castle Square Monday evening with the same perfection that characterized the production of "The Mikado." Its composer is Planquette, who wrote "The Chimes of Normandy," and it is filled with passages of great beauty, with many beautiful solos, and with effective concerted numbers. The plot, moreover, is especially entertaining, and it will be interesting to see good old "Rip Van Winkle" awake from his 20 years' sleep in the Catskill mountains to the strains of music. The scenic production will be extremely picturesque and the costumes elaborate.

Keith's Theatre—Mr. Keith will inaugurate another departure at his theatre in Boston next week by the engagement of Captain Fritz Duquesne, a soldier, hunter and author, who was selected to accompany ex-President Roosevelt on his hunting trip to Africa but was prevented from going by the British government, on account of the part he took in the Boer war. In coming to Keith's he will tell some of his experiences and in connection with them will present some moving pictures that have never been seen on this continent. Other features on the bill will be Jack Hazard, comedian; James Horne and company in a sketch entitled "An Awful Fix"; the Big City Four; Cross and Josephine, and Claude M. Roode.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN ADJOURNS FOR SUMMER

The last regular meeting of the aldermen prior to the usual summer vacation was held Monday evening. President Jones was in the chair and Aldermen Avery, Barker, Blakemore, Burr, Chadbourne, Cox, Doherty, Gray, Heard, Lyons, Miller, Moore, Stone, Sullivan, Towle, Underwood and Woods were also present.

No one appeared at hearings held on petitions of the Metropolitan Park Commission for conduit across Commonwealth avenue at Weston bridge for the purpose of lighting the arches of the bridge, of the Telephone Company for attachments on Waldorf road, Ruthven road, Washington street, for underground connections with present manholes at Homer street, Centre street, Commonwealth avenue, Langley road, Beacon street, Norman road, Lake avenue, Walnut street, Arlington street, Austin street, Washington street and Hillside avenue, and of the Edison Company for attachments on Waverley avenue.

On petition of the Edison Company for poles on Oakland street, Mrs. Emma Z. Conney spoke in opposition and S. C. Stevens filed a letter of protest. Mr. Howard for the company stated that they wished to teach the new house of Mr. Deutscher on that street.

On the petition of the Boston & Worcester Street Railway Company for right to act as a common carrier, Mr. James F. Bacon appeared for the company, stating that they had been previously granted this permission and that it had lapsed. They now wished to put the scheme in operation.

The Mayor transmitted a letter from the commissioner of public records calling attention to the failure of the city to provide adequate quarters for the public records and stating the penalty for such neglect. The Mayor also recommended granting city laborers a Saturday half holiday provided the extra time was made up during the week. An order was subsequently adopted authorizing this privilege.

The city engineer transmitted a new schedule of sewer assessments. Notice was received of hearing before the railroad commissioners on spur track recently granted the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company and Chief Whitney of the state district police transmitted a copy of the new law relative to fireworks and fire crackers.

On recommendation of committees, petitions of John Gensow for a junk license, of Louis Volpe for a liquor transportation permit, of John Johnson for relief from surface water on Langley road, of McNeill et al. for sewer in Walnut street, and of Chas. E. F. Hayward for damages on account of personal injuries were granted leave to withdraw. Petitions of Rebecca Osborne for intelligence of license, of Charles Scipione and John A. Potter for auctioneer licenses, of Louis Volpe for a wagon license, of Edward McDonald for license as a public weigher, of the Vulcan Manufacturing Company for permit to manufacture railroad signals, of the Norumbega Park Co. for a common victualer license at 2377 Commonwealth avenue, of G. L. Kenner for apportionment of betterment assessment on Washburn avenue, and of Sarah L. Blackstock to apportion sidewalk assessment on Lexington street were granted. Petitions of Gammons et al. for street sprinkling on Brookside avenue, of C. F. Painter for sewer in Farlow road, of C. V. Moore et al. for concrete sidewalks on Wesley street under betterment act, of Dona G. Brown for personal injuries received in Auburndale tunnel, of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company for relocation of two poles on Lexington street, of the N. & W. Gas Light Company to dig up certain streets, were also filed.

Hearings were ordered for Sept. 12 on petitions to keep gasoline from Frank A. Day, Sargent street; F. H. Stuart, Montvale road, and C. E. Gibson, Sylvan avenue.

On recommendation of committees, the Edison Company was granted relocations on Waverley avenue and Walnut streets, attachments on Waverley avenue, and poles on Loring street, Suffolk road and Washington street, the Telephone Company was granted attachments on Waldorf road, Ruthven road, Washington street, Forest avenue, Bristol road, Cottage street, Kimball terrace, Dexter road, Elm road, Lower avenue, underground conduits in Thornton street, pole locations on Braeland avenue, Dexter road, various underground connections with existing manholes, permit to remove pole on Winchester street and relocation of two poles on Waverley avenue, the Metropolitan Park Commission was granted an underground conduit in Commonwealth avenue at Weston bridge, the M. & B. Street Railway Company relocation of two poles on Lexington street.

F. W. Keyes granted a sixth-class liquor license, $1000 transferred to contagious diseases health department, Islington road, Waltham street, Woodward street, Neholmen road, Brookside avenue and Boylston street ordered sprinkled, hearings assigned on Sept. 12 on laying out of Prescott street extension, on laying concrete sidewalks on Chase street, and on taking land for sewer near Westbourne road, awarding $200 land damages for sewer from Oak terrace, authorizing Mayor to favor, establishing a satisfactory shore line for Crystal Lake, authorizing city clerk to prepare for new edition of ordinance, authorizing water mains in distances, authorizing water mains in distances, Commonwealth avenue, Gibbs street, Monument street and Puffer street.

Orders were also adopted designating Sept. 27 for state primaries and establishing polling places for state and city primaries, laying out of portion of Floral street, granting $91, 112 for city expenses to Sept. 15, revoking Nuenfeld common victualer license, and allowing Edison Company to use pine poles at railroad bridge.

Orders taking land for sewers and authorizing construction in Oakland and Evergreen avenues were passed, Alderman Blakemore being excused from voting while on order for sewer in Auburn street, Alderman Cox was excused from voting.

Orders granting the Middlesex & Boston and the Boston & Worcester street railway companies permission to act as common carriers were adopted after Alderman Avery had said that while he saw no advantage to the city to grant this privilege, he would accept the verdict of the committee. Alderman Cox was excused from voting on the M. & B. order.

The ordinance relative to moving buildings was passed to be ordained, while the proposed amendment to include Precincts 1 and 2 of Ward 6 in the ordinance requiring removal of snow from sidewalks was ordered printed.

The jury list for 1910-11 as presented by the registrars of voters was accepted after President Jones had stated, half humorously that practically all the board could do was to order it placed in the jury box for future drawings.

Alderman Doherty called attention to the police reports of sales of different drugists of the city and said that he would ask the board to take some action at the September meeting.

BOAT CLUB CONCERT.

While the weather was far from perfect, a goodly number took a chance last Saturday night and thoroughly enjoyed the music and decorations at the weekly concert of the Newton Boat Club at Riverside. The grounds on Charles street were gay with hundreds of Japanese lanterns placed in the foliage of trees and shrubs, and the river side of the boathouse was outlined with pretty lanterns. The Boston Philharmonic Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. A. H. Handley, rendered another fine program of classic and popular music, and some 40 or 50 couples enjoyed the dancing. A cello solo by Mr. Carl W. Dodge was marred by the passing trains, but the audience showed its appreciation nevertheless by hearty applause.
